THE names included in this, the fourth volume of Mr. Binyon's catalogue of English Drawings, extend from the letter S to the end of the alphabet. The work will be completed in a fifth volume, which will contain, in one supplement, descriptions in alphabetical order of drawings acquired by the Department too late for insertion in their place in the preceding volumes; in another, a separate catalogue of the collection of drawings by artists of the Norwich school purchased in 1902 from Mr. James Reeve; besides complete indexes of the persons, places, and subjects represented.

The names of native artists most richly represented in this volume include that of Paul Sandby, the most facile, prolific, and characteristically English sketcher of eighteenth-century figures and landscape, both in transparent water colours and gouache; a large collection of whose works was recently bequeathed to the department by his grandson Mr. William Sandby of Windsor. Much more numerous still is the series of water-colour drawings of London buildings produced by Thomas Hosmer Shepherd between 1820 and 1840, and distributed among the various volumes of the Crace collection of London topography. A second very extensive collection of English topographical and architectural drawings is that by William Twopeny, presented to the Museum in 1874. An early nineteenth-century water colour painter of no small talent, W. P. Sherlock, is very little known except by the charming small collection here catalogued of views in various London suburbs, now for the most part absorbed in the greater city. The album containing upwards of fourteen hundred sketches by Thomas Sibson, presented in 1890 by W. J. Linton the wood engraver, has also a special interest as a record of a most promising artist untimely cut off and now scarcely remembered. The vignettists and book illustrators Samuel Shelley and Robert Smirke are well but far from profusely represented; the same thing may be said of the famous mezzotint engraver John Raphael Smith, who would not have been the great master he was in his own craft had he not also been an accomplished original draughtsman and skilful portrait painter both in oils and pastels. Alfred Stevens, the most gifted of English sculptors and a draughtsman perhaps more akin than any of modern times to the great Florentines of the Renaissance, is illustrated by a good series of examples, both original and copied from fourteenth century frescoes. A series of upwards of a hundred and fifty examples represents thoroughly almost every phase of the fluent and in its way exquisite gift of Thomas Stothard ("the English Raphael") for the composition and tinting of graceful illustrative designs, destined alike for the engraver, the woodcutter, the goldsmith, and the architectural carver. The aptitude of Sir James Thornhill, the father-in-law of Hogarth, in inventing allegorical decorations for large spaces according to the taste implanted in England by Verrio and Laguerre is displayed in a sufficient number of characteristic examples. The illustrious J. M. W. Turner, so profusely represented in others of our national collections, is here only to be studied in a score of his early architectural and topographical water colours, and three drawings in the Liber Studiorum manner. Among academicians of the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries, Benjamin West, James Ward, and David Wilkie all fill important places in the catalogue, the second with an especially good and representative series of his early drawings, many of them showing strongly the influence of his brother-in-law George Morland. Thirty-six sheets of studies and cartoons by the late George Frederick Watts, all but two the gift of his widow, give a fair representation of the various manners of that distinguished master as a draughtsman in chalk and pencil. Going back in our artistic history, the volume contains no more interesting section than that which describes (for the first time fully and accurately) the famous albums of drawings connected with the name of the Elizabethan traveller and explorer John White, the lieutenant of Raleigh in more than one of his colonising missions on the North American coast; two of these have lately been transferred to the Department of Prints and Drawings from the Grenville Library, where they were hitherto kept, and one from the Department of Manuscripts.

The Foreigners in England, whom for the purposes of this catalogue it has been deemed expedient to include among the English school, include no less a name than that of Anthony Van Dyck, who is admirably represented by some eighty sheets of various dates and manners. Both the Willem Van de Velde, father and son, are also included, the former contributing a remarkably interesting series of panoramic views of the sea battles fought between the Dutch and English in the seventeenth-century wars, drawn upon the spot from the artist's private gallery. To this class also belongs Jacob van Huysum the flower painter, a younger brother of the more illustrious Jan of the same name; and finally the elder George Scharf, a Bavarian by birth, who, settling in England after the Waterloo campaign, in which he had served, brought a fresh eye and a hand of infinite industry to the delineation of English street scenes and architecture, and of whose sketches a vast collection was bequeathed to the Department by his son Sir George Scharf, distinguished as the first director of the National Portrait Gallery.

SHEPPERSON, Matthew (worked about 1811–1821). Painter; exhibited portraits of the Royal Academy and elsewhere, 1811–1821.

1. FISHING BOATS IN A GALE; AFTER J. M. W. TURNER, R.A. A boat in rough water coming alongside a Dutch galiot sailing close-hauled towards the l.; in the r. distance three men-of-war anchored off a low coast, the two nearer ships in the shadow of heavy clouds, which overcast the sky, the furthest lying in a gleam of light. Signed M. Shepperson.
Water colours; roy., $10\frac{1}{2} \times 14\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Purchased May, 1859, at the Dawson-Turner sale.
The original picture is at Bridgewater House. It was painted by Turner in emulation of a famous Vandervele in the same collection.

SHERLOCK, William (worked about 1759–1806). Painter and engraver ; said to have been born in Dublin ; studied engraving under J. P. Le Bas in Paris ; painted small portraits in oils and water colours, and miniatures ; exhibited 1764–1777 with the Incorporated Society of Artists, and 1802–1806 at the Royal Academy.

1. COAST SCENE. A chalk cliff, r.; on the beach below, a sailor talking to a woman carrying a basket and leading a child ; two sailing-boats l., one quite near the land. Signed and dated W. Sherlock, 1806.
Water colours ; roy., $12\frac{1}{2} \times 17$ in.
Purchased March, 1868.

SHERLOCK, William P. (worked about 1800–1820). Painter ; son of the preceding ; exhibited at the Royal Academy (1801–1810) water-colour landscapes in the style of Wilson (to whom his works have sometimes been attributed) and a few portraits ; drew illustrations for Dickinson's Antiquities of Nottinghamshire ; published a series of soft-ground etchings after his own drawings and those of other artists.

SLATER, Joseph (worked about 1806–1833). Portrait and miniature painter; said to be son of an earlier Joseph Slater of Dublin; worked in London; limner to Grillion's club. A son, J. Slater, and a relative, I. W. Slater, also exhibited portraits during the early part of the century.

Black chalk and water colour stipple; roy., $7\frac{5}{8} \times 5\frac{3}{4}$ in.

Purchased July, 1878.

2. PORTRAIT, SAID TO BE THAT OF MARIA EDGEWORTH. Half-length of a young lady seated by a table, on which the elbow of her l. arm rests; the figure turned nearly to the front, but the face in profile turned l. and looking l.

Pencil, with black chalk and stump, and slight water-colour tint; roy., $9 \times 7\frac{1}{8}$ in.

This drawing has been called the portrait of Maria Edgeworth, but the sitter appears to be much younger than Miss Edgeworth could have been at the time when it was made. Maria Edgeworth, famous for her moral tales and novels of Irish life, b. 1767, d. 1849, lived chiefly in Ireland, where her father, who collaborated with her in her early work, had an estate.

Purchased October, 1887.

3. PORTRAIT GROUP OF TWO CHILDREN. A young girl in three-quarter length, seated on a chair turned r. and looking r.; a younger sister stands on the further side, with one hand laid on her shoulder, and seems to ask a question about a print which the elder girl holds in her hands. Both wear coral necklaces, low cut dresses with bare arms and short curling hair. Signed and dated J. Slater, London, 1807, and inscribed Miss Olwins's 4 or 6s paid (other words cut off).

SMART, John, the elder (b. 1741, d. 1811). Miniature painter; born near Norwich; pupil of Daniel Dodd; member and vice-president of the Incorporated Society of Artists; worked in London except for some years passed in India about 1784 to about 1796; distinguished for the delicate quality and colour of his miniatures, some of which have been engraved.

1. Two on one mount, roy., viz.:—

(a) PORTRAIT OF ABD AL-KHALIK SULTAN. Half length of a boy, facing to front, the head turned a little r., eyes looking full; wearing jewelled turban. In an oval frame, inscribed below Abd ul Khalick Sultaun, Eldest son of Tippoo. John Smart delin. Madras, 1794.

Pencil; highly finished, touched with white; $6 \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ in.

On the back of the mount is an inscription partly illegible: Abdul Kulic, second son of the Nabob Tippoo Sultaun was delivered up as one of the Hostages . . . he was then about 10 years of age . . . he was the elder of the two hostages and not the Sultaun's eldest son, etc.

(b) PORTRAIT OF MU'IZZ UD-DIN SULTAN. Half length of a boy in a turban, facing to front, the head in three-quarter face turned l. and looking l. In an oval frame, inscribed below Mooizz ud Deen Sultaun, Youngest son of Tippoo. J. Smart delin. Madras 1794.

Pencil highly finished, touched with white; $6 \times 5\frac{1}{2}$.

On the back is an inscription Mooza Ud Deen, third son of the Nabob Tippoo Sultaun, was delivered up as an Hostage to the Marquis Cornwallis in the Camp before Seringapatam on 14 Feby., 1792. He is described as being at that time about 8 years of age, remarkably fair, with regular features, a small round face, large full eyes, and an animated appearance. This original drawing was taken by Smart soon after the Prince's arrival at Madras with his brother Abdul Karuk. In 1779 [1799] Hostilities recommenced, and on the 4th of May in that year Seringapatam was stormed by the English army, and Tippoo Sultaun slain. All his Family were made prisoners, and Mooza Ud Deen with his brother was sent to the Fort of Vellore, where they remained in Confinement until August, 1806, when in consequence of a Mutiny and Massacre of the English Garrison in Vellore on the 10 July, 1806, which some of the Prisoners, particularly Mooza Ud Deen, are said to have encouraged and assisted, they were all removed to Fort St. George, and from there sent by sea to Fort William in Bengal, where they now (1811) remain, and probably will be Prisoners for Life.

Purchased March, 1888.

SMIRKE, Robert, R.A. (b. 1752, d. 1845). Painter; born at Wigton; came to London 1766, and studied at the Royal Academy; elected A.R.A. 1791, R.A. 1793; painted small monochrome scenes from history and literature, but best known by the book illustrations engraved from his designs; worked in London.

SMITH, Joseph Clarendon (b. 1778, d. 1810). Water-colour painter; went to sea, then worked as an engraver, afterwards as a topographical landscape draughtsman; exhibited views at the Royal Academy, 1806-7; worked in London.

1. LAMBETH PALACE FROM THE THAMES. Signed J. C. Smith.
Pencil and monochrome wash; 4×5 in.
No. 111 in Portfolio XXXV. of the Crace Collection of London Views, purchased November, 1880.

SMITH, Stephen Catterson, P.R.H.A. (b. 1805, d. 1872). Portrait painter; born in England; studied in the Royal Academy schools; worked in Ireland from about 1850; President of the Royal Hibernian Academy; best known by his portraits; painted also some subject pictures; exhibited in London, 1828–1858.

- ✓ 1. PORTRAIT OF AYLMER BOURKE LAMBERT. Whole length portrait of an old man seated in an arm-chair, turned to front and l. the head in three-quarter face turned l., eyes looking full, one hand turning the leaf of a large book propped up on a table, the other in breeches pocket; a small terrier under the chair. Signed and dated 18 S. Catterson Smith 30.

Black and red chalk, slightly touched with water colours on vellum; roy., $10\frac{1}{4} \times 8$ in.

Aylmer Bourke Lambert, b. 1761, d. 1842, one of the most distinguished botanists of his day, was vice-president of the Linnean Society from 1796 till his death.

2. PORTRAIT OF FRANCIS DOUCE, F.S.A. Half length, seated in an arm-chair, head in full face, turned slightly l., one hand to cheek, the other on the arm of the chair.

Black chalk on drab paper; roy., $7\frac{5}{8} \times 6\frac{3}{8}$ in.

✓ Francis Douce, b. 1757, d. 1834, noted as an antiquary and collector, was for some time keeper of Manuscripts in the British Museum; wrote various papers on antiquarian subjects; bequeathed his books, prints, manuscripts, and coins to the Bodleian Library.

Both purchased October, 1886.

SMITH, William Collingwood (b. 1815, d. 1887). Water-colour painter; born at Greenwich; painted a few pictures in oil, afterwards exclusively in water colours; exhibited landscapes, chiefly with the Old Water Colour Society, of which he was member and treasurer, 1836–1887; worked in Great Britain, Switzerland, Italy, and other parts of the Continent.

1. PORTRAIT OF THE ARTIST. Head of a young man in full face, looking full; smooth face, spectacles, dark necktie. Signed and dated W. C. S., 1837.

Pencil on gray paper, heightened with white; $6\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{5}{8}$ in.

SMITH, Lorraine (worked about 1788). Amateur draughtsman and etcher; biography unknown.

1. GEORGE III. AND HIS FAMILY AT CHELTENHAM, 1788. The King and Queen standing together with a group of three ladies and one gentleman behind them, towards the l. of a broad avenue leading to the Pump Room; towards the r. a boy and girl and a family group with a dog; inside the enclosure are three figures drinking the waters.

Indian ink over an etched outline; roy., $11\frac{1}{2} \times 7$ in.

Purchased October, 1870.

SOANE, Sir John, R.A. (b. 1752, d. 1837). Architect; born near Reading; employed by H. Holland; studied at the Royal Academy; appointed 1788 architect to the Bank of England, the exterior of which he rebuilt; elected A.R.A. 1795, R.A. 1802, professor of architecture 1806; knighted 1831; left his house and collections, now the Soane Museum, to the nation.

1. ENTRANCE TO THE BACK OFFICES OF THE NEW HOUSES IN BANK BUILDINGS. No. 32 in Portfolio XXII. of the Crace Collection of London Views, purchased November, 1880.

SOLOMON, Abraham (b. 1823, d. 1862). Painter; born in London; studied at the Royal Academy, and exhibited there and elsewhere, 1840–1862; painted domestic scenes and illustrations to literature; worked in London.

Pen-and-ink over red chalk; roy., $7\frac{1}{2} \times 11$ in.
2. STUDY FOR A FIGURE IN THE SAME PICTURE. Nude study of the man with the fan.
Black chalk on drab paper, touched with white; roy., $14\frac{3}{8} \times 10\frac{1}{4}$ in.
Nos. 1 and 2 were presented by T. Ballard, Esq., August, 1893.
3. STUDY FOR THE SAME FIGURE. Finished costume study for the same figure.
Pencil; roy., $5\frac{1}{4} \times 4\frac{3}{8}$ in.
Presented by J. Fillinham, Esq., September, 1856.

SOLOMON, Simeon (b. 1842, d. 1905). Painter; worked in London; in early years an associate of Rossetti and Burne-Jones; produced paintings and designs of remarkable imagination, but his promise was never fulfilled.

1. DESIGN FOR A TAILPIECE. Two Loves in a field of flowers flying to embrace each other.
Pen-and-ink; $3\frac{3}{8} \times 4\frac{1}{8}$ in.
Reproduced in 'The Hobby Horse.'
Presented by H. P. Horne, Esq., October, 1896.

SPEARE, R. (worked about 1799–1812). Water-colour painter; worked in London; exhibited at the Royal Academy 1799–1812; painted in a style following that of Girtin.

1. LANDSCAPE WITH A CHURCH. A view probably in the suburbs of London; a man wheeling a barrow on open ground with a thatched shed l. and a tree r.; beyond, a large wooden building in process of demolition, with timber stacked against it; further off, r., among trees, a church of the Georgian style; three figures near the building moving towards the church. Signed R. Speare.
Water colours; roy., $11\frac{3}{4} \times 15\frac{1}{4}$ in.
2. A WATER-MILL. A mill with overshot wheel, from which the water foams down over stones into the foreground; at the l. rocks with trees above and behind; three cows close to the mill in a field, r. Signed R. Speare.
Water colours; roy., $12\frac{3}{8} \times 15\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Both purchased June, 1895.

SPENCER, Gervase (d. 1763). Miniature painter and etcher; originally a domestic servant; one of the fashionable miniature painters of the day; painted on ivory and later in enamel; worked in London.

1. PORTRAIT OF THE ARTIST. Half length seated at a table, painting at a small easel by the light of a window r., the lower part of which is curtained; directed to r., the head in three quarter face turned r., eyes looking full.
Indian ink; roy., $5 \times 4\frac{1}{4}$ in.

A small etched portrait nearly corresponding with this, though in reverse, and of the head and shoulders with the easel only, was published as 'George Spencer, Miniature Painter. S. J. Reynolds Pinxt. Se Ipse Sculp.' This etching was presumably published, and the inscription added to it, after the artist's death or the name would have been correctly given; earlier states exist without any lettering; and it is possible that Reynolds' name was also an error. Spencer possessed a portrait of himself painted by Reynolds soon after his return from Italy; at the sale of his effects in 1797 it passed into the hands of Edridge, but has since disappeared. If the etching was made from this picture, it seems possible that the present drawing was also copied from it. On the other hand the drawing has all the appearance of being a portrait by the artist himself, done from life.

Purchased at the Bull Sale, June, 1881.

SPIERS, Richard Phené (b. 1838). Architect and draughtsman; living artist.

1. RUINS, ALEXANDRA PALACE. Part of the Palace after the fire; the foreground filled with remains of iron girders and pillars, the ruined walls beyond. Signed and dated R. Phené Spiers, June /73.
Water colours; roy., $10\frac{1}{2} \times 14$ in.
Presented by the artist, September, 1902.
2. WALTHAM ABBEY IN 1858. S.E. view of the Abbey church from the churchyard. Signed and dated R. Phené Spiers, 1858.
Water colours; roy., $9\frac{1}{2} \times 12\frac{1}{2}$ in.
3. LANTERNE DE DIOGÈNE, ST. CLOUD. A tower on a terrace with a gallery at the top on which a lady is standing; at the foot of the tower is a striped awning over the entrance; trees l.; a few figures on the grass and on the terrace, below which r. are woods and roofs. Signed and dated R. Phené Spiers, 1858. (The tower was blown up in 1870.)
Water colours; roy., $13\frac{1}{2} \times 9\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Nos. 2 and 3 were presented by the artist, August, 1903.

STANFIELD, Clarkson, R.A. (b. 1793, d. 1867). Marine and landscape painter; born at Sunderland; went to sea in the merchant service and in the navy, then worked in Edinburgh and London as a scene painter; from 1834 painted easel pictures, and became celebrated for his sea-pieces; exhibited at the Royal Academy from 1820 till death; elected A.R.A. 1832, R.A. 1835; worked in Italy, France, Holland, and in England.

Black chalk on stone-gray paper; roy., $9\frac{3}{4} \times 8$ in.
Purchased October, 1886.
2. AMALFI. View of the town from the sea, with lofty hills rising steeply above the terraces and buildings. Inscribed Amalfi.
Pencil on greenish-gray paper, heightened with white; roy., $9\frac{1}{2} \times 13\frac{1}{2}$ in.
3. AMALFI; AN UPRIGHT VIEW. View from the sea of a tower and ruined bastion on the summit of a rock rising from the water; behind the tower are other buildings, and at the r. another tower crowning a higher spur of the hills. Inscribed Amalfi.
Pencil with slight water-colour wash on greenish paper heightened with white; roy., $13\frac{1}{2} \times 9\frac{1}{2}$ in.

4. ITALIAN LANDSCAPE. A stormy day with heavy clouds over a river valley bounded by hills r., and with a range of mountains in the distance; at the l. the roofs of a cluster of houses and a campanile half-hidden by rising ground.

Oil colours on brown paper; roy., $4\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Nos. 1-4 were presented by Field Stanfield, Esq., June, 1891.

5. THE DOGANA AND CHURCH OF THE SALUTE, VENICE. The Dogana, backed by the white domes of the Salute; a crowd of craft at the entrance of the Grand Canal r.; rough water in the foreground, and a stormy sky, with showers clearing over the Giudecca l.

Water colours; roy., $8\frac{3}{4} \times 12\frac{1}{2}$ in.

6. A FRIGATE IN A STORM. A frigate sailing towards the r. plunging into a rough sea, over which at the l. a black squall descends.

Water colours, touched with body colours; roy., 11×17 in.

7. A WINDMILL NEAR FÉCAMP, NORMANDY. View looking along the coast, with sea l., and cliffs r.; the mill is near the foreground among sand dunes; a woman and boy move away along a road l. leading to the beach; a windlass by the roadside and pool r.; near the mill a man on a horse.

Water colours; roy., $7\frac{3}{8} \times 10\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Nos. 5-7 were bequeathed by Henry Vaughan, Esq., August, 1900.

Pen-and-ink, slight sketch; $5 \times 9\frac{3}{4}$ in.

On the back is a similar sketch for scenery.

Inserted in Vol. VIII. (No. 78) of the interleaved and illustrated Royal Academy Catalogues presented by J. H. Anderdon, Esq., November, 1867.

STANFIELD, George Clarkson (b. 1828, d. 1878). Painter; son and pupil of the preceding; exhibited landscapes in his father's style 1844-1876; worked in London, in various parts of England and the Continent.

1. BROADSTAIRS. View of an embankment, with wooden breakwaters sloping down from it to the beach in the foreground; behind the embankment wall rise the masts of a schooner in the harbour beyond; at the l. a flagstaff, and beyond a glimpse of the cliffs and sea.

Water colours on gray paper touched with white; roy., $9\frac{3}{8} \times 13\frac{3}{4}$ in.

2. RIVER SCENE. A river bank, with a palisade (perhaps the remains of a draining mill) and a pump; two elms l., and water in the foreground.

Water colours and body colours; roy., $9\frac{1}{2} \times 13\frac{3}{4}$ in.

Both purchased June, 1889.

STARK, James (b. 1794, d. 1859). Landscape painter; born at Norwich; pupil of John Crome; worked in Norwich, then in London, with an interval of residence (in ill-health) at Norwich and later (about 1839-49) at Windsor; exhibited a great number of landscapes, following Crome in a smaller style, at the British Institution, Royal Academy, and Norwich Society; well known by the 'Rivers of Norfolk,' engraved after his paintings.

1. A POOL ON A COMMON. A pool in the l. foreground with sandy banks; beyond, trees and thicket l., at the r. a stump and fallen trunk among bushes, and a single pollard willow.

Water colours; roy., $8\frac{1}{8} \times 10\frac{1}{2}$ in.

2. LANE SCENE. A lane, bordered by hedge-row elms, winding away to the r.; in the foreground it is crossed by a stream, over which is a footbridge, r.
Water colours; roy., $8\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Both purchased June, 1871.

STEEVENS, George (b. 1736, d. 1800). Commentator on Shakespeare and amateur draughtsman; worked in London, chiefly on the text of Shakespeare; famous for learning and acrimonious controversy.

1. PORTRAIT OF SIR DAVID LINDSAY OF THE MOUNT. Head and bust, in three-quarter face turned r. and looking r., wearing cap and chain round neck. Copied from a rudely executed print.
Pen-and-ink; $2\frac{3}{4} \times 2\frac{1}{4}$ in.

On the back of the mount is a note by Cracherode, the collector, 'Copied by Mr. Steevens from a portrait engraved in wood, and given to me Jany., 1781. . . . The wooden cut from which the drawing was made is in the title page of S^r D. L.'s works, printed by Andrew Hart, Edinburgh, 1684.'

Sir David Lindsay, Lyon King of arms, satirist and poet of the Scottish reformation, b. 1490, d. 1555.

Placed with portraits. Bequeathed by the Rev. C. M. Cracherode, 1799.

STEPHANOFF, Francis Philip (b. about 1790, d. 1860). Painter; born in London, of Russian family; became popular as a painter of historical and domestic subjects, in oils and water colours; drew the costume portraits for Naylor's 'Coronation of George IV.'; exhibited at the Royal Academy and elsewhere 1807-1845; worked in London, but ceased to paint many years before his death.

1. THE LOVERS. Two young lovers just landed from a boat and standing embraced on the bank of a lake or stream, the shore of which is seen at the r. fringed by tall trees.
Sepia; roy., $10\frac{1}{4} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$ in.
Purchased July, 1874.

STEPHANOFF, James (b. about 1788, d. 1874). Water-colour painter; elder brother of the preceding; born in London; painted very numerous historical scenes and illustrations to literature, especially groups with many figures; Associate of the Old Water Colour Society, 1819; exhibited, chiefly with that society, 1810-1859; worked in London.

1. A FÊTE CHAMPÊTRE. A company of ladies and gentlemen in costume of the sixteenth century, sitting on grass or standing under a crimson curtain hung on trees unseen; the central group consists of a young lady talking to a youth who plays the guitar sitting at her feet and looks up to her; another musician with a violin sits by the lady l., another stands behind r., reading the score held by a singing girl; the last figure, r., is a courtier leaning on his sword and standing by a table laden with fruit and wine; at the l. in the foreground a lady sits with her back turned talking to a man beside her; beyond, a group talking and drinking under a festoon of vine; a young girl, two lovers, and a man in profile are gathered behind the central group. Signed and dated J. Stephanoff, 1812.
Water colours, highly finished; roy., $6\frac{3}{8} \times 8\frac{3}{8}$ in.
Purchased June, 1879.

STEVENS, Alfred (b. 1818, d. 1875). Sculptor, architectural and decorative designer, and painter; born at Blandford, Dorset; studied in Italy, 1833-1842, drawing from monuments, paintings, and sculpture, especially those of the primitive masters; served in Rome for a time in the studio of Thorwaldsen; worked and taught in the School of Design in London, 1842-1850; employed at Sheffield, 1850-52, where he exercised great influence on the metal industries; afterwards worked in London, designing in all materials and for many purposes, and painting, but chiefly occupied (from 1856) with the Wellington monument in St. Paul's, not finished at his death; the greatest of English sculptors.

1. Five on one mount, roy., viz.:—

- (a) THE INSPIRATION OF THE FOUR EVANGELISTS; DESIGN FOR A LUNETTE. In the centre a seraph appearing out of clouds, his body fore-shortened in horizontal flight, points with either hand to the height above and the depth beneath; one Evangelist (John) kneels l., and turns his face back to the vision; the other three are in adoring posture at the r., one looks down as to the earth beneath, the other two intent upon the angel's face.
Sepia and Chinese white; $3\frac{3}{4} \times 18$ in.
- (b) THE EMBLEM OF ST. LUKE; DESIGN FOR SMALL LUNETTE. The head and forepart of an ox, with a book lying across its forefeet.
Sepia and Chinese white; $1\frac{1}{2} \times 2$ in.
- (c) THE EMBLEM OF ST. MATTHEW; DESIGN FOR SMALL LUNETTE. A winged male figure fore-shortened from below, with hand turning the leaves of a book.
Sepia and Chinese white; $1\frac{1}{2} \times 2$ in.
- (d) THE EMBLEM OF ST. JOHN; DESIGN FOR SMALL LUNETTE. An eagle standing on an open book.
Sepia and Chinese white; $1\frac{1}{2} \times 2$ in.
- (e) THE EMBLEM OF ST. MARK. A winged lion couchant.
Sepia and Chinese white; $1\frac{1}{2} \times 2$ in.

2. Ob. STUDIES FOR 'THE INSPIRATION OF THE EVANGELISTS.' A sheet of rough studies for the subject described above (No. 1); two studies for the angel flying to the r.; and four slight sketches of the figures of the Evangelists.
Pencil; roy., $10\frac{1}{2} \times 12\frac{3}{4}$ in.

Rev. STUDY FOR THE SAME SUBJECT. Rough sketch for the l. half of the design; the angel flying r., and an Evangelist kneeling l. and looking round to the angel with hand to brow.
Pencil.

3. Ob. THE SISTER ARTS; STUDY FOR A MEDAL. Three figures, representing Painting, Architecture, and Sculpture, sitting together; beneath, at the r., Mercury reclining, at the l. Vulcan. The design is unfinished, and the forms imperfectly indicated.

Pencil, partly enforced by pen; roy., circle, $10\frac{1}{2}$ diam.

Study for the medal 'Local Prize for Students in Arts,' reproduced in Stannus' Memoir, Plate XXXI. The final design contains only the three principal figures, and these considerably modified.

Rev. STUDY FOR SPANDREL DECORATION; ISAIAH. Study for the composition described below, No. 5 (b); also rough studies for metal work.
Pencil.

4. Ob. SHEET OF STUDIES. A sheet covered with many slight studies; most of them for the medallion of the Sister Arts, described above (No. 3). In the upper part is a study for the figure of Christ rising from the tomb.
Pencil; roy., $10\frac{1}{2} \times 14\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Rev. SHEET OF STUDIES. A number of slight studies for the medallion of the Sister Arts, and for a candlestick.
Pencil.

5. Two on one mount, roy., viz. :—

- (a) Ob. STUDY FOR DECORATION OF A SPANDREL IN THE DOME OF ST. PAUL'S; 'JEREMIAH.' The prophet sits with head reverted as if looking down on the world; an angel figure on either side is roughly indicated.

Pencil, partly enforced with pen; $6\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Rev. SLIGHT SKETCH, intended apparently to indicate the appearance of a monument under one of the arches of the nave of St. Paul's.

Pencil.

- (b) Ob. STUDY FOR DECORATION OF A SPANDREL IN THE DOME OF ST. PAUL'S, 'ISAIAH.' The prophet sits with body leaning sharply to the l., and reading intently a tablet held by an angel, another angel holds a second tablet r.

Pencil, enforced with pen; $6\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$ in.

This composition was carried out in mosaic under the artist's direction; three other mosaics in the cathedral, 'Jeremiah,' 'Daniel,' 'Ezekiel,' were executed from his designs, after his death, by W. E. F. Britten.

Rev. SLIGHT SKETCH of the interior of the dome of St. Paul's, with rough indication of the scheme of decoration planned by the artist, but never carried farther than a model.

6. DESIGN FOR QUADRANT PANEL. A panel in the shape of a quadrant, with the centre of its circle at the upper r. corner, decorated with the figure of a boy genius turned to the r., and holding a torch, his lower limbs continued in the form of foliage.

Pencil; roy., $11\frac{1}{2} \times 9\frac{3}{4}$ in.

7. DESIGN FOR QUADRANT PANEL. A companion panel to the last, the quadrant having the centre of its circle at the l., decorated with a similar boy genius, turned to the l., and holding the end of a swag which is out of the design.

Pencil; roy., $10\frac{5}{8} \times 9\frac{3}{4}$ in.

Nos. 6 and 7 are studies made for a decoration commissioned by Sir Robert Peel, 1846.

8. Ob. STUDY FOR A PAINTING; THE TAKING OF THE TENT OF PANDRASUS (?). Scene at the entrance of a tent; a group of three nude men with halberds, fighting.

Red chalk; roy., $11\frac{3}{4} \times 9\frac{5}{8}$ in.

Squared out for enlargement. Sketches were made by the artist (Stannus, p. 23) for the decoration of a ceiling at Dorchester House with subjects from Geoffrey of Monmouth. Mr. D. S. MacColl suggests, with much probability, that the subject of the present study is 'The Taking by Brutus of the Tent of Pandrasus' ('British History,' Book I., Chap. IX.).

Rev. STUDIES FOR A PAINTING. Sketch, apparently for the same design, with the figures draped and inscribed with notes of colour. Also smaller sketches for the same subject.

Pencil.

9. STUDY OF A RECUMBENT FIGURE. A male figure wrapped in full drapery, lying on the l. side and seen from the back, with head drooped and resting on one hand. Above, r., is a study of the head in an altered attitude raised and looking r.

Red chalk; roy., 10×12 in.

In all probability a study for the recumbent figure in the lower l. corner of the artist's design for the certificate of Honourable Mention, Exhibition of 1862.

10. Two on one mount, roy., viz. :—

Red chalk; $8 \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in.

In 1855 Stevens designed decorations for the drawing-room and morning-room of the house of Don Christobal de Murieta, Kensington Palace Gardens; the drawing-room walls were treated in painted panels, each containing one of the heroines of the Faerie Queene. In the painting of Amoret the attitude is a little altered from this study; the l. hand being laid upon the breast. See Stannus' Memoir, Pl. XXIX.

(b) DESIGN FOR DECORATION. A draped female figure seated, with head turned towards the l., the l. hand outstretched and resting on a shield, the r. hand resting on the knee.

Red chalk; $8\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$ in.

Possibly a first thought for the 'Valour' of the Wellington monument.

11. STUDY FOR A STATUE. A draped female figure seated on a pedestal, with one foot on a lower plinth, facing to front, the head turned a little r. and down, the l. arm stretched across the body towards the l.

Pen and sepia; roy., $5\frac{3}{8} \times 6\frac{3}{8}$ in.
2. DESIGN FOR A MURAL MONUMENT. A sarcophagus with statue above of a man reclining on his elbow, wrapt in a gown and holding a book; above, a blank tablet surmounted by an urn with drooping wreaths, flanked by pillars under an arched cornice, with a shield crowning the whole. The two sides are differently treated, doubtless as alternative suggestions; at the r. is one pillar and a panel ornamented with books, etc., in relief; at the l. there are a pillar and a pilaster, and a volute above the plinth, with a mourning Cupid sitting on it. Numbered 109.
Pen-and-ink, with Indian-ink wash; roy., $14\frac{1}{2} \times 11\frac{1}{8}$ in.
This and the following drawings are framed in a stencilled gold border.

3. DESIGN FOR A MURAL MONUMENT TO A PEER. A mural monument in black and white marble with statue of a man, in dress of the period, reclining by a tablet and urn, with curtained canopy above; on a lower plinth the statue of his wife and child, also reclining; below, a coronet over a cartouche. Numbered 99.

Pen-and-ink, with Indian-ink wash; roy., $16\frac{1}{2} \times 11\frac{1}{2}$ in.

TATHAM, Frederick (b. 1805, d. 1878). Sculptor and portrait painter; son of C. H. Tatham, the architect; began as a sculptor, afterwards practising as a portrait painter, and exhibited at the Royal Academy 1825–1854; best known through his friendship with William Blake and his wife.

1. PORTRAIT OF MRS. JOHN ROGERS HERBERT. Half-length, seated, the body turned towards the front, the head in profile turned l. and looking l.

Black chalk; roy., $11\frac{3}{4} \times 9\frac{3}{4}$ in.

Presented by John Deffet Francis, Esq., December, 1874.

2. PORTRAIT OF MRS. BLAKE. Head in three-quarter to full face, turned slightly l., the eyes looking up; wearing a cap from under which curls of hair escape. Signed and dated Frederick Tatham Sept' 1828. Inscribed Mrs. Blake. ✓

Pencil; roy., $8\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Engraved on wood by W. J. Linton for Gilchrist's 'Life of Blake,' Vol. I., p. 412. In the engraving, a proof of which is mounted with the drawing, the head is a little inclined to one side, and the eyes have not the upward look.

Catherine Sophia Boucher, daughter of a Battersea market gardener; b. 1762; was married to William Blake, 1782; assisted him in the printing and colouring of his books; survived her husband a few years; d. 1831.

3. HEAD OF AN OLD WOMAN. Head of an old woman with rugged expressive features, wearing a straw hat, seen nearly in profile turned l. and looking l.

Water-colour sketch; roy., $7\frac{3}{4} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$ in.

Said to have been drawn by the artist from a Yarmouth fish-wife on account of her likeness to Mrs. Blake; but the head seems certainly to be same as the subject of the following drawing, identified by the inscription.

Nos. 2 and 3 were purchased June, 1894. From the Gilchrist Collection.

4. HEAD OF AN OLD WOMAN RESEMBLING WILLIAM BLAKE. Face in profile, turned l. and looking l. Signed Frederick Tatham, and inscribed This drawing was made from a Mrs. Wilson who lived in a hut upon Epping forest. I drew her because she was so like William Blake—indeed this portrait of Mrs. Wilson is much more like Blake than any hitherto published except that by Phillips engraved in Blair's Grave. ✓

Charcoal and water colours: imp., $20\frac{1}{2} \times 12\frac{3}{4}$ in.

Purchased October, 1867.

TAVERNER, William (b. 1703, d. 1772). Amateur painter; son of William Taverner, the dramatist, whom he succeeded as procurator-general of the Arches Court of Canterbury; painted landscapes in water colour and body colour, greatly prized in his time.

1. LANDSCAPE WITH FIGURES. A bush-grown cliff r., with a road winding round it from the r. foreground and two figures following a packhorse on the road; in the foreground a woman and old man in classical dress talking beside a pool, and a man sitting on a bank beside them; at the l. a wooded valley, rising up beyond into hills, on a ridge of which a town appears towards the r.

Water colours over black chalk; imp., $18\frac{3}{4} \times 18\frac{5}{8}$ in.

2. AGLAUROS DISCOVERING ERICTHONIUS. A wood of tall trees; in the foreground l., Aglauros kneeling opens a basket lying on the ground and discloses the child Erichonius, part human, part serpent, to the dismay and astonishment of her sisters Pandrosus and Herse, who stand together r. An illustration to Ovid, Metamorphoses II., 560-832.

Water colours over black chalk; imp., $18\frac{5}{8} \times 14\frac{3}{8}$ in.

Nos. 1 and 2 were bequeathed by the Rev. C. M. Cracherode, 1799.

3. WOODY LANDSCAPE. A wood of oaks, with open heath in the foreground; two men, one sitting, one lying, r., and coming from the l. towards them a woman in classic dress; another figure in the distance on a path going through the wood.

Water colours; imp., $12\frac{1}{8} \times 15\frac{1}{4}$ in.

Purchased July, 1872, at the Selsey Sale.

4. SAND PITS, WOOLWICH. A waggon coming along a road into the foreground between high broken banks of sandy earth, overgrown with weeds, bushes, and scattered trees; beyond, higher hills partly hollowed into sand-pits; a ragged beggar sits by the wayside r. and a man near speaks to him; a group of figures also appears on the hillside above the road l.

Body colours; atl., $14\frac{1}{4} \times 27\frac{5}{8}$ in.

Purchased May, 1890, at the Percy sale. Formerly in the Paul Sandby Collection.

TAYLER, Frederick (b. 1802, d. 1889). Painter and etcher; born at Elstree; studied at the Royal Academy and under H. Vernet and Delaroche in Paris; worked also with Bonington as a youth; painted a few oil pictures, but best known for his water colours, especially of sporting scenes, often with costume of the 18th Century; published a set of lithotints, 1844, and drew illustrations for books; member and president (1858-1871) of the Old Water Colour Society; worked in London.

1. HUNTING. Hounds breaking cover and coming down a bank into the foreground followed by two huntsmen in eighteenth-century dress, one in red, the other in blue; a third partly seen behind.

Water colours over pencil; roy., $7 \times 10\frac{3}{4}$ in.

2. HAWKING. A hunting party coming into sight from the r. as they mount the farther side of a knoll on the borders of a mountain lake; the foremost rider has just thrown off a hawk which is pursuing a heron; he is followed by a lady and another man; in the l. foreground, under the bank, which they are mounting from the other side, a man sits waiting beside his horse.

4. THE BANDIT'S REVENGE. Sketch-book containing MS. and pen-and-ink sketches for a burlesque.

(1) Extract from the Crumpton Weekly Journal.—Yesterday a Melodrama from the pen of the worthy Manager was produced at the Theatre. We went at five to secure a good place, but were sorry to find (although the house was a respectable one) that we had no need of coming so early. The plot of the piece is as follows. Vivaldi (charmingly played by the Manager M^r. Blatherington) is taken prisoner by Ferocio, M^r. Fogle Biggs, and in a ferocious manner did he perform his part. Vivaldi escapes, is again taken and confined in the Wizard's Tower (this is a charming scene painted by M^r. F. Biggs and assistants), he mollifies the Gaoler, escapes a second time, and after destroying in a novel manner the whole of the banditti, is united to the bride Bertha, charmingly personified by M^{rs}. Dilke Flinders. We are glad to see her husband, an old favourite of ours by the way, again on our boards. We trust that the peccadilloes reported of M^{rs}. D. F. are not so serious as to cause any final separation between 2 of the most delightful performers on our Stage. M^r. Blatherington introduced 'On to the battle-field' in the prison scene aptly enough; but we must confess our old friend Swag's song in D flat was d— flat! By the by we have heard it reported that Blatherington has lost twelve shillings by the season. We hope not.

(2) From the Crumpton Independent Miscellany.—Our very absurd contemporary has been exhausting the epithets of charming and delightful upon an unfortunate Melodrama brought out at our Theatre, and never repeated.

There was we confess some good scenery and acting in it. Biggs was clever—very—as he always is. But really Mr. Blatherington sh^d give up lover's parts—he is too old and too fat, and when he acts with M^{rs}. Dilke Flinders is “like a pearl in an Ethiop's ear” to use the words of the eternal bard; but how can we sufficiently praise her—the lovely, the gentle, and the impassioned Flinders? Why, in poetry to be sure, so here goes.

*I saw thee, and my feelings gushed
In one tumultuous tide.
My eye was dim, my ear was hushed
To everything beside.*

*I thought my heart was withered
But from out its mouldering cinders
A mighty flame there gathered
For thee, my love, my Flinders.*

*I gaze on thee, I gaze on thee
At morn and eventide,
I mark thee as with twinkling feet
Along the stage you stride.
At night I pace before thy gate
And linger at thy windows
For I am very desolate
For want of thee my Flinders.*

A 2nd Extract from the Weekly Journal.—“Off with his head—So much for Buckingham.” Hamlet. A very few of our readers may be aware that there exists in this town a very small weekly publication whose only attributes are vulgar profligacy and insignificant impertinence. The witty Journal alluded to contained last week a critique on the new melodrama, and some impudent observations on ourselves. These we pass by in contempt but of the former we w^d make mention. Mr. Blatherington's acting they say is so bad when it is put in comparison with the brighter talents of M^{rs}. Flinders that it is like—what?—why, Gentle Reader, a pearl in an Ethiop's ear! Now which is the pearl and which is the ear? Mr. B. seems to be the pearl and M^{rs}. F. the ear: poor ear, thou art cruelly boxed indeed! These are some verses in wh. the author's ear (ears again!) is hushed. M^{rs}. F. strides across the stage, and her name is made to rhyme with winders!!! A winder used at school to be a violent blow on the ribs which suspended the breath. We heartily wish it inflicted on the Independent.

- (3) The Bandit's Revenge, or the Fatal Sword. A Romantic Drama. Act I. Doors open at three: performance begins at half after eight. Vivaldi escaping from the Bandit's tower. Sketch of Vivaldi with a lantern. The tremendous Anger of the Bandit Chief. Sketch of Ferocio raging with a barrel of powder and lighted torch beside him. Wounded and overpowered by numbers Vivaldi is again dragged to the cavern. Sketch of the capture. In a loathsome dungeon, with his weekly pittance of bread and water, the emaciated Vivaldi awaits his doom. Sketch of Vivaldi in prison surrounded by snakes, toads, etc.
- (4) Act 2. Even the hard hearted Jailer on bringing him his jug of water and bread is softened by his condition and promises to effect his escape. Sketch of the jailer melted to tears. The Jailer lends him a mule, and being a light weight he readily escapes. The ignorant country people mistaking him for Death on the pale horse. Sketch of a rustic kneeling in fright as the mule goes past. The Anger of the Bandit Chief and its effects! Sketch of the chief gloating over a heap of human heads. Forgetful of the change in his appearance Vivaldi by rashly attempting to jump in at the window throws his Bertha into a fit. Sketch of Bertha fainting.
- (5) Act 3. Vivaldi grown more fat and beautiful than ever in conversation with his beloved Bertha. Sketch of the happy pair. Sketch of Gothic Cupboard containing preparations for the marriage of Bertha and Vivaldi. Banditti in ambush waiting the approach of the Marriage Train. Sketch of banditti waiting for the procession.

- (6) The Fatal effects of the Robbers' fire. Sketch of priests and bridesmaids slaughtered and the bridal couple unharmed. The Destruction of the Bandits by Vivaldi. Sketch of the hero spitting a whole row of bandits on his enormously long sword.
- (7) Emblematic Vision. The Connubial Happiness of Bertha and Vivaldi. Sketch of wife and husband attended by a troop of boys and girls. *Manager's Address. Ladies and Gentlemen—*The fullest house ever known in this theatre has been pleased to distinguish with particular applause the little Melodrama of w^h I am proud to acknowledge myself the Author. It will be repeated therefore every night until the production of other novelties to w^h it must of necessity give place. Ladies and Gentlemen, I wish you a good night. God save the King and no money returned. Sketch of the Manager bowing to a few sleepy spectators.
- (8) Sketch of men, women, and children singing as a chorus.
- (9) Three caricatures of dancers and sketch of a woman frowning.
- (10) Three caricature figure studies and a sketch inscribed What is y^r fortune, my pretty maid? My face is my fortune, Sir, she said.
- (11) Slight sketches of horses, etc.
Purchased May, 1885.
5. 'SIMPLE MELODIES.' Sketch book containing pen-and-ink sketches and verses.
- (1) TITLE-PAGE. A rose in a pot and a butterfly. With title Simple Melodies, with illustrations | Choisy Le Roi | Printed for Edward Torre | 1832.
- (2) 'LITTLE MISS PERKINS.' She is writhing on the floor, with a pickle pot empty beside her.
Underneath:—
*Little Miss Perkins
Much loved pickled Gerkins
And went to the cupboard and stole some
But they gave her such pain
She ne'er ate them again
She found them so shocking unwholesome.*
- (3) 'SUKY JONES AND MARY GRIG.' Suky Jones pirouetting, while Mary Grig glares in envy.
Underneath:—
*Dear Suky Jones
Though all skin and bones
Has a slim and an elegant figure
But Miss Mary Grig
Is as fat as a pig
And each day she grows bigger and bigger.*
- (4) 'DICKY SNOOKS AND TOM SPRY.' Tom Spry standing glum near Dicky Snooks, who sits on the ground reading.
Underneath:—
*Good Dicky Snooks
Is fond of his books
And is loved by his Usher and Master
But naughty Tom Spry
Has got a black eye
And carries his nose in a plaster.*
- (5) 'MISS MARY KNIGHT AND HER BROTHER.' They are at table—he guzzling, she toying with a morsel.
Underneath:—
*Miss Mary Knight
Has a small appetite
But Thomas her brother's a glutton
For breakfast he takes
Two pounds of beefsteaks
And for dinner a roast leg of mutton.*

- (6) 'TOM KNIGHT.' He sits up in bed, while his sister pours out medicine.

Underneath :—

*I tremble to write
The fate of Tom Knight
For here the poor fellow's in bed seen
And see how he takes
Instead of beefsteaks
All sorts of the nastiest med'cine.*

- (7) 'NED TORRE.' He is beating a drum, with a feather in his hat.

Underneath :—

*Little Ned Torre
Thinks of nothing but war
Of helmet of sword and of trumpet
And when he can come
In the way of a drum
Our Neddy does nothing but thump it.*

Purchased July, 1891.

Take ye Liberty to bring in ye yatch [sic] that brought over ye King and ye Barge, & Guns firing, etc. (2) Then who shall be there to accompany him? if the Real Nobles that were there, then, some of them are in disgrace now & so will be so much Party in Picture. [Answered] (2) Make only 5 or 6 of ye chief Nobles ye rest in ye crowd. (3) To have their faces and dresses as they really were, difficult. [Answered] (3) Inquire their dresses the best you can & get their faces from the life. (4) The King's own dress then not gracefull, nor enough worthy of him to be transmitted to Posterity. [Answered] (4) Make ye King's dress as it now is & as it should have been then rather than what it was. (5) There was a vast Crowd, w^{ch} to represent would be ugly and not to represent would be false. [Answered] (5) Take ye Liberty to lessen ye Crowd as they ought to have been then.*

- (17) THE FALLS OF TERNI, FROM BELOW. Signed and dated F. Towne del' 1799. Inscribed on the back The Cascade of Terney, Italy, drawn on the spot by Francis Towne, 1781.
Water colours with pen outlines; $33 \times 20\frac{1}{2}$ in.
All bequeathed by the artist, August, 1816.

TOWNSEND, John (worked about 1841–1842). Landscape painter; worked in England and in Canada; exhibited a few landscapes in London 1841–1842.

1. VIEW ON THE ST. LAWRENCE, CANADA. A broad reach of the river, with wooded shores, and a chain of blue hills in the distance; a brig and two sloops at anchor r., a timber raft in mid-stream, and a barge with square sail l., other sails in the distance.
Water colours; roy., $6\frac{1}{2} \times 10\frac{1}{4}$ in.
2. VIEW ON THE ST. LAWRENCE. View of the low wooded shore of the river, backed by a range of hills, with a gap between two mountains beyond, and the river flowing along the foreground; a brig under sail near the bank at the r.
Water colours; roy., $6\frac{1}{2} \times 10\frac{1}{4}$ in.
3. A RUINED ABBEY ON A RIVER. A bend of a river which flows into the foreground past a ruined abbey r.; trees on the other shore in the l. foreground; evening sky.
Indian ink; $5\frac{5}{8} \times 9\frac{1}{2}$ in.
All purchased August 1869.

TRENCH, Henry (d. 1726). Historical painter; born in Ireland; studied for some years in Italy (about 1700); painted historical pictures in England without success, and returned for two years to Italy; came again to England 1725, but died in London the next year.

1. READING AN OMEN. Two bearded men in classic garments sitting side by side in the l. foreground under a group of trees; the man at the l. holds a scroll in his hand, and is talking to the other; at their feet is the ripped-up carcase of a dog or wolf; beyond, at a little distance, are a number of men and women regarding the two; others are coming round a hillside from a city, the buildings and walls of which rise on the borders of a bay of the sea.

Indian-ink wash and pen on gray paper; atl., $22\frac{3}{4} \times 18\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Purchased August 1874 at the Wicklow sale.

TRESHAM, Henry (b. about 1749, d. 1814). Painter; born in Ireland; pupil of W. Ennis in Dublin, where he exhibited designs 1771-73; worked in Italy, chiefly in Rome, 1775-1789, afterwards in London till his death; painted historical subjects, exhibiting at the Royal Academy 1789-1806; painted and designed for Bowyer's 'Historic Gallery,' Boydell's 'Shakespeare,' and editions of classical works; elected A.R.A. 1791, R.A. 1799; professor of painting 1807-1809; published five volumes of verse.

1. Two on one mount, roy., viz.:—

(a) DESIGN FOR DEDICATION TO KING GEORGE III. OF BOWYER'S EDITION OF HUME'S HISTORY OF ENGLAND. Neptune seated in the centre holds a large medallion of George III.; at the l. female figures representing Painting, Sculpture and Architecture are grouped before a smoking altar; at the r. Peace holds with one hand a wreath over the head of the king, and with the other a long scroll, inscribed with names of rulers, Alexander, Pericles, Cæsar, Adrian, Leo, Medici, George III., at the foot of which Fame, a seated figure, is writing.

Sepia wash with pen outlines; $3\frac{3}{4} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Engraved by Bartolozzi, 1793.

Purchased November 1858.

(b) DESIGN FOR DEDICATION OF THE SAME WORK TO THE LEGISLATURE OF GREAT BRITAIN. A low chariot drawn by lion and unicorn, with Britannia and Fame seated in it side by side reading a scroll; in front of them stands Neptune in whose hand Liberty, a floating figure, places the rein, while with the other hand he points to a statue of Justice l.; at the r. a throng of labourers with raised hands.

Sepia wash with pen outlines; $3\frac{3}{4} \times 8\frac{3}{8}$ in.

Engraved by Fittler, 1793.

Purchased March 1850.

TRESWELL, R. (worked about 1585). Draughtsman; biography unknown.

1. ANCIENT BUILDINGS IN WEST CHEAP, WITH THE CHURCH OF ST. MICHAEL-IN-THE-QUERNE, AS IT APPEARED, 1585. Signed and dated R. Treswell 1585.

Water colours with pen outlines; $10\frac{1}{2} \times 15\frac{1}{2}$ in.

No. 1 in Portfolio XXI. of the Crace collection of London Views, purchased November 1880.

TREVELYAN, Pauline, Lady (b. 1816, d. 1866). Amateur painter; daughter of the Rev. Dr. Jermyn; married 1835 to Sir W. C. Trevelyan, with whom she travelled much in the south of Europe before 1846.

Presented by Sir W. C. Trevelyan, May, 1876. Transferred from the department of Printed Books, September 1880.

TURNER, B. W. (worked about 1792). Topographical draughtsman; biography unknown.

1. VIEW FROM LAMBETH, LOOKING TOWARDS WESTMINSTER, 1792.

Water colours, $10\frac{3}{4} \times 19\frac{1}{2}$ in.

No. 33 in Portfolio IV. of the Crace Collection of London Views, purchased November 1880.

TURNER, Charles, A.R.A. (b. 1774, d. 1857). Engraver and draughtsman; born at Old Woodstock; worked in London from about 1795 as an engraver; practised first in stipple and in aquatint; afterwards famous as the most prolific mezzotint engraver of his day; engraved some of the best plates for his friend, J. M. W. Turner's 'Liber Studiorum,' and 'Rivers of England'; elected A.R.A. 1828; exhibited at the Royal Academy 1810–1857.

1. Ob. PORTRAIT OF J. M. W. TURNER. Head and bust, in profile, turned r. and looking r., with slight smile. Signed with monogram and inscribed Dream, 1841.

Black and red chalks, with water colours, in gray paper; roy., $14\frac{1}{2} \times 10\frac{3}{4}$ in.

Rev. SKETCH OF A HEAD. A lady's head in full face. Inscribed below. Made the morning after the Dream, by C. T. (a note referring to the Turner portrait).

Black chalk and stump.

This sketch of Turner was apparently made from memory. A repetition (dated 1842) is in the National Portrait Gallery. The attitude is the same in the artist's well-known mezzotint portrait of his famous name-sake, but completed to a whole-length figure seated out-of-doors and sketching. The mezzotint was made from a portrait painted in oils by the engraver, now in the possession of C. Mallord Turner, Esq.

2. Two on one mount, roy, viz:—

(a) PORTRAIT SKETCH OF J. M. W. TURNER. Half length, seated at a table on which the l. arm rests; in full face, with scowling expression, and hair disordered. Inscribed (twice over) A sweet temper.

Pencil; $7\frac{1}{4} \times 4\frac{5}{8}$ in.

Possibly a reminiscence of the draughtsman-engraver's quarrel with the painter over the price of the early plates of 'Liber Studiorum' (1807).

(b) PORTRAIT SKETCH OF J. M. W. TURNER. Half-length, turned to front, the head in three-quarter face turned r. and looking r.

Pencil; $7\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Probably made some years earlier than the preceding; the sitter appears to be about the same age here as in Dance's Portrait (1800).

Nos. 1 and 2 were purchased April 1892. Formerly in the collection of Mrs. Savery, daughter of the artist.

3. PORTRAIT OF LORD CASTLEREAGH; AFTER LAWRENCE. Three-quarter length, standing, turned to front, the head in full face and looking full; the l. hand holding papers and resting on a table r. Inscribed Lawrence—Turner. The Lord Viscount Castlereagh, K.G.

Pencil, black chalk and stump on gray paper, heightened with white; roy., $11 \times 7\frac{5}{8}$ in.

Robert Stewart, Viscount Castlereagh and Marquis of Londonderry, b. 1769; successively War Minister and Foreign Secretary; maintained the struggle against Napoleon; committed suicide 1822.

Purchased, June 1897.

TURNER, Joseph Mallord William, R.A. (b. 1775, d. 1851). Landscape painter; etcher and mezzotint engraver; born in London; pupil of T. Malton; coloured prints for Dayes and J. R. Smith; student at the Royal Academy; made topographical drawings for engravers; exhibited water colours from 1790, oil pictures from 1797; elected A.R.A. 1799, R.A. 1802; produced an immense series of landscapes in oils and water colours, his later work being notable for heightened key of colour, especially after visiting Italy, 1819, and increasing interest in the treatment of light, culminating in the pictures of Venice (1833-46); made many series of drawings for publication, the most famous being Liber Studiorum (1807-1819); worked in various parts of England and the Continent, especially France, Switzerland and Italy; the greatest of English landscape painters.

1. CASTLE AND OLD HOUSES. A road coming into the foreground, between an old cottage r. with projecting timber gable, and wall l. with tree behind; at the door of the cottage on the top of a flight of steps stands a woman with a pitcher, and in the road below are two horses and a woman holding a child on the back of the nearer one. A little way up the road a man comes through a gate swung open, bringing hay from a cart; beyond, rises a castle ruin, a tower towards the l. and wall leading up behind the cottage, over the roof of which r. show trees on higher ground.

Water-colour tint over pencil; roy., $8\frac{1}{4} \times 12$ in.

A drawing on rough paper like that used by Girtin; unusual with Turner. Made about 1794.

2. MAGDALEN TOWER AND BRIDGE, OXFORD. The bridge and tower seen from the left bank of the Cherwell, just below the bridge; on the opposite bank l. the corner of the Botanic Garden terrace just appears; and between this and the bridge, where the ground slopes to the river, a man is watering his horse and another going away with two buckets slung from his shoulders: under the nearest arch of the bridge is a punt with two men, one plying his pole, the other fishing from a chair.

Water-colour tint; $11\frac{1}{4} \times 8\frac{7}{8}$ in.

A similar drawing of the same subject is in the Manchester Whitworth Institute, signed and dated 1794, which is probably also the date of this drawing. Some touches of red on a plant in a pot which stands on the garden terrace may be a later addition by the artist's hand.

Nos. 1 and 2 were bequeathed by John Henderson, Esq., December 1878.

3. PAN AND SYRINX. A sedgy pool over which from the l. a willow trunk grows horizontally. Pan from the r. pursues Syrinx, who is about to disappear among the reeds in the centre. A shaft of light breaking through the trees of the background hovers over the figures.

Sepia wash and pen; roy., $8\frac{3}{8} \times 10\frac{7}{8}$ in.

Etched for Liber Studiorum (Rawlinson No. 80), but never completed in mezzotint nor published. It is not known if the etching is by Turner. It has been engraved in mezzotint by Frank Short, A.R.A.

4. SION HOUSE, ISLEWORTH. The house is seen in the distance across level meadows and between two groups of trees; at the r., a pool, and near it three figures, one standing and two seated, under a cluster of dark trees.

Sepia wash and pen; roy., $8\frac{3}{4} \times 11$ in.

Intended for Liber Studiorum, but not known ever to have been etched or engraved (Rawlinson 95).

5. HUNTSMEN IN A WOOD. A shallow stream coming down among trees from the l., and flowing down r. under a wooden footbridge, over which a sportsman, with gun and several dogs, is crossing from the foreground; beyond r. a smaller stream comes down under a similar bridge, and at the junction a man is crossing the water with two horses, one of which he rides; along the further bank huntsmen and hounds are hurrying from the l. up the wooded bank which rises above the smaller stream; and in a gap among the trees in the centre appears a building on a distant hill.

Sepia wash and pen, with a little Indian ink in places; roy., $7\frac{3}{4} \times 10\frac{3}{8}$ in.

Intended for Liber Studiorum, but not known ever to have been etched or engraved (Rawlinson, 96).

Nos. 3-5 were purchased August, 1861.

6. EDINBURGH CASTLE, FROM THE GRASSMARKET; AFTER T. HEARNE. The Half-Moon battery r. and the Royal apartments l. beyond, crowning the steep rock, on the slope of which, under a wall below the battery, are two soldiers; at the l. a glimpse of the plain beneath. (Drawn 1793 or 1794.)

Water-colour tint; roy., $7\frac{1}{8} \times 9\frac{3}{8}$ in.

The drawing by Hearne was engraved 1780.

- [7-10] Drawings of Dover. These four drawings have always been described, on the authority of Mr. Henderson, junior, from whose collection they came, as copies by Turner after Henderson, senior. There exist pencil drawings of Dover by Henderson, senior—two are in the Museum—and there also exist drawings by Turner, both in pencil and wash, of similar and sometimes identical subjects. Turner made a tour in Kent in 1792, and drawings of Dover by him at the National Gallery have every appearance of having been made on the spot. One of these is a pencil study of the Pier and Castle, and No. 10 below is a weak and comparatively lifeless repetition of the subject in water colours; doubtless a copy, and probably by Henderson. On the other hand, No. 7 is a drawing which shows all Turner's mastery and lightness of touch, and this is based upon a drawing by Henderson, etched and published by him in 1794. The numerous alterations of detail, improving and enlivening the composition, in Turner's manner, prove that Henderson could not have been copying Turner's drawing. The other two numbers of this group, Nos. 8 and 9, are at different stages between the delicacy and accomplishment of No. 7 and the feeble ineffectiveness of No. 10. No. 8 may possibly be Turner's work, but more probably both are copies by Henderson. The whole question of the relation between the two draughtsmen is obscure. For convenience of treatment, all four have been catalogued together under Turner's name.

7. BOATS IN DOVER HARBOUR. A group of boats of various sizes and a dismantled hull lying stranded or half stranded in low water; at the r. a shipbuilder's wharf stretching out to the l., with old buildings, sheds, and boats upon it; at the l. a glimpse of open sea and cliff; at the r. above the wharf the sail of a cutter at sea, and the Union Jack flying from a flagstaff.

Water-colour tint; roy., $8\frac{1}{4} \times 10\frac{1}{4}$ in.

Copied, with characteristic modifications of detail, from a drawing by Henderson, etched by him on soft ground, and published August 28, 1794.

8. DOVER; INNER HARBOUR. A wharf and warehouses l. with boats alongside; old houses beyond r.

Water-colour tint; roy., $7\frac{7}{8} \times 10\frac{1}{4}$ in.

9. DOVER; INNER HARBOUR AND TOWN. A one-masted vessel with smaller boats by it anchored in the harbour; beyond, old houses clustered on the wharf beneath chalk cliffs.

Water-colour tint; roy., $7\frac{3}{8} \times 10\frac{3}{8}$ in.

A pencil drawing by Henderson of the same subject is in the department. See under his name, No. 3.

10. DOVER PIER AND CASTLE. Rough water at the entrance to the harbour; at the r. a small boat coming in between the two wooden piers, and a cutter and dinghy moored outside the nearer pier l.; beyond, a part of the town lying under the castle and cliff.

Water-colour tint; roy., $7 \times 10\frac{1}{4}$ in.

- [11-12] Drawings of Paris. Described in the Henderson collection as copies by Turner after Girtin. The latter artist was never in Paris till 1802; and the style of these drawings proves that they must have been made at least seven years before; nor do they show any trace of Girtin's style. It is possible that they are copies by Turner after some other artist; but it is perhaps more likely that these also are Henderson's work.
11. PARIS; THE ILE DE LA CITÉ FROM THE SEINE. View from the river with the apse of Notre Dame behind trees l., and the right branch of the Seine r., spanned by a wooden bridge.
Water-colour tint; roy., $7\frac{1}{2} \times 14\frac{1}{2}$ in.
12. PARIS; THE PONT NEUF. View looking down the Seine to the Pont Neuf, with the Louvre beyond.
Water-colour tint; roy., $7\frac{5}{8} \times 14\frac{1}{8}$ in.
Nos. 6-12 were bequeathed by John Henderson, Esq., December, 1878.
13. SKETCH OF A SHIP. Slight sketch, inscribed Sketch by Turner R.A. in reference to the Mew Stone for Coast 1815. Presumably a sketch made for the instruction of W. B. Cooke, who engraved Turner's drawing of 'The Mewstone, Plymouth' for the South Coast series, 1816. The drawing is now in the National Gallery of Ireland.
Pencil; roy., $7\frac{1}{4} \times 8\frac{3}{4}$ in.
Purchased February 1849.
- [14-15] Outline etchings by T. Kirk after drawings by Edward Dayes, coloured by Turner as a boy. Dayes was draughtsman to the Duke of York, Commander-in-chief of the Army.
14. OFFICER OF THE THIRD REGIMENT OF FOOT-GUARDS. A whole-length figure in full face holding drawn sword in both hands; landscape background.
Water colours; roy., $10\frac{7}{8} \times 6\frac{3}{8}$ in.
On the back is the following inscription Coloured for Colnaghi by Mr. J. M. W. Turner when a Boy. Mr. Colnaghi gave this print to me as a great curiosity. J. T. Smith. Three other impressions from this plate are in the department, coloured by different hands.
15. DRUMMER OF THE FOOT-GUARDS. Whole length in full face, beating a drum; landscape background.
Water colours; roy., $10 \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Nos. 14 \times 15 were purchased August 1890.
Water-colour tint; imp., $16\frac{1}{2} \times 12\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Drawn about 1793.
Water-colour tint; imp., $16\frac{1}{2} \times 12\frac{5}{8}$ in.

TWOPENY, William (b. 1797, d. 1873). Architectural draughtsman; son of E. S. Twopeny, of Rochester; antiquary and collector; lived in London; worked in various parts of England.

The following very large collection of drawings of architecture and architectural details in various parts of England was presented to the Museum by the artist's executor in accordance with his wish, February, 1874. The drawings are all in pencil; some partly washed in monochrome. The periods to which the buildings are attributed are those assigned by Twopeny in his MS. catalogue. When a drawing is twice dated, the subject has been re-drawn from an earlier study, made at the first of the two dates given.

See under Grignon in this catalogue. On the original mount is Mr. Charles Grignon, Engraver. Taken at 92 years of age. He was born October 25, 1717. Died November 1810, aged 93. On the back is pasted a sheet of bluish paper inscribed as follows by Charles Warren the engraver, for whom Uwins made a number of 'engraver's outlines' (Memoirs of Uwins, Vol. I. p. 24). This Portrait of Mr. Charles Grignon was drawn from the life for me by Mr. Thomas Uwins in the year 1809 when Mr. Grignon was ninety-two years of age, then living at Kentish Town. C. Warren.—Grignon was born in Russell Street, Covent Garden, October 25, 1717, studied under Gravelot, and at the age of 16 went to Paris as a pupil [sic] to Philip Le Bas where [sic] he remain'd six months, he then return'd to London and again went to Gravelot, and from him to Scotin, and about the year 1738 commenced engraver amongst the Booksellers, he distinguished himself as an artist in the Engravings of the large figures after Albinus, and the Don Quixote by Hayman; he also engraved the Election series after Hogarth by whom he was much esteem'd, and assisted that painter in his Garrick in King Richard, and several other of his engravings as he worked some time in his house for him. He retain'd the reputation of the first engraver amongst the Booksellers for half a century. His principle [sic] works are after Hayman, Wale and Mortimore [Mortimer] and the earlier drawings by Stothard. He was a man of an exelent [sic] understanding and good education; small of stature, and an interesting countenance, and so much like Garrick that they have been frequently mistaken for each other. Some few years before he died, from want of Business and other causes he became imbrarrassed. A subscription was set on foot for him which enabled this patriarch of the art to spend the few remaining days of his life in peace; he expir'd on the [blank] of November 1810 aged 93 at Kentish Town and was Buried in the vault under the Chaple next his only son who died before him; he retain'd his faculties to the last, I was with him the day before he died. His funeral was attended by W. Sharp, S. Middiman, J. Scott, Caldwell, L. Clennell, A. Warren, C. Warren, engravers; also Mr. Wright, a friend, and Two Nephews. C. W.

VAN DER MEULEN, Pieter (worked about 1670). Painter; brother and probably pupil of Frans van der Meulen; originally a sculptor; painted battles and hunting scenes; came to England 1670 to paint victories of William III.

1. AFTER A BATTLE. Foot soldiers stripping the dead under the direction of officers on horseback grouped towards the l.; beyond, the ground slopes down into a plain on which are seen scattered troops and baggage-wagons moving towards a distant town r.; at the l. a fortress on the top of a craggy hill.
Indian ink with pen and sepia outline on gray paper; roy., 10 × 16½ in.
Purchased July, 1876.

VAN DER STRAETEN, Hendrik (b. about 1665). Painter; born in Holland; came to England about 1690 and painted landscapes with great success, but was extravagant in his habits, and his later works were hasty and inferior.

1. A RIVER GORGE. A stream flowing down between steep cliffs and foaming over a fall into the r. foreground, where three oxen and two sheep stand in the shallows; at the l. a shepherd lying by a tree stump on the bank; on the cliff opposite a house with a sort of terrace built on high arches, partly screened by trees. Signed H. v. Straeten.
Water colours and black chalk; 12½ × 9¾ in.
Purchased April, 1896.
2. A WATER MILL. The mill, a thatched building, stands at the l. on the further side of a stream with a pollard willow growing near the mill wheel; a boy is angling from a broken-down footbridge crossing the stream from the mill to the foreground, where is another tree r.; further off, r., a shed, backed by trees, and a distant spire rises above woods.
Black chalk; roy., 10½ × 15½ in.
Purchased, July 1876.

VAN DER VAART, Jan. (b. 1647, d. 1721). Painter and mezzotint engraver; born at Haarlem; pupil of T. Wyck; came to England 1674; painted landscapes, small portraits and still life; employed by W. Wissing to paint backgrounds and draperies for his portraits; one of the first mezzotint-engravers; worked in London.

1. LANDSCAPE STUDY. A sandpit or quarry, with a small house near the further edge of it r.; beyond, l., a mountain.
Indian ink and sepia; roy., 12 × 16¼ in.
Purchased August 1874.

VAN DE VELDE, Willem the Elder (b. 1611, d. 1693). Painter; born at Leyden; drew and painted marine subjects, especially sea-fights, being provided with a boat for the purpose by the Dutch States; worked in England from 1675 and performed the same office for the English Government.

Van de Velde was assisted by his son Willem, at least after coming to England: and the earlier drawings of the son are so close in style to his father's that it is practically impossible to distinguish them. The following drawings are presumed to be the elder Van de Velde's work, since they illustrate for the most part events at which he is recorded to have been present.

1. THE CHANNEL BETWEEN THE HELDER AND TEXEL. Dutch men-of-war sailing down the channel between Texel Island and the mainland; a beach and sandhills in r. foreground with wagon before a cottage. Inscribed* ind't Helder en Tessel, 1643.
Pencil and Indian ink; folded; 9½ × 31½ in.

* The Dutch inscriptions have been transcribed and translated by Dr. Haverkorn van Rijsewijk of the Boymans Museum, Rotterdam, and by Mr. J. A. de Villiers of the British Museum.

2. THE DUTCH FLEET AT ANCHOR. A fleet of men-of-war at anchor, with a number of boats coming and going about the flagship which is toward the l. Inscribed No. 17 geteickent op donderdach daer Adm^l voor ofte onder lesord (?) ten ancker leijt & de cappiteijns vermaent haer heerlick te comportsen, alwaer wij van daen in de nanacht ofte tegens den dach t seijl gingen zoo (was het) niet mogelijk daer een teickening van te macken & te becomen. (No. 17 drawn on Thursday . . . as the admiral rides at anchor before or under the Lizard (?) and exhorts the captains to do their utmost. As we sailed thence in the latter part of the night or towards morning, it was impossible to make or to obtain a drawing of it.)

Drawn on four pieces of paper, mutilated in places.

Pencil and Indian ink; folded; $15\frac{1}{2} \times 43\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Conjectured by Dr. Van Rijsewijk to refer to the evening before the battle of three days near Portland, which began on Friday 18 February (new style) 1658. The paper is marked with the double-eagle, and this paper was used at that time.

3. THE DUTCH FLEET, LYING OFF JUTLAND. Near view of the ships, with coast behind. The inscription has been gone over unintelligently by a later hand. It appears originally to have read No. 8. 'T Soorby bij Juidtlant eersth komende den 22 Octob. 1658 en voorbij na de houck van Schagen seijllende de sommige schepen har soldaten onstenende [ont settende?] (Saebj, near Jutland, arriving there first 22nd Oct., 1658 and sailing past to the point of Skagen, some of the ships disembarking their soldiers).

Pencil and Indian ink; folded; $12\frac{1}{4} \times 39\frac{3}{4}$ in.

On October 17, 1658, the Dutch fleet started from Holland on an expedition to assist Denmark against Sweden. According to Dutch historians the fleet was not heard of till October 29, when it was near Skagen, the northernmost point of Jutland. Saebj—which is probably the Soorby of the inscription—is beyond Skagen on the E. coast of Jutland; but we know that the fleet encountered contrary winds, and after reaching Saebj on the 22nd, it may have been driven back to Skagen by the 29th.

4. A DUTCH FLEET COMING TO ANCHOR OFF ZEELAND. A fleet of ships coming to an anchor, or setting sail, in a bay; coast l. Inscribed in pencil, partly gone over in ink, gesicht van zelant van der Baye yt siende na de uyterste houck (view of Zeeland from the bay looking out to the outermost point).

Pencil and Indian ink; roy., $6\frac{3}{4} \times 14\frac{3}{4}$ in.

The hilly coast of this drawing does not at all resemble Zeeland in Holland, and must be that of the Danish island of Zealand. The drawing may then be referred to the expedition of 1658, like the preceding.

5. VISIT OF THE STATES-GENERAL TO THE DUTCH FLEET. The fleet firing a salute; boats near a pier in r. foreground; the yacht of the States-General l. Dated 1664, and inscribed t'jacht van Staten generael in de vloot.

Pencil and Indian ink; folded; $14\frac{1}{2} \times 38$ in.

In November 1664 deputies of the States-general paid visits to the Dutch Fleet.

Nos. 1-4 were bequeathed by Sir Hans Sloane, Bart., 1753.

6. THE DUTCH FLEET BEFORE THE BATTLE OF LOWESTOFT, JUNE 1 (JUNE 11 NEW STYLE)* 1665. Extended view of the fleet on a still sea with Van Opdam's flagship in the centre towards the r. and a galliot and small boats alongside. Inscribed Donderdach den 11^e Junij 1665 dat eenich goet uijt den ad^l gegeven wert inde gallijoots om ruijnte te hebben donderdach nad' middach omtrent 6 a 7 uren. (Thursday the 11th June 1665 as some goods from the Admiral's ship are being put in galliots to have more room. Thursday afternoon about 6 to 7 o'clock). Below, names of some ships and commanders. Evertsz—Schram—Zevenwolden—Stellingwerf—Tijdverdrieff heer van Obdam—Amsterdam—van der Hulst—Tromp.

Pencil and Indian ink; folded; $8 \times 50\frac{3}{4}$ in.

On June 1 (old style) the Dutch fleet came in sight of the English, and the Dutch Admiral, Van Wassenaer Opdam, prepared his ship for battle.

* The reformed calendar 'new style' which was adopted by Holland in 1582, was not adopted by England till 1751. Hence the dates on these drawings differ by 10 days from the dates given by English historians.

7. THE DUTCH FLEET ON THE EVE OF THE BATTLE OF LOWESTOFT JUNE 2, (JUNE 12, NEW STYLE) 1665. The fleet sailing r. in still weather. Inscribed geteickent op vrydach de 12 Junij 1665 op de namiddach omtrent 4 à 5 nm. No. 4. boven de wint van de engelsche armade leggende & dryven heel mooy & stil weer de wint Z. oost soo dat de schepen uijt den anderen moste blyven door behulps van met de sloupen te boucsiaerden. (Drawn on Friday the 12th June, 1665, in the afternoon about 4 to 5 o'clock. No. 4. The Dutch being to windward of the English fleet and floating in very fine and still weather; the wind south-east, so that the ships had to be kept apart by taking them in tow of the sloops.)

Pencil and Indian ink; folded; $10\frac{3}{4} \times 18\frac{1}{2}$ in.

June 2 was spent by the two fleets in manœuvring for the windward position, ultimately obtained by the English, commanded by James Duke of York (James II). The actual battle began at sunrise on Saturday, June 3, and resulted in the blowing up of Opdam's ship and the defeat of the Dutch.

Purchased December, 1857.

8. A DUTCH SQUADRON SALUTING THE DEPUTIES OF THE STATES GENERAL. The squadron on a calm sea, the flag-ship (toward the r.) firing a salute. Inscribed dyto dynxdach nademiddach de heeren staten gecomen varen van Tromp na delfslant om daerop overtegaen den 18 Augusty 1665. (Ditto on Tuesday afternoon the gentlemen of the States-general departed from Tromp to the Delftlandt to embark in that ship, August 18 [8th old style] 1665.)

Pencil and Indian ink; folded; $7\frac{3}{4} \times 20\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Cornelis Tromp was, in the absence of De Ruyter, appointed to the command of the fleet which was going to Bergen (see note to next drawing). The deputies of the States-general accompanying the fleet were J. de Witt, R. Huygens and J. Boreel. De Ruyter returned some days before the fleet started, and was nominated to the chief command. Tromp applied for his discharge, but was persuaded to remain. The drawing represents the moment when the deputies are leaving Tromp's ship, the De Liefde, to come on board De Ruyter's, the Delftlandt.

Purchased December, 1857.

9. DUTCH FLEET ON THE WAY TO NORWAY, AUGUST 15 (25 NEW STYLE) 1665. The fleet in two squadrons seen at some distance; many boats about the flagship l. which is the nearest ship. Inscribed dit geteickent op dynxdach den 25 Augusty 1665 nademiddach pesiaering (this drawn on Tuesday the 25th August 1665, afternoon, holding a council of war).

Pencil, folded; $7\frac{1}{2} \times 20$ in.

After the defeat of the Dutch at Lowestoft in June 1665, the fleets of Dutch merchantmen steered for Bergen in Norway. An English squadron under Admiral Tiddeman attacked them in vain on August 12. On August 14 (new style) a Dutch fleet commanded by De Ruyter sailed to fetch them, and reached the coast near Bergen on August 29.

Purchased December, 1857.

10. THE DUTCH FLEET BEFORE THE HARBOUR OF BERGEN, AUGUST 27 (SEPTEMBER 6, NEW STYLE). An extended view of the man-of-war fleet, with the merchantmen beyond, nearer the coast of Norway. Inscribed geteickent op sonnendach 's morgens van den 6 September, 1665, soo de generaele vloot haer onder Noorwegen boven ons verthoont, de wint meer n. oost doch stille & labber koelte. (Drawn on Sunday morning, September 6, 1665, as the general fleet shows itself near Norway above us, the wind rather north-east yet still and soft breeze.)

Inscribed also with names of some of the ships and commanders.

Pencil and Indian ink; folded; $9 \times 64\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Though De Ruyter's fleet arrived off the Norway coast on August 29, it was compelled by the wind to leave again on the 30th, and did not return till September 4. The elder Van de Velde accompanied De Ruyter, as usual, and landed at Bergen on August 30 or September 1. He made many drawings of this expedition, now in the Boymans Museum, Rotterdam.

Purchased December 1857. Formerly in the Paul Sandby Collection.

11. THE BATTLE OF FOUR DAYS, OFF THE NORTH FORELAND; JUNE 3 (O.S.), 1666. The Dutch Fleet sailing away and firing at the English Fleet beyond. Inscribed dese actie geschiede op pynaterdach int vervolgen ombrent namiddach so . . . van de . . . rsche schepen vier uure den 13 Junij, 1666, nu jagen wij haer end' A° 1665 op denselven 13 Junij joegen zy ons. (This action took place on Whitsunday as we were pursuing, about afternoon, when . . . of the . . . ships at four o'clock on June 13, 1666. Now we chase them, and in 1665 on the same June 13 they chased us). Below are some names of ships and commanders. Signed W. V. V. I., but the signature (that of the younger Van de Velde) appears to be false.

Pencil and Indian ink; folded; $8\frac{3}{4} \times 22\frac{1}{2}$ in.

The English fleet was under the joint command of Monck & Prince Rupert. While the latter, with twenty ships, was in search of the Duc de Beaufort's French squadron, the Dutch defeated Monck. Rupert returned on June 3, the date of this drawing, but could do no more than save Monck from destruction. The illegible words on the drawing may refer to his coming.

Purchased December, 1857.

12. THE BURNING OF THE MERCHANTMEN AT THE ISLANDS OF VLIE AND TERSCHELLING, 1666. A long view of the straits with English men-of-war, fire-ships, and a fleet of burning merchantmen; in the distance l. the island of Terschelling. Inscribed with annotations De engelsche schepen leggende—Schout bijnacht van roo vlagge—ten ancker onder der schellingh—Engelsch fregat met 4 a 5 branders—3 genueesvaerders die niet verbrant zijn en naet verbranden van de schepen opgezonden met de avond vlout (Here lie the English ships—the Rear-Admiral of the red flag—riding at anchor near Terschelling—an English frigate with 4 or 5 fireships—3 merchantmen of Genoa which were not burned and after the burning of the ships were sent away with the tide in the evening.) At the top in ink over the original pencil stille weder bijna kalm—dese troupe schepen zijn wester vaerders tussen de 40 ende 50 sterc (still weather, nearly calm—these troop-ships are western merchantmen between 40 and 50 strong), and tussen de 80 en de 90 noort vaerders ende oost vaerders alle meest verbrandt (from 80 to 90 Northern and East Indian merchantmen, nearly all burnt.) Other notes below buijsen—Capt. Adelaer—10 a 12 schepen behouden—hamburger boeijer—Capt. Toll—Capt. Adelaer in brant—verbrandt wrack—oostijndisschip—wracken in de brandt—engels sloup schietend—Engels kids (herring boats—Capt. Adelaer—10 or 12 ships saved—Hamburg ship—Capt. Toll—Capt. Adelaer burning—burnt wreck—East Indian—burning wrecks—English sloop firing—English ketches).

Pencil and Indian ink, with pen outline in parts; folded; $8\frac{1}{2} \times 42$ in.

This drawing agrees in many respects with the picture by W. Van de Velde the elder at Hampton Court.

Following up the victory of St. James' day, 25 July, 1666, the English commanders detached Sir Robert Holmes, Rear-Admiral of the Red, with a small squadron to destroy the shipping at Vlie and Terschelling. Piloted by the traitor Laurens Heemskerck, he arrived on August 8 (old style) and destroyed about 150 merchantmen with fireships.

Bequeathed by Sir Hans Sloane, Bart., 1753.

- [13-17] Drawings of the battle of Solebay (Southwold Bay), May 28 (O.S.), 1672, between the English fleet under the Duke of York, and the Dutch under De Ruyter. A French contingent on the side of the English took little or no part in the action, which was indecisive.

13. THE EVE OF THE BATTLE OF SOLEBAY. The Dutch fleet sailing from r. to l., the artist's galliot in the foreground l. Inscribed hier . . . voor de wint naet voorlant te seyllen creusen moet ende te grijpen godt gere zijn segen ende heijl bewaer ons lieve varderlant, zijynde . . . de 6 Junij 1672 pijnxtermaendag—(Here . . . having the wind to sail to Foreland . . . must cruise and to take [the enemy's fleet] God give his blessing and salvation. Save our dear Fatherland. Being . . . the 6th June, 1672, Whitsun Monday). Inscribed also with the names of the Dutch commanders Vice Adl. Sweers—de heer De Ruyter—Vice Adl. de Liefde. Under the galliot is Van de Velde.

Pencil and Indian ink; folded; $10\frac{1}{4} \times 63$ in.

14. THE BATTLE OF SOLEBAY; FROM 7 TO 9:30 A.M. Extended view of the English and Dutch fleets in action. In the distance l. the Zealand squadron and the French fleet. Inscribed dynsdag van's morgens ten 7⁽¹⁾ uuren af en tot half tien toe (Tuesday from 7 o'clock in the morning to half-past 9)—Brakel soo van de bla adl. seer schadeloos aff raeckt nadat hij lang aen zijn boort vast gelegen had (Brakel as he gets loose from the Admiral of the blue, very much damaged after having been a long time fastened to his ship)—de schout by nacht haen seer reddeloos (Rear Admiral Haen very much damaged).

Against the several ships are the names of English ships and commanders Vis Adl. Spragg, root, Londen—duch de York de prins—root di siarles—blau Adl. Zantwits the royael James (Vice-Admiral Spragg of the red, on the London—the Duke of York on the Prince—the Royal Charles of the red squadron—the Earl of Sandwich, admiral of the blue, on the Royal James); also of Dutch ships and commanders L. ad. van Nes, de Eendracht—heer de Ruyter—Zeelant van Rotterdam—schip Schielandt—Sweers—de maecht van Dordrecht—l. schip Delft—fregadt Agatha.

Pencil and Indian ink; folded; 14 × 91 in.

Van Brakel of the Great Hollandia, of 60 guns and 300 men, boarded the Royal James, of 100 guns and 800 men, for an hour and a half.

15. THE BATTLE OF SOLEBAY; FROM 10 A.M. TILL NOON. The same engagement, with fireships burning among the fleets, and the Royal James towards the l. on fire; the artist's galliot in the foreground; at the extreme l. in the distance the French fleet, hardly seen. Inscribed vervolgens van 10 uur tot's middags toe, and in another hand, dit gesicht omtrent middachs (further from 10 o'clock till noon—this view about noon)—de fransen hier int verschiebt bij na ofte veel grote mijlen van ons met de Zeeuwen doende zijnde—heeft 4 branders in brant geschoten dat wij gesien hebben als ick tegens de heer de ruijter ooch gesijt hebbe—van nes . . . —gad los door brander—Adl van blauw lag soo in brant sonder hulp bij hem dat nog geloof veel volck gebleven is—sweers—een ander adl blau di duke op di Michiel blau—root van de duch York groot steng neder prins—root schout bij nacht de siarles—vis adl Liefde—gent—blau vis adl hebbende de louv. (Here the French hardly in sight or many great miles away from us fighting with the Zealanders—has shot four fireships on fire as we have seen and I have said also to Heer De Ruyter—Van Nes [Lieut.-admiral] gets away by a fireship—the admiral of the blue [Sandwich] lay on fire without help near him and as I believe many died there—Sweers—[Vice-admiral of Van Ghent's squadron]—another admiral of the blue, the Duke of York on the St. Michael, blue—the Royal Prince, red flag of the Duke of York loses her topmast—Rear admiral of the red [John Harman] on the Royal Charles—Vice-admiral de Liefde—Van Ghent—Vice-admiral of the blue [Jos. Jordan] luffing). Below teyckenaer van de Veldens gallijodt (Van de Velde the draughtsman's galliot) hier blijft de Josua (here is the loss of the Joshua).

Pencil and Indian ink; folded; 14½ × 86½ in.

At noon the Duke of York had to leave his ship, the Royal Prince, and went on board the St. Michael; in the following drawing his flag is seen on the latter ship.

16. THE BATTLE OF SOLEBAY; NOON. The same engagement, showing the English fleet, sailing from r. to l., with the Dutch beyond; the artist's galliot towards the r. Inscribed at the top with a note nearly effaced and only these words legible middag . . . op dijnxdag de 6⁽²⁾ Juni 1672, No. 4. Below duch de York op de ander schyp de Michiel (the Duke of York on the other ship, the St. Michael)—*veldens gallijodt—van de velde gallijodt. Pencil and Indian ink; folded; 14 × 93 in.

The Staveren, Captain Daniel Elsevier, was taken by the English.

(1) Altered from 6.

(2) Altered from 7.

17. THE BATTLE OF SOLEBAY; FROM 2 TILL 5 P.M. The same engagement, with the artist's galliot at the l. Inscribed (1) geteickent van 2 ure tot 5 daer mede van tgeen in die tijt gepasseert is No. 4.⁽²⁾ (Drawn from 2 o'clock till 5, representing what happened in that time.) Root vlag blijft ver af de prins op de voorsteng—gent—vis adl de liefde—heer ruyter—van nes—schram—vlag. (The red flag [i.e., squadron] remains afar off, the Prince's [flag] at the fore-top --Van Ghent—Vice Admiral de Liefde—De Ruyter, etc.) de duch op de Michiel—hier Londen naer onderrichting van de duch de Yorck selfs aen mij gedaen di charles—root—Londen alwaer de ducke op overgonk michiel (the Duke of York on the St. Michael [these words were afterwards crossed out by the artist when he was in England]—here the London as the Duke of York himself instructed me—the Royal Charles—red—the London in which the Duke crossed—the St. Michael). Pencil and Indian ink; folded; 14 × 70 in.

18. VISIT OF CHARLES II TO THE FLEET AT TILBURY. A long view, looking across the river from Gravesend to Tilbury Fort, l., which is firing a salute. In the river a great number of men-of-war, dismasted, with flags flying and many boats plying among them; spectators on the bank in the l foreground. Inscribed with names of ships, de Doris—de Londen—de Charles—de Duches—de Winsor Castle—de Breda—de Albemarle—de Royal Prins. Numbered 3.

Pencil and Indian ink; folded; 11½ × 42¾ in.

This and the following drawing obviously belong to the same set. The Royal Standard on the yacht in No. 19 indicates the presence of the king. Hence it seems probable that the drawings belong to a set made by Van de Velde when accompanying Charles II on a visit to the fleet in 1673.

19. VISIT OF CHARLES II TO THE FLEET AT TILBURY. A similar view from the Gravesend shore, from a point a very little further down the river; in the centre the royal yacht sails among the ships. Inscribed with names of ships.

Pencil and Indian ink; folded; 11½ × 42¾ in.

20. PART OF THE FLEET AT TILBURY. View from the shore of the Breda, Royal Oak, Suffolk, Victory, Windrifle, and smaller craft lying in the Thames. Inscribed with names of ships.

Pencil and Indian ink; folded; 11½ × 26¾ in.

Apparently belonging to the same date and series as the last two drawings.

Nos. 13-20 were bequeathed by Sir Hans Sloane, Bart., 1753.

21. THE BURNING OF FOUR CORSAIR SHIPS AT TRIPOLI BY SIR JOHN NARBROUGH, JANUARY 14, 1676. The harbour of Tripoli, with four ships on fire, throwing a glare over the town on the other side of the water; English boats rowing near the ships. Inscribed, in a probably later hand, Tripoli 5 Jan. alborgh—Tripoli, komander 5 Jan. alborgh vier turcse schepen verbrant, een smernes varder bleef legge was bij nacht met elf sloepen verbrant, 2 van der salopen quamen in acsi tegen een smal turcse barckentijn noch een schip van tunnis massant man (Tripoli 5 Jan. Albrough [Narbrough]—Tripoli, Commander Narbrough, 5 Jan., four Turkish ships were burned, one merchant ship of Smyrna remained, was burned by night with eleven sloops, two of the sloops attacked a small Turkish brigantine and another Tunis merchantman).

Pencil and Indian ink; roy., 11½ × 17¾ in.

Purchased August 1874.

22. WILLIAM, PRINCE OF ORANGE AND PRINCESS MARY AT ERITH ON THEIR WAY TO HOLLAND, 19 NOVEMBER, 1677. A long view of the river. The yacht Mary with the prince and princess on board hoisting sail; the Greyhound ketch and the Portsmouth yacht at the l. of the Mary; the Navy, Anne, Catherine, and Charlotte, yachts, and the Soldier ketch, at the r.; small boats coming and going; other craft in the r. distance, Erith and the Thames shore behind. Inscribed above geteickent op maenendach soo wij een

(1) Most of the inscriptions on this drawing have been gone over in ink by some one who did not understand the Dutch, and who has made them partly illegible.

(2) Altered from 5.

weijnig tijt bij herith ten ancker gelegen hadden door stilte & een weijnig wint krygende onder seijl gaen No. 3 seg No. 10 (drawn on Monday when we had ridden at anchor a little time near Erith owing to the calm, and getting some wind we hoist the sails. For No. 3 read No. 10), and with names of the several vessels under each.

Pencil and Indian ink; folded; $12\frac{3}{4} \times 40$ in.

William married Mary, November 4, 1677. On Monday, November 19, they departed for Holland, and were accompanied by the King, the Dukes of York and Monmouth, etc., to Erith, where the yachts Mary, Charlotte, Catherine, Charles, Portsmouth, Anna, and Navy, were waiting, and where they embarked on the Mary. The elder Van de Velde made the journey with the Prince. A set of 24 drawings, recording incidents of the journey, is in the Boymans Museum; some are sketches made on the spot, others are elaborate drawings like this and the following.

23. THE PRINCE AND PRINCESS OF ORANGE SALUTED AT SHEERNESS, ON THEIR WAY TO HOLLAND, 20 NOVEMBER, 1677. The Mary in the l. foreground followed at some distance by the Catherine, Charlotte, Portsmouth, Navy, Greyhound, and Anne; in the distance Sheerness Castle firing a salute, which the Mary answers. Inscribed above Soo wij dijnxdag smorgens sernesse passeeren & de prins van Orangie met eerschooten begroet wert. No. 14. (As we pass Sheerness on Tuesday in the morning, and the Prince of Orange is welcomed with salutes. No. 14); and below De marye alwaer den prins van orangie met de royaelle princes doennaem in waren (The Mary with the Princes of Orange and the Royal Princes on board), het kasteel siarnesse (Sheerness Castle) and names of the vessels under each. On the back Van myn journael aen zyn doorluchtige hoogh van Oranje (From my journal made for his Serene Highness of Orange).

Pencil and Indian ink; folded; $12\frac{3}{4} \times 32\frac{3}{4}$ in.

Nos. 22 and 23 were purchased January, 1872.

24. SHIPS AT DEPTFORD SALUTING STATE-GALLEYS. The river, covered with state-barges rowing up from the l.; the shore r. is obscured by heavy smoke from the guns of anchored ships. Inscribed in ink by a later hand Het paseren en de actij voor dettvort (the passage and action before Deptford) and above one of the ships vergadt (frigate).

Pencil and Indian ink; folded; $7\frac{1}{2} \times 28\frac{3}{4}$ in.

The presence of the state-barges shows that this does not represent a naval action, but the passing up the river of a state-procession saluted by men-of-war. The original pencil inscription on the drawing has been all but obliterated, but seems to read passeren voor dettvort No. 9, the words en de actij being a mistaken addition by the later hand.

Purchased June, 1854.

25. ALBUM, containing drawings of marine subjects and sea-fights.

- (1) DOVER HARBOUR. With two men-of-war outside. Inscribed (over the French coast opposite) Kales in Vranckrijck . . . hieris de Trompetter [van] de . . . Troon van de duch de Yorck (Calais in France . . . here the trumpeter of the . . . Throne of the duke of York), etc.

Pencil.

- (2) THE DUTCH FLEET ON ITS WAY TO DENMARK, 1658. Inscribed 1658 de state vloot die naer denmerke gingh tot assistensie van de coningh van denmerke (1658 the fleet of the Netherlands which went to Denmark to assist the king of Denmark).

Pencil and Indian ink.

The inscription in ink is in the hand of the younger Van de Velde, and the drawing is perhaps also by him.

- (3) THE DUTCH FLEET AT THE BATTLE OF FOUR DAYS, 2 JUNE, 1666. Inscribed No. 2 Saterdach smorgens de 12 junij 1666 soo de statenvloot op den vijand avanceert hebbende de wint ruijmer alsoo veranderde en waren . . . (No. 2 on Saturday morning the 12th June [N.S.] 1666, the Dutch fleet advancing to the enemy, having a fair wind, so changing and were . . .)

Pencil and Indian ink.

- (4) THE DUTCH FLEET AT THE BATTLE OF FOUR DAYS, 2 JUNE, 1666. Inscribed Saterdag smorgens vroug soo onse vloot leijt & wacht om te verwachten de afgedwaalde schepen & de heer tromp die op een ander schip was overgegaen & de engelse vloot hier boven ons verthoont die geen wint noch water over . . . (Saturday early in the morning as our fleet lies waiting for the scattered ships and Admiral Tromp, who had gone on board another ship and the English fleet is seen here above us, which having neither wind nor water . . .)—Conte Guisse en de prins van Monaco comen hier aen boort van de ruijter alsoo t' schip daer die heeren op geweest waren verbrant was te weten duyvenvoorde otto van treslon (The Count de Guise and the Prince of Monaco come here in the ship of de Ruyter, the ship wherein these gentlemen had been, being burned, namely the Duyvenvorde, Captain Otto van Treslong).—De engelse vloot zoo zij leijt en drijft passende op ons voornemen (The English fleet as she lies and drifts, waiting for our decision).—Adl. de ruijter pesiaert (Admiral de Ruyter holds a council of war). *Vis Adl. Indian ink over pencil.
- (6) THE BATTLE OF FOUR DAYS, JUNE, 1666. Inscribed . . . actije soo de adl de Van Nes de engelse vloot [the rest torn off].
Pencil and Indian ink.
- (7) THE DUTCH FLEET, MAY 30, 1666. Distant view of the fleet two days before the battle. Inscribed op woensdach de 9 juniij 1666 tegen de avont zoo de wint . . . & donderbuije . . . O. N. O. liep. No. 2.) (On Wednesday June 9 [N. S.] 1666 in the evening as the wind . . . and thundershower . . . turned east-north-east. No. 2.)
Pencil and Indian ink.
- (8) THE DUTCH FLEET, JUNE 1, 1666. Inscribed persiaering int cleijn op donderdach voormiddag de 10 juniij 1666 de wint noch hebben de meest n. oost (small war-council on Thursday before noon, June 10 [N. S.] 1666 the wind being mostly north-east).
Pencil and Indian ink.
- (9) THE DUTCH FLEET, TWO DAYS BEFORE THE BATTLE OF 1666. Inscribed teleggen van di vloot te weten de 2 s . . . adl. de ruijter met van nes . . . & tromp & van meppelen, geteickent op donderdach omtrent 5 a 6 uren soo de fictaly schepen na dunckerke gesonden werden (The position of the fleet on the 2nd . . . Admiral de Ruyter and Van Nes . . . and Tromp and Meppel. Drawn on Thursday about 5 or 6 o'clock as the victualling ships were being sent to Dunkirk).—Mijn gallijoodt den ouden W. Van de Velde (my galliot, Van de Velde, Senior)—det zijn de 2 dagen voor 't gvecht 1666 met de ruijter (these are the 2 days before the battle of 1666).
Pencil and Indian ink.
Purchased October, 1877.

VAN DE VELDE, Willem the Younger (b. 1633, d. 1707). Painter; born at Amsterdam; pupil of his father and of Simon de Vlieger; worked at first in Holland; known to have been in England 1673; from 1677 employed by Charles II. in painting pictures of sea fights from his father's drawings; produced a great number of pictures, not only of naval actions but of marine subjects of all kinds, also a vast mass of drawings; revisited Amsterdam about 1686; died at Greenwich.

1. BURNING OF DUTCH SHIPS AT TERSCHELLING. View of the Dutch ships, with the English fireships among them, taking fire; near the foreground the crews of two Dutch men-of-war are jumping into boats or into the sea to escape the flames. Inscribed . . . van ter schellingh en Vlie den 19 & 20 Augusti A^o 1666.

Indian ink and sepia over pencil with pen outlines; roy., $11\frac{1}{4} \times 17\frac{3}{4}$ in.

See note on No. 12. of drawings by the elder Van de Velde. It is clear from the style of this drawing that it was not made before about 1680 or later, and probably the younger painter was not an eye-witness of the scene.

Purchased July, 1872.

2. THE DUTCH FLEET BEFORE THE BATTLE OF LOWESTOFT, MAY 23, 1665. A fleet in scattered order sailing from r. to l. Signed W. V. V. J. [Junior], and numbered 12. On the back Dunsdaeg den 2 Junij 1665, dit aen malkar zeil[en] hoe de vloot met de preisse natelang tZil gaet (Tuesday 2nd June 1665 [N.S.], the assembling and how the fleet with the prizes afterwards sets sail).

This inscription has been gone over in ink by some one who did not understand Dutch.

Bequeathed by Sir Hans Sloane, Bart., 1753.

3. SHEERNESSE. A wide view of the river with the castle and stranded vessels r., men-of-war of various sizes anchored l. Inscribed in a later hand Sheerness. Pencil and Indian ink; folded; roy., $7\frac{3}{8} \times 34\frac{1}{4}$ in.

4. SHIPPING AT SHEERNESSE. A wide view of hulks and shipping in the river; low hills r. Unfinished.

Pencil and Indian ink; folded; roy., $8 \times 37\frac{3}{4}$ in.

5. BOATS IN A DUTCH HARBOUR. A row of fishing-boats moored to a jetty l. other craft on a calm sea r. Signed W. V. V. J.

Indian ink over pencil; folded; roy., $8\frac{1}{4} \times 22\frac{3}{4}$ in.

Nos. 3-5 were purchased December, 1857.

6. THE Y AT AMSTERDAM. The waters of the Y, thronged with shipping; a man-of-war l., another r. further off; fishing craft and small boats in the foreground; the towers and buildings of Amsterdam beyond, seen behind the masts. Signed W. V. V.

Pen and sepia, with Indian ink wash; roy., $8\frac{3}{8} \times 17\frac{3}{4}$ in.

Purchased October, 1849.

7. DUTCH MEN-OF-WAR IN A BREEZE. A squadron tacking towards the r.; the Gouda is the nearest ship l., Van Ghent's flagship further off r. Inscribed Gouda—Gent. A date at the top has been almost entirely cut off; probably it read 3 Junij, 1672, i.e., a few days before the battle of Solebay, in which Van Ghent commanded.

Pencil and Indian ink, strengthened in places with pen and sepia; roy., $10 \times 17\frac{1}{4}$ in.

Indian ink over pencil, touched with pen and sepia; roy., $11 \times 17\frac{3}{8}$ in.

9. ENGLISH SHIPS AT ANCHOR. A flagship with a yacht at her stern; other ships further off r. and l.; boats near the foreground rowing to and from the ship.

Indian ink over pencil, touched with pen and sepia; roy., $10\frac{1}{2} \times 17\frac{3}{8}$ in.

10. Two on one mount, roy., viz.:—

- (a) A LAUNCH. The hull of a man-of-war with the Royal standard and ensign floating in a harbour.

Indian ink over pencil, touched with pen and sepia; $8\frac{1}{2} \times 10\frac{3}{4}$ in.

Purchased August, 1874.
66. FIRE OF TERSCHELLING, 1666. A wide view from a height of the Dutch fleet of merchantmen in the straits being destroyed by the English fireships, and in the distance l. the village of Terschelling in flames; in the foreground Dutch boats landing their crews, and at the r. a land-mark on a sandy spit. Inscribed above l. hier het dorp van der schelling in de brant beneffens eenig klein vaertuijg (here the village of Terschelling burning and some small ships); at the side hier boven schelling haer 10 a 12 schepen behouden end gesalveert—3 genueesvaerders (here to the south of Terschelling 10 or 12 ships remained and were saved—3 Genoese merchantmen)—hier zijn verbrant in deze . . . soo wester and ooster als noortvaerders over 19 schepen (here were burned in these . . . western and eastern as well as northern merchantmen more than 19 vessels.)
Indian ink over pencil, with pen outlines in parts; folded; imp., $22\frac{3}{4} \times 34\frac{1}{4}$ in.
This drawing has been squared for transference to panel or canvas: the paper has been torn in several places.
For the event portrayed, see note on No. 12 of drawings by Van de Velde the Elder.
Purchased August, 1874.
67. ARRIVAL OF MARY OF MODENA IN THE THAMES. A long view of the river with a crowd of state barges in the foreground; in the centre the King, followed by the Duke of Monmouth, is being handed by the Duke of York from the royal barge into the barge conveying the Duchess; near this r. the Duke and Duchess of York are represented passing from their own barge to the King's; beyond l. three men-of-war firing salutes; smaller vessels r. Inscribed de koning komt bij de jonge duchesse van jorck wijt zijn baersie in de duck baersie over (the King coming to the young Duchess of York from his barge into the Duke's barge) and ducke de jorck met de duchesse gaen hier over met 't konin[x ro]jael baersie & paseren alsoo de rivier tot (the Duke of York and the Duchess pass here in to the King's royal barge and travel so on the river to . . .).

Indian ink with pen outlines; folded; imp., $11\frac{5}{8} \times 44$ in.

Purchased August, 1879.

68. DESTRUCTION OF FRENCH SHIPS AFTER THE BATTLE OF LA HOGUE, MAY, 1692. Scene in the bay of La Hogue; towards the r. three French ships of the line are catching fire from English fireships brought alongside; nearer, in the centre and at the r., are two other fireships with boats pulling to and fro; in the r. foreground some rocks, a boat full of struggling men, and floating wreckage; in the l. distance the English fleet. Signed and dated W. V. J. 1692, and inscribed Het branden der franse schepen in La Hogue No. 5. 1692. 1. 2. 3. Juniij.

Pen and sepia with Indian-ink wash; imp., $11\frac{1}{2} \times 18\frac{3}{4}$ in.

See note on the next drawing. It is doubtful if the artist was actually present at the battle.

69. DESTRUCTION OF FRENCH SHIPS AT LA HOGUE, MAY, 1692. Five French ships of the line at anchor in the bay of La Hogue towards the r.; near the foreground an English fireship from which boats are plying to attack and burn the French men-of-war, one of the latter at the r. being already on fire: in the distance l. the English fleet. Inscribed at the top La Hogue 1692. 1. 2. 3. Juni. Signed and dated below W. V. Velde, J. A° 1701.

Indian ink and sepia, with pen outlines; imp., $9\frac{3}{4} \times 17$ in.

On May 19, [O. S.] 1692, Admiral Edward Russell with an English and Dutch fleet of 99 sail defeated de Tourville with his fleet of 44. After the battle three French ships ran ashore near Cherbourg, twelve took refuge in the bay of La Hogue and were burnt by the boats under the command of Vice-Admiral Rooke. The latter incident is here represented. As the inscription shows, this drawing was made nine years after the event.

Nos. 68 and 69 were purchased July, 1872.

70. JAMES, DUKE OF YORK, GOING ON BOARD HIS SHIP AT GRAVESEND, 1672. A large view looking down the Thames; forts on either bank r. and l.; the river crowded with men-of-war all firing a salute, the nearest ship in the centre being that of the Duke of York, with his barge alongside r.; a number of state barges rowing to and fro in the foreground; at the r. a little crowd on a pier above the landing-stairs, and men and boats below.

Indian ink over pencil, with pen outlines in parts; ant., $12\frac{1}{4} \times 43\frac{3}{4}$ in.

Purchased June, 1854, at the Woodburn sale.

Attributed to Van de Velde the Younger.

COAST SCENE. View looking along a flat coast; calm sea l., cottages on sand hills r., figures and boats on the beach.

Presented by John Henderson, Esq., January, 1863.

COAST SCENES; TWO SKETCHES ON ONE SHEET. View of the mouth of a river looking out to sea; fishing boats on the river or grounded on the sandy banks; below, boats drawn up on the sands r., and sea with vessels in the offing l. (Similar sketches on the back.)

Pen or brush and sepia; roy., $8 \times 12\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Probably by the same hand as the last, but not by either Van de Velde.

Purchased with the Sheepshanks Collection, 1835.

After Van de Velde the Younger.

A FLEET AT SEA. A fleet sailing away; at the l. a ship of the line near the foreground, at the r. a sloop.

Indian-ink wash and pen; roy., $10\frac{1}{4} \times 17$ in.

Bequeathed by the Rev. C. M. Cracherode, 1799.

DUTCH SHIPPING IN A BREEZE. Three galliots r., two frigates l.; cloudy sky.

Indian-ink wash and pen; roy., $7 \times 11\frac{1}{2}$ in.

This drawing and the last seem to be copies from the younger Van de Velde made by the same hand, perhaps by Charles Brooking [q. v.].

Bequeathed by Henry Vaughan, Esq., August, 1900.

VAN DIEST, Adrian (b. 1655, d. 1704). Painter and etcher; born at the Hague; pupil of his father, a marine painter; came young to London; painted views in the west of England for the Earl of Bath; painted portraits and etched a few landscapes; died in London.

1. STUDY FOR A LANDSCAPE, WITH A FISHERMAN. A fisherman with a net l. wading in a lake or river; clumps of trees on the bank beyond; bushes on a sloping bank r.

Black and white chalk on bluish paper; roy., $8\frac{3}{4} \times 10\frac{3}{4}$ in.

Bequeathed by R. Payne Knight, Esq., 1824.

VAN DYCK, Anthony (b. 1599, d. 1641). Painter and etcher; born at Antwerp; pupil of H. Van Balen; assistant of Rubens from before 1619; visited England 1620; worked in Italy, especially at Genoa, Rome and Venice from 1621 till about 1627¹; at Antwerp, from about 1627 to 1632, painting chiefly sacred subjects and mythology, besides some of his finest portraits; in London 1632–34, and again (after an absence in the Netherlands) 1635–40, painting the royalty and nobility in a splendid series of portraits, which created a new tradition of painting and had a paramount influence on the English school; famous also as the author of a set of etched portraits, the nucleus of the 'Iconographie' engraved after his designs.

The following drawings are arranged in classes; first, studies for compositions and for figures in compositions (including studies after other masters); next, portraits; and lastly, landscape studies. Within these classes the arrangement is approximately chronological.

[1–19] Studies for Compositions.

1. HEAD OF A SAINT IN PRAYER. Head of a saint with a small beard, monk's tonsure and cowl, seen nearly in profile turned to the l., with gaze fixed in painful intentness and lips apart; his hands are clasped before him. Probably a study for a Saint Francis. Inscribed Dyck.

Black chalk on brownish paper, heightened with white, and broadly touched with brush and bistre; roy., $14\frac{3}{4} \times 10\frac{1}{4}$ in.

Very close to Rubens in manner, but undoubtedly by Van Dyck.

Bequeathed by R. Payne Knight, Esq., 1824.

2. MUCIUS SCÆVOLA. A circular composition. At the r. Mucius stands thrusting his hand and dagger into the fire that burns on an altar, while he looks defiantly at Porsena seated on his throne l.; at the back a number of guards look on in wonder or hold their noses against the stench of burning flesh; at the foot of Porsena's throne a boy supports the body of the man killed by Mucius, and beside these l. a soldier stands leaning on his shield.

Numbered iii., presumably as one of a series.

Pen and bistre; roy., circle, $8\frac{3}{4}$ in. diam.

Purchased June, 1860. Formerly in the Lawrence collection.

3. STUDY FOR A PICTURE OF THE ENTOMBMENT. A composition of six figures: a disciple at the r. lifts the body of Christ by the arms, another l. by the legs; behind in the centre the Virgin lays her hand on her Son's forehead; behind her the head of St. John partly appears: at the l. stands Joseph of Arimathaea.

Brush and Indian-ink sketch, partly touched with water colour; roy., $9 \times 7\frac{3}{4}$ in.

Purchased September, 1895, with the Malcolm collection. Formerly in the Charles I., Lord Arundel, Lely, Paul Sandby, Jolles and Leembruggen collections.

¹ M. Max Rooses ('Antoine Van Dyck,' Paris, 1902) thinks that the artist returned to Antwerp in 1622 owing to the dangerous illness of his father, after whose death he returned to Italy.

4. SHEET OF STUDIES; THE MAGDALEN IN PENITENCE, ETC. The Magdalen, a nude figure, wrapped in a single drapery, and streaming hair, kneels facing l. with one hand outstretched and the other on her bosom; the suggestion of a tree r. Above, a sketch for the head of the saint, turned more towards full face. At the l. a sketch of a dog scratching itself, and a slight sketch of a man playing a lute.

Pen and sepia with brush work added; roy., $7\frac{1}{4} \times 9$ in.

REV. SHEET OF STUDIES FOR AN ADORATION OF THE SHEPHERDS. At the r. the Virgin seated with the child on her lap, facing to front; three figures behind and two at the r. (these last mostly cut off by the edge of the paper) roughly indicated in attitudes of wonder and worship. At the l. a study for the head and drapery of the Virgin, and for two figures coming from behind, one lifting his hat, the other pointing with his hand.

Pen and sepia.

Bequeathed by R. Payne Knight, Esq., 1824.

5. THE ENTOMBMENT OF CHRIST; AFTER TITIAN. A study from the famous picture by Titian, now in the Louvre, formerly in the collection of Charles I. who bought it from Mantua with most of the Gonzaga collection. The study shows some variations in detail from the original, and parts of the composition are cut off at either end.

Pen and bistre over black and red chalk, heightened with white: roy., $10\frac{3}{8} \times 13\frac{1}{4}$ in.

Purchased May, 1900. Formerly in the Lankrink and Warwick collections.

6. HEAD OF THE MADONNA; STUDY FOR THE PICTURE AT BRIDGEWATER HOUSE. Head of the Virgin inclined a little r. and looking upwards, with lips parted; drapery covers the back of the head and falls over the shoulders.

Red and black chalk; roy., $7\frac{3}{4} \times 5\frac{3}{8}$ in.

Study for the picture at Bridgewater House of the Madonna with the Child standing on her knees, of which there are several repetitions.

Purchased March, 1847.

7. THE HOLY FAMILY; STUDY FOR A PICTURE. The Virgin kneeling r. supports the infant Jesus who, standing on a cradle, lifts his hand to bless the child John Baptist kneeling l.; near the cradle r. is a lamb; behind l., St. Elizabeth kneels and looks on wondering; at the r. St. Joseph stands leaning on a pedestal and reads in a book; beyond, the suggestion of a pillar.

Pen and ink; roy., $8\frac{1}{2} \times 8$ in.

Presented by W. Fawkener, Esq., 1799.

8. CASSANDRA DRAGGED FROM THE TEMPLE OF PALLAS(?) Scene outside a temple, the portico of which rises r.; in the centre a woman, with dishevelled hair and dress, struggles violently against two men who are thrusting her onwards, while a third figure, already fallen, on the temple steps, clings to her robe and is dragged with her; at the l. a man in armour (Ajax) rushes up drawing his sword; and behind him are two men, one following him with imploring gesture, the other apparently a protesting priest; on the steps of the temple behind the group a woman stands with arms thrown up, and a man beside her.

Pen and bistre, with bistre wash; roy., $7\frac{3}{8} \times 11\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Reproduced in Cust's 'Vandyck,' p. 170.

The subject of this study is uncertain, but it is not improbable that it represents the carrying off of Cassandra in the Sack of Troy, as described in the Æneid, Book II. The Death of Polyxena has also been suggested.

Purchased with the Malcolm collection, September, 1895. Formerly in the Leembruggen collection.

9. THE TRIUMPH OF LOVE. Venus, clothed in flowing robes, sits on a bank near a tree-stem r., holding two arrows in her hand; at her feet sits Hercules whose hands a cupid ties behind his back, while Mars l., similarly pinioned, leans back on one knee and turns as if in homage to Venus, two cupids holding him prisoner, and a third at the l. grasping his sword and shield; at the r. a satyr throws fruit from a basket into the lap of a boy, past whom a cupid advances, bow in hand, toward the captive gods; two other cupids kiss in the r. foreground; between the satyr and Venus, a woman, half-seen, holds up her finger: a landscape with distant mountains l. Signed Aⁿ. Van Dyck F^o.

Pen and bistre, with pale bistre wash; roy., $8\frac{1}{2} \times 12\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Reproduced in Cust's 'Van Dyck,' p. 170.

Purchased with the Malcolm collection, September, 1895.

10. FRAGMENT OF A CLASSICAL SUBJECT. A group of three nude female figures crouching: two turned r. with arms outstretched, the third seen from the back and holding drapery over her face.

Pen and bistre over black chalk, touched with white; roy., $6\frac{3}{4} \times 5\frac{3}{4}$ in.

Bequeathed by R. Payne Knight, Esq., 1824.

11. TIME DISCOVERING TRUTH. Time, carrying his scythe, lifting the nude form of Truth; both figures float in the air above a rocky chasm.

Pen and bistre over black and red chalk, with bistre wash; roy., $5\frac{1}{2} \times 2\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Bequeathed by R. Payne Knight, Esq., 1824. Formerly in the Richardson collection.

12. Two on one mount, roy., viz.:—

- (a) ILLUSTRATION TO THE LIVES OF SAINTS. A Virgin martyr standing between two other martyrs; all three bear palms. Above, three boy-angels with chaplets of flowers. Signed A. V. D.

Pen and bistre, with bistre wash; $5\frac{7}{8} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ in.

- (b) ILLUSTRATION TO THE LIVES OF SAINTS. St. Gregory standing, book in hand, and looking up to the Holy Dove descending; beside him l. a young soldier-martyr carrying a palm-branch; behind r. another soldier-martyr, bearded, also with a palm; nearer the foreground a boy holding St. Gregory's tiara. Signed A. Van Dyck.

Pen and bistre, with bistre wash, heightened with white; $6 \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Purchased with the Malcolm collection, September, 1895.

Formerly in the Mariette and Lawrence collections.

13. Four on one mount, roy., viz.:—

- (a) ST. ROSALIE CROWNED BY THE MADONNA AND CHILD. The saint kneels l. with hands folded on her breast, looking up, while the Infant Christ on his mother's knee, appearing on a cloud r., crowns her with roses.

Pen and bistre, with bistre wash; $3\frac{3}{4} \times 2\frac{1}{2}$ in.

- (b) SCENE IN THE LIFE OF A SAINT. A young man with flowing hair cutting with chisel and mallet an inscription on a rock l.; an angel r. stands watching him.

Pen and bistre, with bistre wash; $3\frac{3}{4} \times 2\frac{1}{2}$ in.

- (c) THE SAME DESIGN REVERSED. The same design lightly traced and hastily sketched over, with modifications; the two figures brought nearer together.

Brush and bistre over pencil tracing; $3\frac{1}{2} \times 3$ in.

- (d) ST. DOROTHEA (?). A young female saint kneeling l. beside a rock on the sea shore, and receiving a basket of flowers from an angel appearing r. on a cloud.

Pen and bistre, with bistre wash; $3\frac{5}{8} \times 3$ in.

Purchased with the Malcolm collection, September, 1895.

14. THE DEATH OF ADONIS. Venus r. bending over and holding up in her arms the lifeless body of Adonis, whose head falls backward; Cupid l. kneels on the ground and kisses the wound in Adonis's thigh.

Pen and bistre, with bistre wash and touches of white; roy., $8\frac{1}{2} \times 6$ in.

The composition and attitudes of the group are adapted from the famous antique sculpture of Diomed holding the body of Ajax.

Purchased with the Malcolm collection, September, 1895. Formerly in the Lawrence and Hawkins collections.

15. STUDY FOR A PICTURE; CHRIST NAILED TO THE CROSS. In the foreground Christ is about to be nailed to the cross; a kneeling soldier r. holds the legs, another lays the l. hand on the cross, a third l. is about to hammer the nail in the other hand, while a fourth assists from behind; an officer on horseback r. superintends, another horseman partly seen behind him holds a floating banner; in the background rise the two tall crosses on which the thieves hang, and on a ladder set against the cross at the l. stands a man with a stick or whip; below him three other figures partly appear, one holding the inscription headed I. N. R. I. Signed A. V. Dijck f.

Pen and bistre, with bistre and Indian ink wash; roy., $8\frac{3}{4} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Bequeathed by R. Payne Knight, Esq., 1824.

16. DESIGN FOR ORNAMENT. Two Cupids leaning forward to embrace each other, supported by ornamental work of leaves, and with a sunflower above.

Brush and bistre on brownish paper, heightened with white; roy. $5\frac{3}{4} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$ in.

Bequeathed by R. Payne Knight, Esq., 1824. Formerly in the Reynolds collection.

17. THE JUDGMENT OF PARIS. Paris seated on a bank under a tree, a dog beside him l. looking r. at the three goddesses (unseen); behind him stands Mercury, holding the caduceus in one hand and the apple in the other.

Pen and bistre sketch; roy., $9 \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in.

A hasty sketch of inferior quality, but possibly genuine.

Presented by W. Fawkener, Esq., 1799.

18. STUDIES FOR A PAINTING OF THE CRUCIFIXION. Study of the body and legs of the figure of Christ on the cross, the head slightly sketched in; below, a study of the arms raised at a higher angle; above at the l. a slight sketch of a female bust. Signed A. V. Dyck.

Black chalk on gray paper, heightened with white; atl., $22\frac{1}{4} \times 17\frac{1}{4}$ in.

Study for the painting now at Prior Park College, Bath.

Bequeathed by the Rev. C. M. Cracherode, 1799.

19. STUDY FOR A PAINTING OF THE LAMENTATION OVER CHRIST. The body of Christ reclining on a bank of earth, the head and shoulders supported l. by the arms of St. John (whose l. arm alone is drawn in); at the r. a separate study for St. John's head.

Black chalk on gray paper, heightened with white; atl., $21 \times 17\frac{3}{4}$ in.

Reproduced by the Vasari Society, 1907. The picture is now in the Berlin Gallery.

Purchased March, 1875. Formerly in the Lankrink, Richardson and Hudson collections.

20. ERYCIUS PUTEANUS. Half-length, facing to front, seated at a table, with l. hand turning the pages of a book; head in three-quarters turned r. and looking r.; bookshelf behind l., curtain r. On the margin below a slight study for the hand. Inscribed in a later hand Puteanus. Van Dijck f. Obit. A° 1646.

Drawing for the engraving by P. de Jode, in the original issue of the 'Iconographie' (No. 36 of Wibiral's catalogue).

Erycius Puteanus, historian of the Netherlands and professor at Louvain; b. 1574, d. 1646.

Purchased with the Malcolm collection, September, 1895. Formerly in the Hudson collection.

21. NICHOLAS ROCKOX. Bust in an oval, the head in three-quarter face turned r., eyes looking full; frilled ruff.

Brush and bistre, with bistre wash, over black chalk; oval; roy., $7\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{3}{8}$ in.

Drawing for the engraving by P. Pontius in the later issue of the 'Iconographie' (Wibiral, No. 115).

Nicholas Rockox, nine times burgomaster of Antwerp, b. 1560, d. 1640.

Purchased with the Malcolm collection, September, 1895. Formerly in the Lagoy, Dimsdale, Lawrence, Verstolk and Leembruggen collections.

22. HUBERT VAN DEN EYNDEN. Half-length, leaning against a wall r., the body turned to front, the head to l., nearly in profile; l. arm resting on a sculptured head.

Black chalk, with Indian ink wash; roy., $8\frac{7}{8} \times 6\frac{1}{4}$ in.

Drawn for the engraving by L. Vorsterman in the original issue of the 'Iconographie' (Wibiral, No. 80).

Hubert van den Eynden was a sculptor of Antwerp.

Bequeathed by Henry Vaughan, Esq., August, 1900. Formerly in the Mariette and Lawrence collections.

23. SEBASTIAN VRANCX. Three-quarter length standing, facing to front, the head in three-quarter face turned l. and looking l.; the r. hand pointing r.; sword hilt under l. arm. Inscribed Sebast. Franck.
Black chalk; roy., $10 \times 7\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Drawn for the engraving by S. a Bolswert in the original issue of the 'Iconographie' (Wibiral, No. 25).
Sebastian Vranx, painter, b. 1573 at Antwerp, was a fellow-pupil with Rubens of A. van Noort; painted battle pieces, landscapes, church interiors, etc.; also wrote comedies and poems; died 1647.
Purchased with the Malcolm collection, September, 1895. Formerly in the De Vos collection.
24. ADAM DE COSTER. Half-length, directed l., the head turned nearly in full face and looking somewhat r.; l. hand behind him, r. hand resting on the base of a pillar.
Black chalk; roy., $9 \times 6\frac{5}{8}$ in.
Reproduced in Cust's 'Vandyck,' p. 164.
Engraved by Pieter de Jode for the original issue of the 'Iconographie' (Wibiral, No. 31). This drawing is a copy, or perhaps more probably a repetition by the artist, of a drawing, still finer in quality, in the Städel Institute at Frankfurt.
Adam de Coster, b. at Mechlin 1586, painted scriptural, historical and domestic subjects, especially night effects; worked at Antwerp, where he died, 1643.
Purchased with the Malcolm collection, September 1895. Formerly in the Garle collection.
25. HENDRIK LIBERTI. Head and bust, directed to front, the beardless face turned a little r. but looking full; l. hand brought across the body and holding a paper.
Black chalk, with some red chalk in the background; roy., $9\frac{7}{8} \times 7\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Study for the painting now in the Prado Gallery, engraved by Pieter de Jode for the 'Iconographie' (Wibiral No. 172). There are several repetitions of the painting at Munich, Vienna, in the Duke of Grafton's collection, etc. In the picture Liberti holds a score of music and wears a long gold chain.
Hendrik Liberti, organist of the cathedral at Antwerp, was a special friend of the artist's.
Purchased July, 1855.
26. PORTRAIT OF A LADY. Whole-length, standing by a table on which the l. hand rests; the lady is turned to front and r., the face in three-quarters turned r., eyes looking full; low bodice with wide lace collar, black satin dress; curtain behind.
Pen and ink, shaded with Indian ink; roy., $11\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Bequeathed by Henry Vaughan, Esq., August 1900. Formerly in the Dimsdale and Lawrence collections.
27. WOLFGANG WILHELM, PRINCE OF PFALZ-NEUBURG. Whole length, standing directed to front and l., the head in three-quarter face, turned l., r. hand holding ribbon of the Golden Fleece, l. hand on dagger hilt; big dog l.
Black chalk on greenish gray paper, touched with white; roy., $17\frac{3}{4} \times 11\frac{1}{2}$ in.
A rather slight sketch, much rubbed and in parts almost obliterated, for the picture painted 1628, now in the Munich Gallery.
Wolfgang Wilhelm, Duke of Jülich and Cleve, had in 1628 just been raised to the independent sovereignty of Neuburg in the Palatinate.
Purchased December, 1845. Formerly in the Lankrink and Hudson collections.
28. ORAZIO GENTILESCHI. Half-length standing directed l., the face in three-quarters with eyes looking full; wearing cloak with deep collar, l. hand held out as if pointing, r. hand on breast. Signed Andijck fecit and inscribed Horatius Gentileschi pictor celeberrimus apud mag: Britt: R.
Black chalk, with Indian ink wash in the shadows; roy., $9\frac{3}{4} \times 7$ in.
Drawn for the engraving by L. Vorsterman in the original issue of the 'Iconographie' (Wibiral No. 83). Some rather weak retouches with the pen may be by the engraver.

Orazio Gentileschi, painter, chiefly of sacred subjects, b. 1562 at Pisa; worked in Rome, Turin and Genoa, and in Paris; brought over by Buckingham to England 1626; painted ceilings for the King and nobility, and also bought pictures for Charles I's collection; d. in London 1647.

Bequeathed by the Rev. C. M. Cracherode 1799. Formerly in the Hudson Collection.

- ✓ 29. HENRIETTA MARIA, WITH THE PRINCESS MARY. Whole length, seated, facing to front, holding the baby princess on her knee; the head turned l.; a small dog leaping up l.

Black chalk on greenish-gray paper heightened with white; roy., $14\frac{7}{8} \times 9\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Chiefly a drapery study; the drawing has been rubbed, and the head of the queen is almost obliterated, but seems never to have been more than faintly indicated.

Study for the large double portrait of Charles I and Henrietta Maria with the infant Prince Charles and Princess Mary, in the Royal collection, Windsor; painted 1632; engraved by B. Baron.

Purchased June 1860 at the Woodburn sale. Formerly in the Lankrink, Richardson, Hudson, Reynolds and Lawrence Collections.

Black chalk on brownish paper; roy., $14\frac{3}{4} \times 10\frac{1}{4}$ in.
Reproduced in Cust's 'Vandyck' p. 174, as 'Study of a Genoese Senator.'
Purchased December, 1845. Formerly in the Richardson, Hudson, and Reynolds Collections.
37. CHARLES I. ON HORSEBACK. Charles I. on horseback riding towards the l.; the figure of the king sketched in outline only.
Pen and bistre, with bistre wash on greenish paper, heightened with white; roy., $11\frac{1}{2} \times 9\frac{3}{8}$ in.
Reproduced in Cust's 'Vandyck,' p. 100.
Study for the picture now in the National Gallery, formerly at Blenheim. Painted about 1636.
Purchased May, 1885.
38. CHARLES, PRINCE OF WALES, AFTERWARDS CHARLES II. A child in his fifth year; whole length standing with l. hand put out as if resting on something, and looking to front; in cap, silk frock to the feet, and lace collar.
Black chalk on greenish-gray paper, heightened with white.
Study for the 'Three Children of Charles I.' now in the Turin Gallery, painted 1635. In the picture the young prince stands in the same attitude, but the r. hand, not the l. hand, rests on the head of a large dog.
Purchased August, 1874. Formerly in the Howard and Earl of Wicklow Collections.
39. ENDYMION PORTER. Half-length study, seated, the head in three-quarter face turned r. and looking r., l. hand on sword-hilt, r. hand on breast; beside him, in front, the head and shoulders of a boy. Signed A. V. Dyck.
Black chalk on brownish paper, heightened with white; roy., $12\frac{3}{8} \times 9\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Endymion Porter, M.P. and royalist; b. 1587, d. 1649; brought up in Spain; was page to Olivares; afterwards held offices at the Court of England; employed by Buckingham and Charles I. on diplomatic missions, also as agent in buying pictures for the King; wrote verses, and was a friend and patron of poets.
Purchased May, 1854, at the Uvedale Price sale.
Formerly in the Lankrink, Richardson and Hudson Collections.

40. THOMAS HOWARD, EARL OF ARUNDEL. Bust, the head nearly in full face, turned slightly r., eyes full; broad collar, jewel and ribbon of the Garter.
Black chalk on greenish-gray paper, heightened with white; roy., $9\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$ in.
This study agrees with the bust portrait in the Duke of Norfolk's collection engraved by Hollar 1639, except that in the painting the Earl is in armour.
Thomas Howard, b. 1585, d. 1646; Earl Marshal; K.G. 1611; commander of the army in Scotland 1639; famous especially as an amateur and collector of works of art.
Purchased July 1846 at the Thane sale. Formerly in the Spencer Collection.
41. THOMAS HOWARD, EARL OF ARUNDEL. Whole length, seated towards r. and front, head in three-quarter face turned r., eyes looking full; wearing skull-cap, cloak, Garter jewel and ribbon; baton in l. hand, a paper in the other. Signed A. V. Dyck.
Black chalk on brown paper, heightened with white; imp., $18\frac{3}{4} \times 14$ in.
Purchased May 1854, at the Uvedale Price sale.
42. JAMES STUART, DUKE OF LENOX. Whole-length, standing, directed to front and l., the head in three-quarter face turned l., eyes looking full, l. hand on hip, under cloak; r. arm suggested only.
Black chalk on light-brown paper, heightened with white; imp., $18\frac{3}{4} \times 11$ in.
Reproduced in Cust's 'Van Dyck,' p. 178.
Study for the picture now in the Marquand Collection, Metropolitan Art Museum, New York. In the picture the Duke rests his hand on the head of a greyhound, for which the next drawing is a study.
James Duke of Lenox, b. 1612; created Duke of Richmond 1641; d. 1655.
He was painted several times by Van Dyck.
Purchased August 1874. Formerly in the Howard and Earl of Wicklow Collections.
43. STUDIES OF A GREYHOUND, FOR THE PORTRAIT OF THE DUKE OF LENOX. Study of a greyhound sitting on its haunches and looking up r. with one fore-foot lifted. At the l. another study of the body and legs only, with both feet on the ground.
Black chalk on light-brown paper, heightened with white; imp., $18\frac{1}{2} \times 12\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Reproduced in Cust's 'Van Dyck' p. 178, and by the Vasari Society, 1907.
Purchased August 1874. From the same collections as the last.
44. Ob. LORD FRANCES VILLIERS. Whole-length, standing facing to front, the head turned a little l. and looking l.; r. hand on breast.
Black chalk on light-brown paper, heightened with white; imp., $18\frac{3}{4} \times 11$ in.

Purchased August 1874. From the same collections as the last.
45. HENRY DANVERS, EARL OF DANBY. Three-quarter length standing, directed to front and l., the head in three-quarter face turned l., eyes looking full; in Garter robes, with wide ruff; l. hand on hilt of sword.
Black chalk on light-brown paper; imp., $16\frac{5}{8} \times 12\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Study for the picture now in the Hermitage Gallery, St. Petersburg, engraved in mezzotint by Valentine Green. The picture is a whole-length portrait.
Henry Danvers, b. 1573, stepson of Sir Edmund Cary, created Earl of Danby 1626; K.G. 1633; d. 1644.
Purchased April 1852. Formerly in the Hudson, Reynolds and Thane Collections.
46. THE COUNTESS OF DERBY (?). Three-quarter length, standing, directed to front and l., the head in three-quarter face turned l. and looking l., r. hand in front of waist, l. hand at side; close cap over ringlets; pearl necklace; satin dress. Inscribed Coss. Derby.
Black chalk on light-brown paper, heightened with white; imp., $17\frac{3}{4} \times 11\frac{1}{4}$ in.
Purchased July 1846 at the Thane sale. Formerly in the Richardson and Hudson Collections.

47. PORTRAIT OF A LADY. Three-quarter length standing, facing to front, eyes turned a little r.; pearl necklace; l. hand pulling a glove on the r. hand. Black chalk on light-brown paper; imp., $16\frac{1}{2} \times 9\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Possibly a study for the portrait of the Countess of Bedford now at Petworth, engraved by P. Lombart; but the action of drawing on the glove is not quite the same in treatment, and the drapery and other details are different.
Purchased July 1846 at the Thane sale. From the same collections as the last.
48. ROBERT DORMER, EARL OF CARNARVON, AND HIS WIFE ANNE SOPHIA. Whole-length, standing, with the lady's l. hand in her husband's r. hand; he faces l. with l. hand on hip and head looking over his shoulder to the front; she stands further back, in a three-quarter attitude, turned l. and looking l. Black chalk on light-brown paper, heightened with white; imp., $19\frac{3}{4} \times 11\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Study for the two figures at the r. side of the great picture of the Pembroke family at Wilton, engraved by B. Baron. Robert Dormer, b. about 1607, married Anne Sophia, eldest daughter of Philip Herbert, fourth Earl of Pembroke, 1625; became Earl of Carnarvon, 1628; held cavalry commands in the Civil War; killed at the battle of Newbury, 1643.
Purchased December 1845. Formerly in the Richardson Collection.
49. FRANCES, COUNTESS OF EXETER. Three-quarter length, seated, in widow's robes, facing to front, the head turned a little r., eyes looking full; hands at sides. Signed dyck f. (signature nearly obliterated). Black chalk on greenish-gray paper, heightened with white; roy., $13\frac{3}{4} \times 10\frac{3}{4}$ in.
Study for the picture successively in the Horace Walpole, Thane, and Col. Cunningham Collections.
Frances, daughter of William Brydges, Lord Chandos, was wife, first of Sir Thomas Smith, afterwards of William Cecil, first Earl of Exeter.
Bequeathed by the Rev. C. M. Cracherode, 1799. Formerly in the Richardson and Hudson Collections.
50. SIR WILLIAM KILLIGREW. Three-quarter length standing, facing to front, r. hand in front of body, l. hand on hip. Black chalk on greenish-gray paper, heightened with white; roy., $16\frac{1}{4} \times 11\frac{1}{4}$ in.
Study for the picture in the Duke of Newcastle's Collection.
Sir William Killigrew, M.P., b. 1606; knighted 1626; Commander in the King's body-guard during the Civil War; held posts at the Courts of Charles I. and Charles II.; author of several plays well esteemed in their day; d. 1695.
Purchased December 1845. Formerly in the Richardson, Hudson and Reynolds collections.
51. PORTRAIT OF A GENTLEMAN (? THOMAS KILLIGREW). Half-length, facing to front, head turned slightly r., eyes a little l.; r. hand holding up drapery. Black chalk on bluish-gray paper, heightened with white; roy., $13\frac{1}{2} \times 18\frac{1}{2}$ in.
The drawing has been so rubbed that conjecture is a little hazardous; but the features show a strong likeness to those of Killigrew as seen in the portrait at Chatsworth, and in the famous double portrait (with Carew) at Windsor.
Thomas Killigrew, the elder, b. 1612, son of Sir Robert and brother of Sir William Killigrew; page to Charles I.; celebrated as a wit and a dramatist; built a playhouse on the site of the present Drury Lane Theatre; master of the revels, 1679; d. 1683.
Bequeathed by Sir Hans Sloane, Bart., 1753.
52. GEORGE DIGBY, SECOND EARL OF BRISTOL. Whole-length, leaning with r. elbow on the plinth of a pillar, facing to front; armillary sphere and papers on the ground l. Black chalk on greenish-gray paper heightened with white; roy., $19\frac{3}{4} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$ in.
Study for the double portrait of the Earl of Bristol and the Duke of Bedford in the collection of Earl Spencer at Althorp.
George Digby, second Earl of Bristol, b. 1612, d. 1677; of great ability, but restless and untrustworthy character; quarrelled with the Court; impeached for levying royalist troops, 1642; fought for Charles at Edgehill, but fell out with Prince Rupert; held high posts and commands for the King till defeated at Carlisle Sands; retired to France, and took part in the Fronde; intrigued against Mazarin; returned to England; Secretary of State to Charles II., but deprived of his post as being a Roman Catholic; wrote early in life against Roman Catholicism, and later wrote some comedies.

Purchased July, 1846. Formerly in the Thane Collection.

Black chalk on greenish-gray paper, heightened with white; roy. (cut at the corners), $17 \times 11\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Study for the double portrait of Lord John and Lord Bernard Stuart, formerly (till 1904) in Lord Darnley's Collection at Cobham.

Purchased December, 1845. Formerly in the Richardson, Hudson and Reynolds Collections.

54. STUDY FOR PORTRAIT (? LORD BERNARD STUART). Head and bust, turned to front and l., head turned nearly full, eyes looking full.

Black chalk on greenish-gray paper, heightened with white; roy., $13\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{3}{4}$ in.

The long face and curling locks of this portrait show a considerable resemblance to the features of Lord Bernard Stuart.

Lord Bernard Stuart, b. about 1623, 6th son of the 3rd Duke of Lenox; Captain of life-guards in the Civil War; fought at Edgehill and Naseby; killed, 1646, at Rowton Heath.

Bequeathed by Sir Hans Sloane, Bart., 1753.

55. A LADY UNKNOWN. Three-quarter length, facing to front, the head turned a little l., eyes looking l.; ringlets, and pearl drops in ears; l. hand holding dress, r. hand extended but not in the composition. (Probably the drawing has been cut down.)

Black chalk on greenish-gray paper; roy., $13\frac{3}{4} \times 9\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Purchased with the Malcolm Collection, September, 1895. Formerly in the Lord Spencer and Wellesley Collections.

56. Ob. A YOUNG MAN UNKNOWN. Whole-length, standing facing to front, the head turned r., l. hand on hip, r. hand holding a sword (?) Signed A. v. Dyck.

Black chalk on brown paper; roy., $16\frac{3}{8} \times 10$ in.

Rev. STUDY OF HANDS AND OF DRAPERY.

Black chalk.

Presented by E. Prentis, Esq., April, 1850. Formerly in the Lankrink, Richardson, Hudson, and Reynolds Collections.

57. A MAN UNKNOWN. Short half-length, in three-quarters turned l., eyes looking full; moustache, and small beard on chin.

Black chalk on bluish-gray paper, heightened with white, roy., $8 \times 7\frac{1}{4}$ in.

Purchased December, 1845. Formerly in the Richardson, Hudson, and Reynolds Collections.

58. STUDY FOR PORTRAIT OF A LADY. Study of r. arm and hand holding drapery.

Black chalk (and a little red chalk in the hand) on brownish paper, heightened with white; roy., $13 \times 8\frac{1}{4}$ in.

Very close in manner to Lely's style; but as the drawing was in Lely's collection and is marked with his stamp, the presumption is against its being his own work.

Purchased December, 1845. Formerly in the Lely and Reynolds Collections.

59. STUDY OF A LADY'S HEAD. Head of a lady seen from behind; the hair partly coiled on the top of the head, partly falling in long ringlets at the side.

Black chalk on brown paper, heightened with white, roy., $6\frac{3}{8} \times 5\frac{5}{8}$ in.

Also very near to Lely.

Bequeathed by R. Payne-Knight, Esq., 1824. Formerly in the Lely and Reynolds Collections.

60. A LADY, SAID TO BE THE DUCHESS OF RICHMOND. Full half-length standing with hands crossed before her, in three-quarters turned l., eyes looking full.

Black chalk on greenish-gray paper, heightened with white; roy., $15 \times 10\frac{5}{8}$ in.

The identity of the lady of this portrait is doubtful. Mary Villiers, daughter of the 1st Duke of Buckingham, married James Stuart, 1st Duke of Richmond; d. 1685.

Purchased July, 1846 at the Thane sale. Formerly in the Richardson and Hudson Collections.

61. A LADY, PROBABLY LUCY, COUNTESS OF CARLISLE. Whole-length, standing directed l., the face turned in three-quarters, eyes looking full.
Black chalk on greenish-gray paper, heightened with white; imp., $19\frac{1}{2} \times 10\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Reproduced in the 'Burlington Magazine,' November, 1906.
The features of the lady in this study closely resemble those of the Countess of Carlisle as seen in the portrait at Petworth, engraved by P. Lombart.
Lucy, daughter of Henry Percy, Earl of Northumberland, wife of James Hay, first Earl of Carlisle; b. 1600, married 1617, d. 1660. Famous for her wit and beauty, and for her political intrigues; the friend of Henrietta Maria, of Strafford, and of Pym.
Purchased July, 1846 at the Thane sale. Formerly in the Richardson and Hudson Collections.
62. A LADY UNKNOWN. Whole-length of a young lady, standing directed to l., the face in three-quarters, eyes looking l.; the l. hand by her side, the other apparently held out, but only suggested in the drawing. A separate study of the l. hand at the l.
Black chalk on greenish-gray paper; imp., $20\frac{3}{4} \times 13\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Purchased December, 1845. Formerly in the Richardson, Hudson and Reynolds Collections.
63. Ob. A LADY UNKNOWN. An elderly lady, rather stout; whole length, standing directed to front and l., the face in three-quarters turned l., eyes looking full; r. hand at waist in front, l. hand by her side.
Black chalk on greenish-gray paper; imp., $19\frac{1}{4} \times 12\frac{7}{8}$ in.
Rev. STUDIES FOR PORTRAITS. Half-length of a lady seated, facing to front, head in three-quarter face turned l. and looking l. Also drapery study for half-length portrait of a man.

 Pen and sepia, with water-colour wash; roy., $3\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{3}{4}$ in.
75. STUDY OF PLANTS. Sow-thistle with nettles behind, and other plants l. Inscribed above on bord—crou femel (or semel)—soufissels, nettels, gras—trile (or tribe) gras—nygltyngale—on dasy [one daisy]—ferren [fern]. Small sketches of trefoil, daisy, and fern at the r. Signed A. van dyck.
 Pen and sepia, with sepia wash; roy., $8\frac{3}{4} \times 12\frac{1}{2}$ in.
 Purchased, May, 1885, at the W. Russell sale. Formerly in the Richardson Collection.
76. COTTAGES, AND TREES ON A HILLSIDE. Trees on a hillside r., with two cottages at the bottom l. Signed A. van dyck.
 Pen and sepia; roy., $7\frac{1}{2} \times 11\frac{3}{4}$ in.
 Purchased, April, 1897. Formerly in the Richardson (senior) and Warwick collections.
77. TREES ON A HILLSIDE. Clumps of trees on a broken slope l., a cottage partly seen r. Signed and dated A. van dyck F. 1634.
 Pen and sepia; roy., $7\frac{1}{4} \times 11$ in.
 Bequeathed by R. Payne Knight, Esq., 1824. Formerly in the Lankrink and Richardson Collections.
78. STUDY OF A POLLARD WILLOW. Inscribed Di Vandik, also Rubens.

Attributed to Van Dyck.

STUDY OF A YOUNG MAN'S HEAD. Head of a young man with curling hair, seen nearly in full face, turned slightly r., the eyes looking down and to the l. Study for a head in a composition.

Black chalk; roy., $4\frac{1}{2} \times 4$ in.

Presented by H. Farrer, Esq., November, 1847.

STUDY FOR A PICTURE OF THE MADONNA AND CHILD WITH ST. JOHN. The Madonna holding the Child on her lap, while he squeezes a bunch of grapes into a cup held by the infant St. John at the r. Inscribed A. van Dick.

Pen and bistre; roy., $7 \times 7\frac{3}{4}$ in.

Bequeathed by Sir Hans Sloane, Bart., 1753.

THE VIRGIN MARY IN LAMENTATION. Half-length figure of the Virgin with hands outstretched and eyes uplifted.

Pen and sepia; roy., 6×7 in.

By a feeble imitator of Van Dyck.

Ob. STUDY FOR A PICTURE OR TAPESTRY. Ulysses and a companion standing in a porch and looking with horror at a comrade who moves away l. with head transformed into that of a boar, another boar looks up l.

Pen and sepia, with sepia wash; roy., $9\frac{3}{4} \times 9$ in.

Rev. STUDIES FOR PORTRAITS. Slight sketches for portraits of a boy and a girl.

Bequeathed by Sir Hans Sloane, Bart., 1753.

STUDY FOR A PICTURE OF THE CRUCIFIXION. Christ on the cross, the Virgin Mary standing l., St. John weeping r., Mary Magdalen kneeling and kissing Christ's feet: two angels in the clouds.

Reed pen and bistre, heightened with white; arched at the top; roy., $10\frac{3}{4} \times 6\frac{5}{8}$ in.

Perhaps by a Genoese painter working under Van Dyck's influence. Reproduced as by Van Dyck in Cust, p. 182.

STUDY FOR A PORTRAIT. Head and shoulders of a man in a skull-cap, with small pointed beard, in three-quarter face turned r., eyes looking full; wearing ruff and gown.

Black chalk on gray paper, heightened with white; roy., $9\frac{3}{4} \times 7\frac{3}{4}$ in.

Apparently a study for the portrait of a Genoese senator; if so, it may be by one of the many Netherlanders working in Italy at the same time as Van Dyck. This and the last were purchased with the Malcolm collection, September 1895.

After Van Dyck.

Nine copies from the sketch-book by Van Dyck in the collection of the Duke of Devonshire at Chatsworth; viz. :—

STUDIES AFTER TITIAN. Sheet of 15 studies from pictures of the Madonna and Child and from single heads; taken from various pages of the sketch-book, chiefly f. 9 (Ob. and Rev.). Inscribed Pensieri di Titiano.

Pen and sepia; roy., $13 \times 8\frac{1}{2}$ in.

The originals are reproduced in Cust's 'Chatsworth Sketch-book,' pl. 2 and 3.

STUDIES AFTER TITIAN AND GIORGIONE. Sheet of 13 studies; Christ bearing the Cross (Giorgione) 'Ecce Homo' (four studies after Titian); Venus and Cupids in a landscape (Giorgione?), etc. Taken from ff. 20 (Rev.), 21 (Ob.), 121 (Rev.), etc. of the Sketch-book.

Pen and sepia; roy., $13 \times 8\frac{1}{2}$ in.

The originals are reproduced, Cust, pl. 8, 9, 45, etc.

STUDIES AFTER PORTRAITS BY TITIAN. Sheet of 6 studies after male portraits by Titian; taken from f. 108 (Ob. and Rev.) and 110 (Rev.) of the sketch-book. Inscribed Pensieri di Titiano, etc.

Pen and sepia; roy., $13 \times 8\frac{1}{2}$ in.

The originals are reproduced, Cust, pl. 28, 29 and 33.

STUDIES AFTER PORTRAITS BY TITIAN, MORONI, etc. Sheet of 5 studies after Titian's portraits of Pope Paul III. with his nephews, and of his daughter Lavinia; a portrait by Moroni, etc. Taken from f. 108 (Rev.) and f. 111 (Ob. and Rev.) of the sketch-book. Inscribed Pensien di Titiano, etc.

Pen and sepia; roy., 13 × 8½ in.

The originals are reproduced, Cust, pl. 29, 34 and 35.

PORTRAIT OF SOFONISBA ANGUISOLO. After the sketch from life by Van Dyck on f. 113 (Ob.) of the sketch-book, with a copy of the long inscription Ritratto della Signora Sofonisba pittorica fatto dal viva in Palermo l'anno 1629, etc. Below, This with four leaves of Pensien di Titiano are from Van Dycke's pocket-book now belonging to the Duke of Devonshire.

The above 5 sheets, purchased August 1874, are all by the same hand. It is conjectured by Mr. Cust that these excellent copies may have been made by Hugh Howard (q. v.) in whose possession the sketch-book was before it was acquired for Chatsworth. The following equally good copies, probably of earlier date, are from the same sketch-book.

PHARAOH'S SOLDIERS OVERWHELMED IN THE RED SEA. Group from the great woodcut designed by Titian; after f. 25 of the sketch-book.

Black chalk; 7½ × 11½ in.

STUDIES OF HORSES. Two horses harnessed abreast, and a third horse. After f. 27 (Ob.) of the sketch-book, which is inscribed Titian.

Black chalk; roy., 7 × 6 in.

The original is reproduced, Cust, pl. 12.

NUDE STUDIES OF TWO WOMEN. After f. 121 (Ob.) of the sketch-book.

Black chalk; roy., 7½ × 6 in.

These three studies were bequeathed by the Rev. C. M. Cracherode, 1799.

VENUS WASHING HER FEET, AND CUPID. From an engraving by Marc Antonio. After f. 82 (Rev.) of the sketch-book.

Black chalk; roy., 4¼ × 5¾ in.

Presented by W. Fawkener, esq., 1799.

PORTRAIT OF CASPAR GEVARTS. Half-length, standing, with l. hand on a book; head in three-quarters looking r.

Black chalk; 11½ × 7½ in.

Early, perhaps contemporary, copy from the drawing in the Albertina, Vienna, made for the 'Iconographie.'

Bequeathed by the Rev. C. M. Cracherode, 1799. Formerly in the Barnard Collection.

THREE TOWN COUNCILLORS OF BRUSSELS; AFTER A PICTURE NOW DESTROYED. Three seated councillors in robes and large ruffs.

Brush and sepia; roy., 7 × 9¾ in.

Copy from a portion of the great picture of twenty-three magistrates of Brussels in council, painted in 1634 for the Town Hall of that city. The painting perished, 1695, in a fire caused by the bombardment of Brussels by the French under Marshal de Villeroy.

Purchased May 1846.

PORTRAIT OF FRANS FRANCKEN. Head only.

Pen and ink; roy., 5 × 3¼ in.

Copy from the etching by Van Dyck in the 'Iconographie' (W. No. 6).

Bequeathed by Henry Vaughan, esq., August 1900. Formerly in the Lawrence Collection.

School of Van Dyck.

PORTRAIT OF AN ENGLISH DOCTOR. Half-length, seated, facing to front and r., the head in full face turned a little r., eyes looking full; skull cap over sparse locks of hair; gown, apparently that of a Doctor of one of the English Universities; l. hand on chair-arm, r. hand on breast.

Black chalk on brownish paper, heightened with white; roy., 10½ × 10¾ in. Obviously the work of a pupil or immediate follower of Van Dyck, but certainly not by the master's own hand. The absence of the particular manner in drawing, which a training in the schools of the continent would betray, points to an English author; and the plain vigour of portraiture, together with the square design, the early date of the drawing and its nearness to Van Dyck, make it probable that this is the work of William Dobson, though no authenticated drawing by that artist seems to exist for comparison. The picture for which this study was made was presumably painted for an Oxford or Cambridge college.

Purchased July 1846. Formerly in the Richardson Collection.

VAN HAEKEN, HAECKEN or AKEN,* Arnold (worked in the early 18th century). Painter and etcher; originally of Antwerp; worked in England; painted small figures, landscapes, and conversation pieces; etched frontispieces to plays; published a set of prints of fishes.

1. ACADEMICAL STUDY. Nude study of a man seated, leaning on l. elbow, with a flute in his hands. Signed A. Van haeken Fe.
Purchased December 1871.

VAN HUYSUM, Jacob (b. about 1687, d. 1746). Flower painter; born at Amsterdam; brother of the famous Jan Van Huysum, whose manner he closely imitated; worked in England from about 1721, painting for Sir Robert Walpole; died in obscurity.

1. ALBUM, containing drawings of flowers, fruits, plants, and sprays of trees. Pasted on the fly-leaf is a note: The Originall paintings of plants by Jacobus van Huysum, some of which were publish'd in 21 plates by a Society of Gardeners, anno 1730, & the Rest design'd for a Continuation of that work.

All the drawings are in water colours. The titles are taken from those written below in pencil or in ink on the drawings. For the few left unnamed the titles have been supplied by the Natural History Department of the Museum.

- (14) BROAD-LEAV'D GUM CISTUS; BASTARD INDIGO. Inscribed Tab. IV.
- (15) BASTARD INDIGO.
- (16) EARLY WHITE HONEYSUCKLE; ITALIAN HONEYSUCKLE; YELLOW ITALIAN HONEYSUCKLE. Inscribed Tab. V.

* Walpole and other authorities spell the name Van Aken, but this artist signs his set of prints of fishes 'Van Haeken,' and the present drawing 'Van Haeken.' There was an Alexander Van Haecken also working in England at the same time, but he is only known as a mezzotint engraver; and the drawing here catalogued is more probably the work of Arnold.

Water colours and pencil; $8\frac{3}{4} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$ in.
12. KIDS BROWSING. Two kids, facing each other, browsing on weeds. Inscribed Abergavenny, Sep^r. 22^d, 1829. J. W., R.A.
Pencil and water colours; roy., $6\frac{1}{2} \times 10$ in.
13. A WOUNDED TIGER. A tiger lying on the ground with lashing tail and head thrown up roaring towards the r. Signed J. W., R.A.
Pencil and water colours; roy., $9\frac{3}{8} \times 13\frac{1}{2}$ in.
14. Two on one mount, roy., viz.:—
 - (a) STUDIES FROM A BOA-CONSTRICTOR. The eye with part of the head of the snake, and a study of the scales of the body. Inscribed Boa-Constrictor's Eye and signed J. W., R.A. (On the back, pencil study of a man's anatomy.)
Water colours and pencil; $6\frac{7}{8} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ in.
 - (b) HEAD OF BOA-CONSTRICTOR. Head with jaws open and fangs darted out. Inscribed Head of the Boa-constrictor, J. W., R.A., and with notes in shorthand.
Water colours and pencil; $4\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{7}{8}$ in.
15. Two on one mount, roy., viz.:—
 - (a) STUDY OF A BOA-CONSTRICTOR. Head and part of the body of the snake rising up, with closed jaws. Inscribed Boa Constrictor, J. W., R.A., and with notes in shorthand.
Water colours and pencil; $6\frac{3}{4} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ in.
 - (b) STUDY OF A BOA-CONSTRICTOR. Head of the snake from the back, rising up and shooting out its fangs. With another pencil sketch of the eye and jaws.
Inscribed J. W., R.A., Boa-Constrictor.
Water colours and pencil; $6\frac{3}{4} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ in.
16. Two on one mount, roy., viz.:—
 - (a) STUDIES OF A DOG'S HEAD. Head of a hound, seen from the front and in a side view facing r. Signed J. W., R.A.
Water colours and pencil; $6 \times 9\frac{3}{4}$ in.
 - (b) HEAD OF A SHEEP. Profile of a sheep's head, facing l. Signed J. W., R.A.
Water colours and pencil; $7\frac{1}{8} \times 9\frac{3}{8}$ in.
17. SHEET OF STUDIES OF CATTLE. A number of separate studies of humped Indian oxen in various positions. Signed and dated J. W., R.A., Walcot, Oct^r. 12, 1817.
Pencil and water colours; roy., $9 \times 14\frac{1}{4}$ in.
18. Three on one mount, roy., viz.:—
 - (a) PORTRAIT OF EDWARD MORGAN, A WELSH LABOURER, AGED 92. Head and shoulders in full face, looking up; with long gray hair. Signed J. W., R.A.
Water colours and pencil; $5\frac{1}{2} \times 4\frac{3}{8}$ in.
 - (b) A GENTLEMAN ON HORSEBACK. A young man in a broad-brimmed hat and long coat, seen in profile in the saddle, facing r.; the head, hindquarters and legs of the horse do not appear.
Pencil and water colours; $6\frac{1}{4} \times 3\frac{3}{4}$ in.
 - (c) A SAILOR. A sailor lad in hat, shirt, and breeches, sitting on a wall with bare feet hanging down, and his hands behind him. Signed J. W.
Pencil on gray paper, heightened with white; $8\frac{1}{2} \times 5$ in.
(b) and (c) are examples of the artist's early manner, very closely akin to that of Morland, under whose influence he worked before his election to the Royal Academy.

19. SCENE IN CADZOW FOREST. A rough slope with trees among brakes and boulders, rising r. from a wooded valley that swells up l. to a moor beyond; higher hills on the horizon. Inscribed left of Cadzow [sic] C[astle ?]. Signed J. Ward (in monogram) R.A.
Pen and sepia over black chalk, with sepia wash; roy., $8\frac{5}{8} \times 11\frac{1}{4}$ in.
20. A WILTSHIRE PEASANT. Half-length of an oldish man, clean shaven, with curly hair under a soft felt hat, seen in profile turned l., the body (in waistcoat and shirt-sleeves) stooping somewhat forward. Signed J. Ward (in monogram) R.A.
Black and red chalks on gray paper, heightened with white; roy., $16\frac{3}{8} \times 11\frac{1}{2}$ in.
21. Two on one mount, roy., viz. :—
(a) A COUNTRY BOY. A boy in rough clothes, heavy boots, and hat with turned-down brim, standing by a chair, with an arm resting on the back of it and a foot on one of the crosspieces; he faces to front, half smiling. Signed J. W., R.A.
Black chalk on brown paper, touched with white; $10\frac{1}{2} \times 7$ in.
(b) A COUNTRY GIRL. A young girl, wearing straw hat and cape, carrying a jug in one hand and a glass in the other; in a three-quarter pose, turned l. Signed J. Ward (in monogram) R.A.
Black chalk on brown paper, touched with white; $11 \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Early studies in Morland's manner. The signature was doubtless added later, when the artist had been elected R.A.
22. Two on one mount, roy., viz. :—
(a) A BOY'S HEAD. Head of a country boy wearing a cap over curly hair and looking r., in three-quarter face. Signed J. W., R.A.
Pencil on brown paper, touched with white; $5\frac{3}{8} \times 4\frac{3}{8}$ in.
Early study of the same period as the two last.
(b) HEAD OF AN OLD WOMAN. Head of a very old woman with handkerchief tied over her head and under her chin, looking up r. in three-quarter face. Inscribed J. Ward (in monogram) R.A., at the Cavern, Derbyshire.
Pen and ink sketch; $4\frac{3}{4} \times 5\frac{3}{4}$ in.
23. MARY THOMAS, WELSH FASTING WOMAN. An old woman lying in bed under low rafters, her withered head propped on pillows and looking r., and a fleshless hand laid across her chest. Inscribed Mary Thomas of Tanrall near Barmouth, the fasting woman, 82 years old; been in Bed since she was 15 years old, 10 years without tasting anything to eat or drink. J. Ward (in monogram) R.A. Drawn Sep^r. 2^d 1807. With further notes in shorthand.
Pencil; roy., $10\frac{3}{8} \times 14\frac{1}{2}$ in.
24. GEORGE III.'S CHARGER ADONIS; STUDY FOR AN EQUESTRIAN PORTRAIT. The horse is seen from the side, facing l., and pawing the ground; the rider is partly sketched in. Signed J. W., R.A.
Black chalk on gray paper, heightened with white; roy., $11\frac{3}{8} \times 14$ in.
On the back of the mount is the artist's note: Study from Nature. King George the third's Charger Adonis.
25. PRIMROSE, A BROOD MARE. Seen from the side, facing r. With two small slight studies of the same animal. Signed J. W., R.A., and inscribed Primrose, Brood Mare.
Pencil; roy., $7\frac{1}{4} \times 11\frac{1}{8}$ in.
26. SHEET OF STUDIES OF A DOG. Studies of a terrier in various attitudes. Signed J. W., R.A., and inscribed Mr. Gell's dog, Pisa. Hopton, Feb^r 1825. Also with notes in shorthand.
Pencil; roy., $7\frac{1}{2} \times 10\frac{1}{4}$ in.
Nos. 1-26 were purchased June, 1885. All from the collection of Mrs. E. M. Ward, the artist's granddaughter.
27. ANN MOORE, THE TUTBURY FASTING WOMAN. An old woman with large bony features, seen to the waist, nearly in profile, looking r., a shawl wrapped round both head and body. Signed J. W., R.A.
Black and red chalk on gray paper, heightened with white; roy., $8\frac{3}{4} \times 8$ in.

28. STUDIES FOR A PICTURE OF BULL-BAITING. Four heads of rustic sportsmen in various positions; at the r. study of a man in shirt-sleeves (the head not showing) with a dog in his arms. Inscribed in pencil Gentlemen of the fancy, and in ink J. W., R.A. Studys for a Bull-bait.
Black chalk on brown paper, touched with white; roy., $6\frac{1}{2} \times 9\frac{3}{4}$ in.
Probably studies for the picture 'Bull-bait,' exhibited at the Royal Academy 1797. The signature was doubtless added after the artist had become R.A., as in the case of the other early drawings described above, Nos. 21 (a) and 21 (b).
Nos. 27 and 28 were purchased November, 1884.
29. KENILWORTH FARMHOUSE. A farmyard with the long brick and timber farmhouse along the r.; a cart loaded with hay stands before the projecting porch in the centre; at the l. a shed, and ricks beyond; in the r. foreground a pond towards which a flock of geese is coming. Inscribed, with shorthand notes and Kenilworth farmhouse, J. Ward (in monogram) R.A.
Water colours, unfinished; imp., $14\frac{3}{4} \times 23\frac{1}{4}$ in.
30. A HERON FLYING. A heron with wings spread out rising in the air. Signed J. W., R.A.
Pen and ink and water colours; imp., $13 \times 19\frac{3}{4}$ in.
31. POLLARD WILLOWS. A pond with reedy banks overhung r. and l. by leaning pollard willows. Signed J. Ward (in monogram) R.A.
Black chalk on gray paper, heightened with white; imp., $11\frac{3}{8} \times 19\frac{3}{4}$ in.
32. CAYNE WATERFALL, WALES; AFTER GIRTIN. A stream plunging down rocky ledges in a cascade; from a pool at the foot r. the water swirls into the foreground among the stones; trees on the banks and slopes on either side. Inscribed J. Ward (in monogram) R.A. Cayne Waterfall.
Water colours and reed pen; atl., $18\frac{3}{4} \times 25\frac{3}{4}$ in.
See in this catalogue under Girtin, No. 55. Though Ward was by six years the senior, there seems no doubt that the present drawing was copied from the younger artist; the trees, etc., are elaborated from what are only slight suggestions in the Girtin, which is far superior in precision and delicacy. It is in Ward's later style, and probably made after Girtin's death (1802).
Nos. 29-32 were purchased June, 1885. From the collection of Mrs. E. M. Ward.
33. HORSE AND BOA-CONSTRUCTOR. A horse stamping with pain and tearing in fury with his teeth the head of an enormous boa-constructor twisted round his body. Signed J. W., R.A.
Black and white chalk on drab paper; ant., $20\frac{1}{4} \times 32\frac{1}{4}$ in.
Purchased May, 1870.
34. THE VICTORY OF LORD DUNCAN AT CAMPERDOWN; ENGRAVER'S OUTLINE AFTER THE PICTURE BY J. S. COPLEY. Outline drawing (squared out) for the mezzotint engraved by the artist and published August 1, 1800.
Pencil; $23\frac{1}{2} \times 30$ in.
Placed with proofs of the mezzotint in Vol. IV. of the collection of the artist's engravings presented by himself to the department, 1817.
35. THE DESCENT OF THE SWAN. The arch of a bridge over a river, with two swans on the water and another flying down to join them. (The descent of the swan seeking his own element; illustration to Coxes's 'Social Day.')
Pen and ink, with Indian-ink wash; $5\frac{5}{8} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Inserted in Vol. VII. (No. 130) of the interleaved and illustrated Royal Academy Catalogues, presented by J. H. Anderdon, Esq., November, 1867.

WARD, S. (worked about 1769). Draughtsman; worked at Yarmouth.

1. VIEW OF A CHURCH. N.E. view of a small church with tower and spire, from outside the churchyard; trees r. and l. and buildings among them l.; a few figures in the foreground. An oval, signed and dated on the margin S. Ward fecit 1769.
Pen and ink; roy., $3\frac{3}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Presented by Sir Reginald Beauchamp, Bart., June, 1882.

WARREN, Charles (b. 1767, d. 1823). Engraver and draughtsman; much employed as an engraver of book illustrations; worked in London.

1. PORTRAIT OF SAMUEL SCOTT, THE AMERICAN DIVER. Whole-length, standing, turned to r., one hand in coat pocket, wearing a hat and ordinary clothes. Beneath, a sketch of Southwark Bridge and Scott diving from a scaffold in the centre of it. Inscribed Samuel Scott the American diver: jumped off a scaffold erected over the centre arch of Southwark Bridge into the river during the hard frost. Decr. 26th 1840. C. Warren del.

Indian-ink wash and pen; $8\frac{3}{4} \times 6\frac{3}{8}$ in.

Samuel G. Scott, b. 1813, served as a sailor on English and American frigates, then became a professional diver; made leaps of several hundred feet into the water below Niagara Falls, from the cliffs of Cornwall, masts of ships, and Southwark Bridge; before diving from Waterloo Bridge, January 11th. 1841, he strangled himself by accident in performing his trick of a mock execution.

Placed with Portraits. Purchased March, 1851.

[2-5] Drawings in the Crace Collection of London Views, purchased November, 1880.

2. NEW ORDNANCE OFFICE, S. SIDE OF PALL MALL, 1850.
Water colours; $6\frac{1}{4} \times 9\frac{1}{4}$ in.
No. 51 in Portfolio XI.
3. JAMES CHRISTIE'S OLD AUCTION ROOM AS IT APPEARED IN 1808.
Water colours; $6\frac{1}{2} \times 7$ in.

WATSON, Caroline (b. 1760, d. 1814). Engraver; daughter of James Watson, the mezzotinter; born in London; made drawings from pictures, which she engraved in mezzotint or stipple; engraver to Queen Charlotte; worked in London.

1. PORTRAIT OF WILLIAM WOOLLETT; AFTER GILBERT STUART. Half-length, turned l., seated engraving the plate of 'The Death of Wolfe,' West's picture partly seen beside him l.; the face is in three-quarters, turned l., the eyes looking up r.; wearing red morning cap and wrapper.
Water colours on vellum, highly finished; roy., $5 \times 3\frac{3}{4}$ in.
Engraved in stipple by the artist and published 1785.
Purchased August, 1868.

WATSON, William Smellie (b. 1796, d. 1874). Painter; born at Edinburgh; pupil of his father, George Watson; studied in London for some years from 1815; afterwards painted portraits and domestic subjects in Edinburgh; original member of the Royal Scottish Academy.

1. KELSO, SCOTLAND. A stream coming into the foreground under a one-arched bridge, at either end of which are houses; beyond, a bare slope rising l. and a hill with three cones in the distance; two figures on the bridge, two more on a road leading to the houses at the r.
Water colours; roy., $9 \times 12\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Purchased October, 1881.

WATTS, George Frederick, R.A. (b. 1817, d. 1904). Painter, sculptor, and lithographer; born in London, of a family settled at Hereford; frequented the studio of Behnes the sculptor, but self-taught; gained prizes in the competition for decorating the Houses of Parliament, 1842 and 1848; worked in Italy, chiefly at Florence, 1843-47, afterwards in London; exhibited at the Royal Academy and elsewhere 1837-1904; elected A.R.A. and R.A. 1867; painted a great series of portraits, including most of the eminent persons of his day, and a number of mythical, heroic, and allegorical subjects, as well as landscapes; executed a large fresco for Lincoln's Inn Hall, and some important works in sculpture; unrivalled in the English School for range and nobility of imagination.

Pencil; roy., 7×10 in.

Study for the cartoon which obtained in 1842 one of the three prizes for the decoration of the Houses of Parliament. The fresco was never executed, and the cartoon was cut up and sold. Portions were shown at the Watts exhibition at Burlington House, 1905.

2. STUDY FOR A PICTURE OF THE CRUCIFIXION. Christ, a beardless figure, hangs on the cross, gazing up towards the r.; at the l. one of the thieves crucified, with head hanging on his breast; at the r. the other thief (slightly sketched). Signed Watts.

Pencil; roy., $9\frac{1}{2} \times 10\frac{3}{4}$ in.

Nos. 1 and 2 were purchased May, 1885.

3. STUDY FOR 'TIME AND OBLIVION' (1848). Study of an arm holding a staff, and two studies of a wrist; also a faint sketch of a woman's head.

Pencil; roy., $9 \times 7\frac{1}{4}$ in.

4. CORIOLANUS; STUDY FOR A FRESCO AT BOWOOD. Coriolanus in the centre stands hesitating, while his wife and child cling to him and his mother addresses him; groups of women and children kneel in supplication r.; at the l. Aufidius and two Volscians and, beyond, a man on horseback and a soldier with a spear.

Red chalk; $2\frac{1}{4} \times 9\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Painted in fresco at Bowood, the Wiltshire seat of the Marquis of Lansdowne.

5. STUDY OF DRAPERY FOR THE FRESCO IN THE HALL OF LINCOLN'S INN; Four studies of drapery.

Pencil; roy., 10×7 in.

6. THE HOURS; STUDY FOR THE PICTURE OF 'CHAOS.' Two slight studies of a circling chain of floating forms with hands joined. Inscribed Chain of Time. Chaos.

Pencil; roy., $10\frac{1}{2} \times 14\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Study for the picture now in the National Gallery of British Art.

7. STUDIES OF DRAPERY.

Black and white chalk on blue paper; roy., $16\frac{3}{4} \times 11$ in.

8. STUDY OF DRAPERY.

Red and white chalk on blue paper; roy., $11 \times 8\frac{1}{4}$ in.

9. STUDIES OF DRAPERY. Two studies.

Black and white chalk on brown paper; roy., $9\frac{1}{4} \times 14\frac{1}{2}$ in.

10. STUDY OF A HAND, ETC. Study of a hand (for a portrait?), with two studies of a sleeve.
Black and white chalk on brown paper; roy., $14\frac{1}{2} \times 11$ in.
11. STUDY OF FEET. Study of the feet of a standing figure. Perhaps a study for the picture of 'Psyche,' though in this drawing the feet are not side by side nor quite close together.
Black chalk on brown paper; roy., $12 \times 14\frac{3}{4}$ in.
12. 'NOAH': TWO STUDIES FOR THE PICTURE 'THE SACRIFICE OF NOAH.' Two studies of the figure, with r. hand raised and eyes uplifted.
Black and white chalk on pinkish gray paper; roy., $17\frac{3}{4} \times 11\frac{3}{4}$ in.
13. STUDY OF A HEAD. Head of a young man, bent a little on one side, frowning and looking up r. At the l. small study of the lower part of a man's body. Inscribed very early.
Black chalk on light brown paper; imp., $21\frac{1}{2} \times 15\frac{1}{4}$ in.
Perhaps a study for one of the figures in 'Caractacus,' the artist's Westminster Cartoon, exhibited 1843.
14. NUDE STUDY. Study of a male figure seated, turned towards the l., the r. arm resting on r. thigh, l. hand by l. hip. The extremities are not drawn in, nor the head.
Black chalk on brown paper, heightened with pink and white; imp., $21\frac{3}{4} \times 14\frac{1}{4}$ in.
Possibly a first idea for 'Samson.'
15. Ob. STUDY OF A DRAPED FIGURE. A tall draped figure seen from behind, with l. arm outstretched, and head turned towards the r.
White and black chalk on brown paper; imp., $23 \times 14\frac{3}{4}$ in.
This figure recalls the figure of Death in the picture of 'Love and Death' (1879), but is turned the other way, and the pose of the head is different.
Rev. ORPHEUS AND EURYDICE; STUDY FOR THE PICTURE (1869). Orpheus clasping the fainting Eurydice in his arms. Whole-length figures. A rough sketch.
* Black chalk.
16. SHEET OF NUDE STUDIES. Two studies of a nude woman seated on the ground, with head on hand and arms on knee. With three smaller studies of a torso and one of a knee.
Black chalk on brown paper; imp., $22\frac{1}{2} \times 14\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Probably, with the next sheet, first thoughts for 'The Childhood of Zeus.'
17. SHEET OF STUDIES. Nude studies of a woman seated, leaning back, turned r.; a woman seated, turned l., with face to front, l. hand on thigh; and other studies of a torso and legs.
Black chalk on brown paper; imp., $14\frac{1}{2} \times 22\frac{1}{2}$ in.
18. TWO STUDIES FOR THE FIGURE OF HERA IN THE PICTURE OF 'OLYMPUS ON IDA' (1885). Two nude studies of a woman facing to front with r. arm lifted above the head (the face and extremities not drawn in).
Black chalk on brown paper; imp., $22\frac{1}{2} \times 13$ in.
19. STUDY FOR THE FIGURE OF DEATH IN 'TIME, DEATH, AND JUDGMENT.' A standing figure facing to front entirely wrapped in drapery except for the r. shoulder.
Black chalk on brown paper; imp., $22\frac{1}{4} \times 13\frac{3}{4}$ in.
20. SHEET OF NUDE STUDIES. Two studies of a nude female figure, seen from the back and r., with head inclined forward and r. arm lifted. The extremities not drawn in. With four smaller studies for parts of the same figure.
Black chalk on brown paper; imp., $22\frac{1}{2} \times 14\frac{1}{4}$ in.
21. STUDIES FOR 'THE CREATION OF EVE' (1899), etc. Study of the head and bust of a woman of classic type, in profile, looking r. Below, a rough outline of the same head, and three studies (two very slight) of the sleeping figure of Adam for 'The Creation of Eve.'
Black chalk on brown paper; imp., $22 \times 14\frac{1}{2}$ in.
The 'Creation of Eve' is now in the collection of Edmund Davis, Esq.

22. THREE STUDIES OF THE SAME HEAD, PERHAPS FOR 'TIME AND OBLIVION.' Studies of a youthful male head inclined l., with tossing locks of hair and eyes closed.
Black chalk on brown paper; imp., $22\frac{1}{4} \times 14\frac{1}{2}$ in.
A reminiscence, perhaps, of the antique head of the Dying Alexander in the Uffizi.
23. SHEET OF STUDIES. Studies of arms, with two studies of an open hand.
Black chalk on brown paper; imp., $14\frac{1}{2} \times 22$ in.
24. STUDY FOR A PICTURE. Nude study of a woman standing turned to front and l., the face looking down l. (the extremities not drawn in). With two separate studies for the legs.
White and black chalk on brown paper; imp., $22\frac{1}{4} \times 14\frac{1}{2}$ in.
25. SHEET OF STUDIES. A nude male figure standing by a broken column; a youth draped and seated; a figure squatting on the ground, and, below, a figure kneeling and bending forward.
White and black chalk on brown paper; imp., $14 \times 21\frac{3}{4}$ in.
26. STUDIES OF A MALE TORSO. Three studies of a male torso.
Black chalk on brown paper; imp., $22\frac{1}{4} \times 14\frac{1}{2}$ in.
27. NUDE STUDY. Whole-length nude study of a woman standing, facing to front with l. arm behind her back. With separate study of a leg.

28. STUDY FOR 'BRITOMART AND THE NURSE.' Britomart is represented standing at the l., facing to the front, and holding up a magic crystal: the shapes which she sees appear in procession behind, moving towards the l.; at the r. Sir Arthegall unarmed and bareheaded on a great horse, and Sir Guyon riding beside him; the palmer walks in front at the l. with head bent; beyond, the head of a knight is seen above the palmer, and above Sir Arthegall's horse the heads of a knight and lady riding side by side; above all these the figures of the Red Cross knight and Una are indicated in two places by a light outline. In the foreground r. the Nurse reclines in a low chair asleep, a great book lying open between her and Britomart. Inscribed Britomart.
Pencil; atl., $23\frac{3}{4} \times 17\frac{1}{4}$ in.
The whole design was altered in the finished picture (1878), Britomart being shown seated, with her back to an actual mirror of large size, in which the nurse, sitting beside her with reverted head, sees and describes the images of the personages of the 'Faerie Queene' somewhat differently arranged, and passing in reverse direction from this design, i.e., from l. to r.
29. SHEET OF STUDIES FROM THE NUDE. Two studies of a male torso seen from the side, and turned r., the back bent in effort, and r. arm stretched out. Below, studies of an arm and shoulders and a male torso, and two studies of a leg.
White chalk (with black chalk added in one study) on dark gray paper; atl., $25\frac{1}{2} \times 19\frac{1}{2}$ in.
30. STUDIES OF AN ARM FOR 'THE MESSENGER,' ALSO CALLED 'THE MESSAGE OF PEACE' (1891). Two studies of the right arm, hanging down with pointing finger, of the figure of Death.
Black and white chalk on brown paper; ant., $29 \times 22\frac{1}{4}$ in.
The picture is now in the Whitworth Institute, Manchester.
31. STUDIES FOR 'THE CHILDHOOD OF ZEUS' (1896). A sheet of nude studies for the nymphs surrounding the infant Zeus, none of the figures agreeing exactly with any of those in the picture, though the principal study gives the attitude of the nymph in the l. foreground of the picture (except for the pose of the head); besides this there are seven studies, more or less fragmentary, for seated figures, a study of a knee, etc.
Black chalk on brown paper; ant., $29\frac{1}{4} \times 22\frac{1}{2}$ in.
32. STUDIES OF A SUPINE FIGURE. Sheet of seven studies (some slight and partial) of a man lying on his back, with head towards the l. and one knee raised.
Black chalk, with touches of white, on brown paper; ant., $22 \times 26\frac{1}{2}$ in.

33. STUDY OF LEGS. Large nude study, from hips to feet, of a woman standing and facing to front, with alternative studies at the side.
Black and white chalk on brown paper; ant., $29\frac{1}{4} \times 22\frac{1}{4}$ in.
Possibly a study for 'Psyche.'
34. STUDIES FOR A PICTURE. Life-size study of throat, breast and shoulders of a woman, turned l.; inscribed Miss W. With two small studies below of a woman in full draperies carrying a pitcher on her head; inscribed with notes of colour.
Black and white chalk on brown paper; ant., 29×22 in.
35. Ob. STUDY OF AN ARM. Life-size study of a man's arm from the shoulder to a little below the elbow.
Black and white chalk on brown paper; ant., $29\frac{1}{4} \times 22\frac{1}{4}$ in.
Perhaps a study for the arm of 'Hyperion.'
- Rev.* FOUR STUDIES OF A MAN'S LEFT ARM.
Black and white chalk.
36. STUDY OF AN ARM. Life-size study of a bent r. arm (apparently a woman's), with suggestion of drapery at the shoulder.
Black and white chalk; ant., $28 \times 21\frac{1}{4}$ in.

Sepia wash and pen on gray paper, touched with yellow body colours; imp., 11¼ × 15¾ in.

13. SCENE IN A RIVER GORGE. A shallow stream, beyond which rise abrupt cliffs of rock tufted with bushes; in the foreground r. two figures under a tree; a clump of trees l. Signed R. W.

Sepia wash and pen on gray paper, heightened with white; imp., 11½ × 16 in.

14. COTTAGE AND TREES. A cottage with small fenced enclosure on a slope r. with dense trees on a bank behind it; at the l. a shady pathway.

Sepia wash and pen over black chalk on gray paper, heightened with white; imp., 15¾ × 11½ in.

15. THE BOAR THAT KILLED ADONIS BROUGHT BEFORE VENUS. The goddess reclining in a cloud l. looks ruefully on the boar, dragged before her by scarlet cords held in the hands of Cupids, two of them pulling in the foreground l., two on a cloud above under crimson hangings, with two more playing about them, while yet another pair hover over the boar, the foremost threatening him with a bow; at the r. a glimpse of forest, in the l. foreground the head and shoulders of the dead Adonis lying on the grass. Signed and dated R. Westall, 1790.

Water colours, highly finished, brightened with white; atl., 23¾ × 18¾ in.

Engraved in stipple by William Holl, and in line on a small scale by T. Hollis.

16. QUEEN JUDITH RELATING TO ALFRED THE GREAT WHEN A CHILD THE SONGS OF THE BARDS, DESCRIBING THE HEROIC DEEDS OF HIS ANCESTORS. In a stone chamber looking out on a river and mountain at twilight the boy Alfred, dressed in a tawny tunic and sandals, kneels at his mother's feet, listening, as she speaks with one hand on a great book, the other uplifted; on the low throne beside her sits King Ethelwolf in a crimson robe, and leaning on the back of the throne beyond the king, stands a monk holding his hand over his mouth. Signed and dated R. Westall, 1799, also inscribed N. 12. J. T. S.

Water colours, highly finished, brightened with white; atl., 26 × 20½ in.

The queen in question was more probably not Alfred's step-mother Judith, but his own mother Osburh.

17. CARDINAL BOUCHIER, ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY, AND ROTHERAM, ARCHBISHOP OF YORK, ENDEAVOURING TO PERSUADE THE QUEEN, ELIZABETH GREY, TO SUFFER HER SON THE DUKE OF YORK TO LEAVE THE SANCTUARY OF WESTMINSTER. The cardinal and archbishop, in their robes, stand r., exhorting the queen who, dressed in black, kneels before a statue of the Virgin, clasping her boy in her arms; she turns her head back to the two priests with tearful indignation; behind her a woman weeps with bowed head by the statue; in the background a great tomb with an effigy in armour. Signed and dated R. Westall, 1799.

Water colours, highly finished; atl., $26 \times 20\frac{5}{8}$ in.

Exhibited at the Royal Academy 1800, No. 429. Engraved by the artist and published December 1, 1802.

Nos. 11-17 were bequeathed by R. Payne Knight, Esq., 1824.

WESTALL, William, A.R.A. (b. 1781, d. 1850). Topographical painter, engraver and lithographer; born at Hertford; younger brother and pupil of the preceding; went as draughtsman to an exploring expedition in Australia; worked in China, India, Madeira, and Jamaica; after 1807 in various parts of England; exhibited foreign and English views, chiefly in water colours, at the Old Water-Colour Society and at the Royal Academy; elected A.R.A. 1812; illustrated a number of topographical publications.

1. THE TIRED SPORTSMAN. A young man asleep in an armchair by a table at which l. sits an old lady pouring out tea; two girls enter from the r., the foremost, with her hat in her hand, bending over the sleeper: in the foreground two dogs and a gun and hat r.; a screen stands behind the old lady, and behind is a large mullioned window. Signed W. Westall, ii.

Water colours, highly finished; roy., $8\frac{3}{4} \times 7\frac{1}{4}$ in.

William Westall is not known as a painter of this class of subject, but as he was a pupil of his brother he may well have worked occasionally in this style. The ii after the signature is puzzling. Possibly it may stand for 1811. There is no trace of any second W. Westall who was an artist.

Presented by Sir A. W. Franks, K.C.B., October, 1891.

2. RIVAUUX ABBEY, YORKSHIRE. View in the nave of the ruin, looking through a great arch to cottages in a wooded valley, from which a path leads up through the abbey; on the path some cows, and nearer the foreground a girl with a baby; beyond, a woman carrying a basket, and children on the grass slope.

Water colours; atl., $23\frac{1}{8} \times 18\frac{5}{8}$ in.

Purchased July, 1878.

3. THE ARGYLL CONCERT ROOM IN REGENT STREET.

Pencil and sepia; $5 \times 7\frac{1}{2}$ in.

No. 35 in Portfolio XXIX. of the Crace Collection of London Views, purchased November, 1880.

WESTLAKE, Nathaniel Hubert John (worked about 1857).
Draughtsman; biography unknown.

1. ULRICA AND FRONT-DE-BŒUF, ILLUSTRATION TO SCOTT'S 'IVANHOE.' Front-de-Bœuf lying on his death-bed in a low-vaulted room, and shaking his fist at Ulrica, who stands l. leaning on a staff, and telling him of the fire she has lighted, the smoke from which rolls in through a window between them.

Signed and dated N. H. J. Westlake, Invt. 1857.

Purchased May, 1878.

WESTMACOTT, Sir Richard, R.A. (b. 1775, d. 1856). Sculptor; born in London; pupil of his father, also a sculptor, and in Rome of Canova; exhibited at the Royal Academy 1797–1839; elected A.R.A. 1805, R.A. 1811; knighted 1837; won great success by his numerous monuments, portrait-busts, and statues; author of the ‘Achilles’ in Hyde Park, and the Duke of York’s statue in Waterloo Place; worked in London.

1. THE PROGRESS OF CIVILISATION; DESIGN FOR THE PEDIMENT OF THE BRITISH MUSEUM. At the l. extremity of the pediment, Primitive Man, with crocodile and bear at his feet, looks up at Religion, a winged figure, offering him a lamp. (Underneath, Man redeemed from a savage state by Religion.) Next at the r. a man clad in skins with an Esquimaux dog, and another man ploughing with an ox. (Underneath, He becomes a hunter for his food; he tills the ground.) Next, Architecture and Sculpture seated and Painting standing. (Underneath, Knowledge of God is lost, and Idolatry propagated through Sculpture and Painting.) In the centre, Astronomy, holding rod and globe with armillary sphere at her feet. (Underneath, Astronomy was cultivated at a very early period by the Egyptians, Chaldeans, and Assyrians); next, at the r. Science, a male figure seated, compasses in hand. (Underneath, Science became established on sound principles through the study of Mathematics); then three female figures, Drama, holding a mask, and Poetry with Music, seated together. (Underneath, Then followed the Liberal Arts as the Drama, Poetry, and Music.) Next, Natural History, a reclining figure with one hand on an elephant’s skull, ostrich and panther beside him. (Underneath, . . . the Head of an Elephant.—Terminating with Natural History); at the r. extremity of the pediment two children with flowers and sea-shells, and finally a tortoise, cormorant, and floating nautilus. (Underneath these last, Omitted, R. W.)

Sepia wash and pen with blue background, touched with yellow in parts; 11 × 89½ in. (without margin). The pediment was completed in 1847. The tympanum was painted blue.

Purchased May, 1887.

WHEATLEY, Francis, R.A. (b. 1747, d. 1801). Painter; born in London; studied at the Royal Academy; worked when young with J. H. Mortimer, whom he helped in decorative paintings; painted small portraits, landscapes, sentimental and rustic scenes, also scenes from contemporary history and pictures for Boydell’s Shakespeare Gallery; worked in London, except for an interval of some years in Dublin; elected A.R.A. 1790, R.A. 1791; his pictures had great vogue through engravings.

1. HAYMAKING. A girl in a straw hat, with white apron over her tucked-up skirt, raking hay in a meadow which stretches away to a river r., with a church spire rising over woods l.; her face is seen nearly full, looking straight before her; at some distance l. another woman raking, and a hay-wain. Signed and dated F. Wheatley del., 1800.

2. THE MOWER. A young man in his shirt-sleeves and red waistcoat standing facing towards the r. and whetting his scythe; his dog lies on his coat beside him l.; at the end of the hayfield are trees, a glimpse of water, and a church spire l. Signed and dated F. Wheatley del., 1800.

Water colours; roy., 8½ × 6 in.

Nos. 1 and 2 were purchased July, 1856.

3. YOUNG GLEANERS. Two young girls and a boy in a field; one girl sits on a sheaf, the other girl stands behind her speaking to the boy l. who holds a basket full of gleanings in his hand; beyond l. a path, skirting a hedgerow, r. a windmill on a hill.

Indian ink wash and pen, lightly tinted; roy., 7¼ × 8½ in.

Purchased May, 1870.

4. THE MINIATURE. A young lady lying in bed, her neck and shoulders uncovered and a blue-ribboned night-cap over her curling hair, looks intently at a miniature held in her hands; her face is seen nearly in profile turned l.
Pencil and water colours; roy., $8\frac{3}{8} \times 7\frac{1}{8}$ in.
Purchased October, 1887.
5. JULIE AND ST. PREUX AT MEILLERIE; ILLUSTRATION TO ROUSSEAU'S NOUVELLE HÉLOISE; PART IV., LETTER 17. On a rocky ledge overhanging a torrent which foams down r., St. Preux stands with Julie; she clings to his arm with averted head, as he points to an inscription headed JULIA on the rock behind them; above their heads pine trees hang from the crags, down which leaps a waterfall; mountain-peaks in the distance. Signed and dated F. Wheatley del., 1785.
Indian ink wash and pen, lightly tinted; imp., $20\frac{1}{2} \times 14\frac{3}{4}$ in.
Etched by the artist, the print being completed in aquatint by Jukes and Pollard.
6. ILLUSTRATION TO THE NOUVELLE HÉLOISE. Julie sitting on the ground with a spaniel at her feet and basket beside her, while her lover sits beside her l. under an old tree playing on a pipe; beyond the rocky edge where they sit is a gulf filled by the foam of a torrent which pours down from a mountain behind; a goat and two sheep in the foreground r. Signed and dated F. Wheatley del., 1786.
Indian ink wash and pen, lightly tinted; imp., $20\frac{1}{2} \times 15\frac{1}{4}$ in.
Nos. 5 and 6 were purchased October, 1866.
Attributed to Wheatley.
7. WOMEN WASHING CLOTHES IN A STREAM. A cottage l. on the bank of a stream; in the foreground two women standing in the water washing linen, a kneeling figure on the bank and two other women standing on the bank l.; two men and a donkey by the cottage; at the r. wooded slopes, and cattle in the water; an empty boat in the r. foreground. Signed F. Wheatley, R.A., but the signature is false.
Water colours; imp., $14\frac{3}{4} \times 19\frac{5}{8}$ in.
This drawing seems to be an enlarged copy or adaptation (with two figures, the cattle, and the donkey added) from the drawing by W. P. Sherlock described above, under that artist's name, No. 14.
Purchased February, 1880.

WHITE, John (worked about 1585–1593). Painter and colonial pioneer; one of the first settlers in Virginia, to which he made five voyages, and of which he was for some time Governor; probably made earlier journeys to the East of Europe and to Greenland; retired after 1590 to Raleigh's estates in Ireland.

1. ALBUM, containing drawings in water colours, entitled, in the artist's hand-writing, The pictures of sondry things collected and counterfeited according to the truth in the voyage made by Sr. Walter Raleigh knight, for the discovery of LA VIRGINEA. In the 27th yeare of the most happie reigne of our Souveraigne lady Queene ELIZABETH, and in the yeare of o^r. Lord God 1585.

In 1584 the part of America now known as North Carolina was discovered by Amidas and Barlow, in two English ships sent out by Sir W. Raleigh. In the following year, having secured a patent for colonising this country, which, in honour of Queen Elizabeth, was named Virginia,* Raleigh equipped a fleet of seven ships under the command of Sir Richard Grenville. John White sailed in this expedition, and remained a whole year in Virginia, as one of the 107 men who made up Raleigh's 'First Colonie,' till in July, 1586, all the settlers were, at their own request, taken back to England by Sir Francis Drake, then returning victorious from the West Indies. In April, 1587, Raleigh fitted out a larger expedition (the 'Second Colonie'), with John White as Governor. They landed at Roanoke 20 July, but met with so many difficulties that on 27 August White departed for England to obtain help and instructions. He left behind with the colony his daughter, who had become the mother of the first English child born in English North America, Virginia Dare. Arriving in England in November he applied to Raleigh, who got ready a fleet at Bideford; but before it could start, news of the proposed Spanish invasion by the Armada caused the Government to detain all ships fit for war. White could only procure two small pinnaces, the Brave and the Roe, which he sent out on 22 April, 1588, himself remaining in England. The crews of the two boats turned south in search of prizes, were worsted in fight, and came back in a month. A last expedition sailed in 1590 under White to relieve the colony, but failed to find any trace of it.

The series of drawings now to be described includes not only, as the title states, studies made in Virginia and on the voyage, but studies of natives of Florida, of Greenland, and of the Caucasus. These have every appearance of being drawn from life; and we must assume that White collected here studies made on various previous or subsequent journeys. In the letter written by him to Hakluyt in February, 1593, and printed by the latter in his 'Voyages' (Vol. III., p. 287), White describes the ill-success of his 'fift and last voyage to Virginia,' and continues: 'Yet seeing it is not my first crossed voyage, I remaine contented'; from which one may infer that he had travelled much in his time. He could have seen Esquimaux on one of Frobisher's voyages in search of a North-West Passage, 1576, 1577, and 1578. Davis' voyages in the same regions were undertaken in the very years of Raleigh's expedition to Virginia. The natives of the Caucasus and Astrakhan must have been seen and drawn on one of the journeys made through Russia for the discovery of new trade routes; for twenty years from 1558 onwards, when Anthony Jenkinson travelled through Russia to Bactria, such missions were frequently undertaken by English merchants.

Twenty-three of the present drawings were engraved in the first volume of Theodore de Bry's 'America' (Frankfort-A.-M. 1590). De Bry came to London in 1587 to procure from a French painter in Raleigh's service, Jacques Le Moyne (who had accompanied Laudonnière's ill-fated expedition to Florida, 1564-65), materials for illustrating an edition of Laudonnière's Journal. The negotiation failed; but Le Moyne dying in 1588, De Bry, on a second visit to London, procured the drawings from his widow. At the same time he made the acquaintance of Richard Hakluyt, who introduced him to John White. De Bry was persuaded by Hakluyt to modify his plan, and instead of publishing Laudonnière's Journal separately, to make a collection of voyages, beginning with a reprint of Hariot's 'Report on Virginia,' illustrated with White's drawings.

- (1) MAP OF THE EAST COAST OF NORTH AMERICA, from the mouth of Chesapeake Bay to Cape Florida. Inscribed La Virginia Pars; with the arms of Sir Walter Raleigh. The English ships are shown sailing along the coast; whales, dolphins, etc. are represented in the sea.

Water colours, with pen outlines; $14\frac{1}{2} \times 18\frac{1}{2}$ in.

In this and the other larger drawings which have been folded within the book, pressure and saturation by water have caused one side to print off on the other. See note on Album No. 2.

- (2) MAP OF THE SAME COAST ON A LARGER SCALE, from Chesapeake Bay to Cape Look-out. Inscribed Virginea Pars. The places visited by the settlers are coloured red.

Water colours, with pen outlines; $18\frac{3}{4} \times 9\frac{1}{4}$ in.

A map of the same district, made apparently from a different drawing, is engraved by De Bry, Virginia, Pl. I.

- (3) PLAN OF A FORTIFIED CAMP ON ST. JOHN'S ISLAND. Inscribed on a vermilion-bordered tablet in the upper l. corner: The xjth of Maie the Generall in the Tyger arrived at St. John's Iland where he fortified in this manner, toke in fresh water, and buylt a Pynnes. And then departed from thence the xxiiijth day of the same moneth 1585. Plan of the English camp, bounded on the l. by A fresh ryuer and at the bottom by the sea, above and on the r. by moat and rampart, which are continued along the seashore. The central part of the fort is wooded, with Mr. Lane's quarter, North Side, guarded by armed men, above, and in a similar free space below The Generall's quarter. The Generall (Sir Richard Grenville) is seen at the l. riding among his men on the further side of the river, which some are fording and others have crossed. The Tiger rides at anchor off the fort. At the r. is shown The manner of drawing in of tymber into the fort for the buylding of a Pynnes, a long line of men with a tree-trunk on a truck. Men are shaping the timber inside the fortification. Adjoining the camp r. is a marsh with land-crabs and water-fowl.

Water colours, with pen outlines; $14\frac{1}{4} \times 17\frac{1}{2}$ in.

St. John's, now a Danish possession, is one of the Virgin Islands, east of Puerto Rico. 'The 12 day of May wee came to an anker in the Bay of Moskito, in the Island of St. John, within a Faulcon shot of the shoare; where our Generall Sir Richard Greeneuil, and the most part of our companie landed, and began to fortifie very neere to the Sea side: the river ran by the one side of our forte, and the other two sides were inuironed with woods.' (Hakluyt III., p. 251.)

- (4) PLAN OF A FORT ON THE COAST OF ST. JOHN'S. Inscribed The forme of a fort w^{ch} was made by Mr. Ralfe Lane in a parte of St. John's Ilande neere Capross where we toke in salt the xxvjth of May 1585. Within the fort are two salt hills, one of which men are breaking up with picks and carrying away to a boat on the shore; a captured Spanish frigate lies close by.

Water colours; $12\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{3}{4}$ in.

On May 26 Ralph Lane, Lieutenant Commander of the expedition, sailed in a frigate just taken from the Spaniards to the S.W. side of St. John's, under the guidance of a Spanish pilot; entrenching himself on the sands, he carried off the Spaniards' salt which he had made his trench round: 'Two or three troopes' of Spaniards came and looked on but dared not resist. (Hakluyt III., p. 252.)

- (5) INDIANS FISHING. A shallow lagoon with a weir across it l.; near the foreground a canoe (inscribed A Cannow) laden with fish, with a man standing and paddling at one end, another with a landing-net (?) at the other end, and two more crouching over a fire in the middle; beyond, two men striding knee-deep in the water with long spears; further off, near low shores, a second canoe. Various fish and marine animals are represented in the water, flights of water-fowl in the sky, and in the foreground a beach with flowers and shells at the water's edge. Inscribed The manner of their fishing.

Water colours; $14 \times 9\frac{1}{4}$ in.

Engraved, with additions, by De Bry, Virginia, Pl. 13.

Among the marine animals in the water is the King-Crab, Limulus (now called Xiphosura) polyphemus. The earliest published figure of this animal dates from 1638.

- (6) THE VILLAGE OF SECOTON. Bird's-eye view of the village; a cluster of houses among scattered trees, with three crops of maize inscribed Corne newly sprong, Their greene corne, and Their rype corne; in a corner of the last is a man sitting in a raised hut to scare birds away; in the foreground l. is The house wherein the Tombe of their Herounds standeth and The place of solemne prayer, a circle with a fire in the centre; at the r. A ceremony in their prayers wth strange iestures and songs dancing about posts carued on the topps lyke mens faces, represented as in No. (9); a little beyond, three figures at a meal, Their siting at meate. Inscribed SECOTON.

Water colours; $12\frac{3}{4} \times 7\frac{7}{8}$ in.

Engraved by De Bry, Virginia, Pl. 20.

Secoton appears on the map No. (2) as a village on an inlet some way south of Roanoak. The settlers arrived there on 15 July, 'and were well entertained of the Sauages.' (Hakluyt III., p. 253.)

- (7) POMEIIOC. A circular palisade enclosing a village, with a space in the centre and savages sitting about a fire; groups of men and women gathered about the houses. Inscribed below: The towne of Pomeiock and true forme of their howses, couered and enclosed some wth matts, and some wth barcks of trees. All compassed about wth smale poles stock thick together instedd of a wall.

Water colours; $8\frac{3}{4} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Engraved, with surrounding landscape added, by De Bry, Virginia, Pl. 19.

- (8) A BURIAL HOUSE. A building raised above the ground on wooden posts, and consisting of a single chamber, in which a number of dead bodies are laid side by side; at their feet, at the further end, are cases of matting, and against the wall r. is a wooden image in a seated posture; over the open front of the chamber are mat hangings, looped up; underneath are two hides lying on the ground, and in front a fire of logs. Inscribed The Tombe of their Cherounes or chiefe personages, their flesh clene taken of from the bones saue the skynn and heare of their heads, w^{ch} flesh is dried and enfolded in matts laide at their feete, their bones also being made dry, ar couered wth deare skynns not altering their forme or proportion. With their Kywash, which is an Image of woode keeping the deade.

Water colours; $11\frac{5}{8} \times 5$ in.

Engraved by De Bry, Virginia, Pl. 22. In the print the sepulchral chamber is represented inside a larger building; a worshipping native is added in the foreground.

See 'Mortuary Customs of the North American Indians,' by H. C. Yarrow, Annual Report of the Bureau of Ethnology, Washington, 1891, p. 91.

- (9) A RELIGIOUS DANCE. Men and women dancing in a ring set with seven posts carved at the top like human heads; they hold rattles, branches of trees, or spears: in the centre, three stand embraced with their arms about each other.

Water colours; $10\frac{1}{4} \times 14$ in.

Engraved in reverse by De Bry, Virginia, Pl. 18.

- (10) CEREMONY OF SITTING ROUND A FIRE. Ten men and women sitting or squatting round a fire of logs; most have rattles in their hands.

Water colours; $8\frac{1}{2} \times 8$ in.

Engraved by De Bry with addition of foreground and background, Virginia, Pl. 17.

- (11) COOKING. A large earthenware pot with pointed base, filled with maize, etc., and cooking on a fire of logs. Inscribed The seething of their meate in Potts of earth.

Water colours; $5\frac{3}{4} \times 7\frac{3}{8}$ in.

Engraved with the addition of a man and woman at the sides by De Bry, Virginia, Pl. 15.

- (12) BROILING FISH. Two fish broiling on sticks laid to form a grill on a little scaffold above a fire; two more fish hung on the points of upright sticks at the side. Inscribed The Broyling of their fish over the flame of fier.

Water colours; $5\frac{7}{8} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$ in.

Engraved, with the addition of a man at each side, by De Bry, Virginia, Pl. 14.

- (13) A CHIEF. A chief, tattooed, but naked except for a loin-cloth of hide, standing with a bow in his hand and a quiver at his side. Inscribed The manner of their attire and painting themselves when they goe to their generall huntings or at their solemne feasts.

Water colours; $10\frac{1}{2} \times 6$ in.

Engraved, with a side view of the same figure, and a background, by De Bry, Virginia, Pl. 3.

- (14) WIFE OF A CHIEF. A woman with a loin-cloth of hide carrying a gourd in one hand, the other thrust through her long necklace; beside her, r., is a young girl holding an English doll. Inscribed A chiefe Herowans wyfe of Pomeoc and her daughter of the age of 8 or 10 yeares.

Water colours; $10\frac{3}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Engraved, with alterations and an added background, by De Bry, Virginia, Pl. 8.

- (15) A PRIEST. He stands dressed in a short cloak, which covers one arm leaving the other bare. Inscribed One of their Religious men.

Water colours; $10\frac{3}{8} \times 6$ in.

- (16) A POMEIOC CHIEFTAIN'S WIFE AND CHILD. She is seen from behind carrying her child on her back, with his left leg under her arm. Inscribed The wife of an Herowan of Pomeioc.

Water colours; $10 \times 5\frac{3}{8}$ in.

Engraved, with a front view of the same figure and landscape background, by De Bry, Virginia, Pl. 10. The print is entitled 'Ut Matronæ Dasamonquepeuc liberos gestant.' Dasamonquepeuc is on the coast opposite Roanoke island and some distance from Pomeioc.

- (17) A SOOTHSAYER. In a running attitude; he has a bird with extended wings attached to the side of his head, a hide hanging from his belt in front and a pouch at his side. Inscribed The flyer.
Water colours; $9\frac{3}{4} \times 6$ in.
Engraved, with landscape background, by G. Veen in De Bry's Virginia, Pl. 11.
- (18) ONE OF THE WIVES OF WINGINO. Standing, with hands grasping her shoulders. Inscribed One of the wyues of Wyngyno.
Water colours; $9\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{3}{4}$ in.
Engraved as 'Nobilis Virgo ex Secota,' with another view of the same figure, and landscape background, by G. Veen in De Bry's Virginia, Pl. 6.
Wingino, or Wingina, was chief of the Indians on the coast. On the death of his brother, Granganimeo, who had received Amidas and Barlow with great friendliness, he changed his name to Pemissapan. He was hostile to the colony, and planned a massacre of the settlers, but the plot was foiled by Lane.
- (19) WIFE OF A CHIEFTAIN OF SECOTON. Standing, with arms folded. Inscribed The wyfe of an Herowan of Secoton.
Water colours; $10\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Engraved, with another view of the same figure, and landscape background, by De Bry, Virginia, Pl. 4.
- (20) AN OLD MAN OF POMEIOC. Standing, clothed in a garment of hide passed over one shoulder and falling to the knee. Inscribed The aged man in his wynter garment.
Water colours; $10\frac{3}{8} \times 5\frac{3}{8}$ in.
Engraved with landscape background by De Bry, Virginia, Pl. 9.
- (21) A MEAL. A man and woman seated opposite each other on a mat with a platter of maize between them. Inscribed Their sitting at meate.
Water colours; $8\frac{3}{8} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Engraved, with additions, by De Bry, Virginia, Pl. 16.
- (22) A ROANOKE CHIEFTAIN. Standing, with arms folded, a square tablet, apparently of brass, and probably a gift from the English, hanging at his neck. Inscribed A Chiefe Herowan.
Water colours; $10\frac{3}{8}$ by $5\frac{3}{8}$ in.
Engraved, with another view of the same figure, and landscape background, by De Bry, Virginia, Pl. 7.
- [(23)-(24)] Drawings of natives of Florida, apparently drawn from life, but possibly copied from drawings by Jacques Le Moyne, who accompanied the French expedition to Florida, 1564-65, and whose illustrations to Laudonnière's Journal were engraved in De Bry's America, Part II.
- (23) A WARRIOR OF FLORIDA. A man, elaborately tattooed but naked except for a loin-cloth, holding a bow in one hand and an arrow in the other; his hair is drawn up into a peak with a white plume drooping from the top; he has small brass plates tied in bracelets round elbows and knees, a larger one hanging on his breast; a full quiver hangs at his back. Inscribed Of Florida.
Water colours; $10\frac{3}{8} \times 5\frac{3}{8}$ in.
- (24) A WOMAN OF FLORIDA. Standing, with a shallow bowl of fruit in one hand and a heap of corn-cobs in the other; she is tattooed in a pattern, and wears a blue garment of feathers, hanging in long tails, and arranged over one shoulder. Inscribed Of Florida.
Water colours; $10\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{3}{8}$ in.
- [(25)-(29)] Drawings of Ancient Britons. The appearance of the painted Indians seems to have reminded White of what he had read of the woad-stained Britons, and to have suggested these drawings. De Bry published some of them as a supplement to his Virginia ad demonstrandum, Britanniae incolas non minus aliquando fuisse sylvestres ipsis Virginiensibus.

- (25) A BRITISH WARRIOR. Carrying a shield on one arm and the head of an enemy in the other hand; his skin stained blue and painted with monstrous masks.
Water colours; $9\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$ in.
Engraved by De Bry, Supplement to 'Virginia,' Pl. 1.
- (26) A BRITISH WOMAN. Stained blue, wearing a shift, girt with a sword, and holding a spear.
Water colours; $8\frac{3}{4} \times 6$ in.
Engraved with modifications by De Bry, Supplement to 'Virginia,' Pl. 5.
- (27) A BRITISH WARRIOR. Stained and tattooed; with shield, sword and spear.
Water colours; $9\frac{1}{2} \times 6$ in.
- (28) A BRITISH WOMAN. Naked, but painted in patterns with moon and stars over body and breasts; with spears in each hand and sword by her side.
Water colours; 9×7 in.
Engraved by De Bry, Supplement to 'Virginia,' Pl. 2.
- (29) A BRITISH WARRIOR. Stained blue, dressed in a short shirt, with long sword and shield.
Water colours; $9\frac{3}{4} \times 6\frac{1}{8}$ in.
Engraved with modifications by De Bry, Supplement to 'Virginia,' Pl. 4.
- [(30)–(31)] Drawings of Esquimaux.

Water colours; $8\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in.
- (31) AN ESQUIMAUX WOMAN. Standing, clothed in sealskins, with a baby peeping out of her hood.
Water colours; $9 \times 6\frac{1}{2}$.
- [(32)–(36)] Drawings of natives of the Caucasus and Astrakhan.
- (32) AN ORIENTAL. A man in a sleeveless cloak over bare body, and white trousers, with a scimitar at his side.
Water colours; $8\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in.
- (33) AN ORIENTAL WOMAN. Standing with arms akimbo, the hands thrust into slits in a long red coat with short sleeves; white head-dress covering the face up to the eyes.
Water colours; $8\frac{3}{4} \times 6$ in.
- (34) AN ASTRAKHAN TARTAR. A bearded man wearing a conical fur cap, a striped black and white sleeveless cloak over a long blue coat, white trousers and red shoes.
Water colours; $9\frac{5}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ in.
- (35) AN ORIENTAL. Apparently a man; dressed in a diaphanous white shawl over a long coat tied with red sash; he wears a black mask over the face.
Water colours; $8\frac{1}{4} \times 6\frac{3}{8}$ in.
- (36) AN ORIENTAL WOMAN. A woman dressed in a scarlet tunic over white under-garment; trousers, red shoes, and red cap; holding a rose to her face in one hand, and a pomegranate by her side in the other.
Water colours; $8\frac{1}{4} \times 3\frac{3}{4}$ in.
- (37) THE ISLANDS OF DOMINICA AND SANTA CRUZ. At the top, a distant view of Dominica as it appears from the sea, with inscription The Rising of the Ilande of Dominica; below, a similar view of Santa Cruz, inscribed The Risinge of the Ilande of Santicruse. Between, a scale of miles, with This scale containeth xxx myles.
Water colours, with pen outlines; $9\frac{3}{4} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$ in.

- (38) MILKWEED (Asclepias). Perhaps Asclepias purpurascens, a species common in the south-eastern United States. Inscribed Wysauke, The hearbe w^{ch} the Sauages call Wysauke wherewth theie cure their wounds w^{ch} they receave by the poysoned arrowes of theire enemies. Figured in Gerard's Herbal as 'Wisnck sive Vincetoxicum Indianum.' (Lib. 2, Chap. 334. Indian Swallow wort).
Water colours; $14\frac{1}{8} \times 8\frac{1}{4}$ in.
- (39) A GENTIAN FLOWER (Sabbatia gracilis). A herb of the low grassy pine-barrens and meadows of the south-eastern States.
Water colours; $13\frac{3}{4} \times 7$ in.
- (40) PLANTAIN (Musa paradisiaca). A stalk with clusters growing on it. Inscribed Platano or Planten.
Water colours; $13 \times 8\frac{3}{4}$ in.
- (41) PLANTAIN. A single fruit, with a part of one cut across. Inscribed Platano or Planten.
Water colours; $11\frac{5}{8} \times 7$ in.
- (42) MAMMEE APPLE (Mammea Americana). A single apple. Inscribed Mammea. The fruit of a large tree, native to the West Indies and continental tropical America.
Water colours; $8\frac{3}{8} \times 7\frac{1}{4}$ in.
- (43) PINEAPPLE (Ananas sativa). A single fruit. Inscribed The Pyne frute.
Water colours; $10\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$ in.
The pineapple is a native of tropical America.
- (44) STUDY OF A FISH (Holocentrum longipinna). Inscribed Oio de buey.
Water colours; $5\frac{3}{8} \times 7\frac{3}{8}$ in.

2. ALBUM, containing 72 off-sets from drawings in the preceding album. While the drawings were at Sotheby's, in June, 1865, a fire occurred, and they were saturated with water and remained so under pressure for three weeks.

Nos. 1 and 2 were purchased March, 1866, and placed in the Grenville Library. Transferred to the Department of Prints and Drawings, 1905. Formerly in the library of Lord Charlemont.

Attributed to John White.

BOOK OF DRAWINGS. Described on the first page in an early 18th century hand as The originall draughts of y^e habits, towns customs, &c., of the West Indians, and of the plants, birds, fyshes, &c., found in Groenland, Virginia, Guiana, &c., by Mr. John White who was a Painter and accompanied Sr. Walter Raleigh on his voyage. See the preface to the first part of America of Theodore de Bry, or the description of Virginia, where some of these draughts are curiously cutt by that Graver. Beside this inscription is a note, Manie are duplicates. Above, in a different hand, is the inscription: There is in this Book a hundred and 12 Leaues with flowers and Pickters, and of fish and of fowles, beside wast Paper. This Lent to my soon Whit, 11 April, 1673. Opposite is inserted a leaf with a list of birds and fish, and references to [Sir] W. Raughleys Book by White, and to corresponding illustrations in Mr. Catesby's Natural History.

The above description is inaccurate in many respects. The book contains drawings of savages from Brazil, Virginia, and Greenland; three studies of European costume; drawings of fish, plants, and fruit from Virginia; forty-seven leaves with drawings of European plants and flowers; and lastly a series of birds and fish, mostly American. Two small figure drawings and a print of Oliver Cromwell have also been pasted into the book. It is doubtful if these drawings are all by the same hand. It is almost certain that none are by John White's own hand. Some represent the same subjects as drawings in the album already described No. (1.), but have all the characteristics of work done by a man who has not the actual object before him, and are far inferior in vividness and delicacy of modelling and outline. We are forced to the conclusion that these are copies; but in some cases the addition of certain features, as in the view of Pomeioc No. (1.), where fields of growing maize and wells of water have been added to the surroundings of the village, proves that the copyist was working from a variant of the original design, or had such variants beside him as well as the drawings just catalogued. Doubtless White made many repetitions of drawings which would have such lively interest for his countrymen. But the difference of hand is too marked to allow of such a hypothesis here.

- (1) POMEIOC. An enlarged and modified copy from White's drawing, No. I. (7) with added background.*
Water colours.

- (2)-(5) BRAZILIAN SAVAGES. These subjects are to be found in the woodcuts to Jean de Léry's 'Histoire d'un Voyage fait en la Terre du Brésil,' 1578. These drawings were presumably copied, perhaps at second or third hand, from the originals of those woodcuts. They have not the character of studies made from life. Copies at a still further remove are to be found, with other subjects from this album, in a large book of drawings of costume in the Department of MSS. (Sloane 5253).
Water colours, with pen outlines.

- (6)-(9) NATIVES OF VIRGINIA. Copies from the drawings by White described above, No. I. (20), (18), (13), (19). There are slight variations from the originals in these copies. (6) is entitled of Aquascogoe, (8) of Secoton.
Water colours.

- (10)-(12) DRAWINGS OF ESQUIMAUX. (9) and (10) are back and front views of the figure described above, Album No. I. (30), but reversed; (11) is copied from (31).
Water colours, with pen outlines.

* A background, different from this one, with woods as well as crops, and only one well or pond instead of three, was added to the subject in the engraving of White's drawing, De Bry, Virginia, pl. 19.

- (13) AN ENGLISH BOAT ATTACKED BY ESQUIMAUX. Esquimaux on land shooting arrows down at an English boat, the crew of which fire their muskets; the scene is a narrow winding passage of water, with ice-floes; Esquimaux huts and warriors on the shore l., others in canoes.
Water colours, with pen outlines.

26. 'NOT AT HOME'; STUDY FOR A PICTURE. A man in country clothes, with stick under his arm and dog at his heel, standing doubtful and disappointed at the door of a town house, which a footman has opened and is about to close; at the r. through a window, the face of the owner of the house is just seen.
Pen and ink; $6\frac{3}{4} \times 4\frac{3}{4}$ in.
The picture was painted, 1834, for Sir M. W. Ridley.
Purchased July, 1860, at the Wilkie sale.
27. Two on one mount, roy., viz. :—
 - (a) 'A LETTER OF INTRODUCTION'; STUDY FOR THE PICTURE. A man and his wife with a boy standing l. in an attitude of suspense while the old man whom they are visiting, who stands l. by a table, reads a letter of introduction.
Pencil; $4 \times 3\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Probably a first thought for the picture painted 1814, in which, however, the family is replaced by the single figure of a young man, as in the following study.
 - (b) STUDIES FOR THE SAME PICTURE. A young man standing by a screen with hat held up to his chin, and anxious expression on his face. With another study of the same figure.
Purchased October, 1872.
28. Two on one mount, roy., viz. :—

WILKINS, T. (worked in latter part of 18th century). Draughtsman; probably an amateur: biography unknown.

1. ITALIAN LANDSCAPE. A hilly road, flanked at the r. by cliffs with a few trees on slopes below; in the foreground r. a mass of rock sculptured with a subject in relief, at the l. two young trees on a bank, and on the road two men; a group of three figures further up the road, and two others still further where the road drops out of sight. Signed T. Wilkins.
Water-colour tint and pen outlines; roy., $9\frac{3}{8} \times 7\frac{7}{8}$ in.
Purchased October, 1872.

WILKINSON, Rev. Joseph (worked about 1810). Amateur painter; published forty-eight views in Cumberland, Westmoreland, and Lancashire, 1810.

1. WINDERMERE. View of the head of the lake, the water partly obscured by trees and bushes of the foreground, with the Langdale Pikes prominent among the mountains beyond. Two figures on a road in the foreground r.
Pencil and water-colour tint; roy., $9\frac{3}{8} \times 14\frac{1}{8}$ in.

2. LODORE WATERFALL. View of the waterfall at a little distance plunging down between wooded crags; the foot of it is hidden by a cottage and trees, past which the stream foams into the foreground r.

Pencil and water-colour tint; roy., $12 \times 17\frac{5}{8}$ in.

Both purchased August, 1871.

WILLIAMS, Edward (b. 1782, d. 1855). Landscape painter; son of Edward Williams, engraver; pupil of his uncle, James Ward; noted especially for moonlight scenes; exhibited at the Royal Academy and elsewhere 1814-1855.

1. AN OLD CASTLE. Near view of an old castle, partly ruined, seen from a lane running along an outer wall r. from which rises a slender octagonal tower; a similar tower a little l. with battlemented buildings beyond.

Indian ink; roy., 7×10 in.

Purchased June, 1869.

WILLIAMS, Edward Ellerker (b. 1793, d. 1822). Amateur draughtsman; entered the navy, then served for some years as a cavalry officer in India, where he made many drawings; returned to Europe, and in 1821 settled at Pisa, becoming an intimate companion of P. B. Shelley, with whom he was drowned off Leghorn.

1. PORTRAIT OF THE ARTIST. Half-length, seated at a table facing to the front; one hand holds a pen and rests on a large open book, but the beardless face looks up towards the r.; he is light-haired and wears a pale blue jacket trimmed with gold braid and fur; a medallion hangs from the blue necktie. Signed E. W. Se ipse pinxit.

Water colours over pencil; roy., $6 \times 7\frac{3}{4}$ in.

The drawing is much stained with sea-water, having been recovered from the wreck of the 'Don Juan,' in which Williams and Shelley perished, July 8th, 1822.

Presented by J. W. Williams, Esq., November, 1900.

2. SKETCHES OF TWO VESSELS, SAID TO BE THE 'DON JUAN' AND THE 'BOLIVAR.' Sketches of a fore-and-aft schooner and a full-rigged ship with a line of guns.

Pen and ink sketch on lilac blotting-paper; roy., $7\frac{3}{4} \times 7$ in.

Inscribed on the original mount Don Juan—Bolivar. Sketched by Mr. Williams 1821, and on the back "You are sketching your death" (Jane Williams). J. W. said this whilst E. E. Williams was sketching these boats on a piece of blotting paper. He exchanged watches at the time. Capt. Bowen sailed the boat after it was raised. It was run down for the sake of what was on board not overturned by a squall as supposed. J. W. Williams. Bolivar, Lord Byron's yacht.

In spite of this inscription, the sketches can hardly represent the two yachts which were built at Genoa for Shelley and Byron by Captain Roberts, R. N. Trelawney describes the 'Don Juan' as 'Torbay-rigged,' and an engraving in his book after a sketch by Roberts shows her as a small boat rigged like a Brixham trawler. The larger vessel sketched by Williams is plainly a man-of-war. Captain Roberts subsequently bought the 'Don Juan' and had her decked, but she was finally wrecked on one of the Ionian islands.

Presented by J. W. Williams, Esq., February, 1898.

WILLIAMS, Hugh William (b. 1773, d. 1829). Landscape painter; born at sea; brought up in Edinburgh; painted Highland scenery in his earlier years; returned from Italy and Greece 1818, and exhibited with great success drawings made in Greece; known as 'Grecian' Williams; published his travels and 'Select Views in Greece.'

1. A CASTLE IN SCOTLAND. A castle built on a wooded hill on the further shore of a shallow river which flows into the foreground: on the l. bank a hay-maker watching two men who are fishing in the stream; on the other bank r. two cows, a man seated, and two figures at the edge of the park beyond. Indian ink on toned paper, with scratched out lights; roy., $7 \times 11\frac{1}{4}$ in. Purchased October, 1872.
2. BOTHWELL CASTLE. A ruin, with a round tower at either end, rising among dense woods which cover the hill on which it stands; in the foreground bushes, and at the r. two trees with a sweep of grassy ground between these and the woods: evening light from the r. Water colours; imp., $12 \times 16\frac{3}{8}$ in.
3. ROSSLYN CASTLE. The castle, mostly in ruins, stands on rising ground fringed with trees in the hollow between it and the foreground, which is framed by trees r. and l.; a distant view of blue hills beyond; a warm gleam from the l. casting cold shadows. Signed H. W. Water colours; imp., $12 \times 16\frac{1}{4}$ in. Both purchased May, 1896.
4. A HIGHLAND LANDSCAPE. A river streaming into the foreground below foaming falls, with a rock in the middle of them; on the rocky banks are trees, and on a rock by the water r. two fishermen, one with a net; above the falls a craggy hill towers l., and part of a mountain appears beyond it. Signed and dated Williams, 1802. Water colours; ant., $24\frac{1}{2} \times 31$ in. Purchased August, 1875.
5. ON THE ACROPOLIS, ATHENS. The Parthenon, part of the Propylæa, etc. Inscribed Interior of the Acropolis, Athens. Sepia wash and pen; $7\frac{3}{4} \times 12\frac{3}{8}$ in. No. 49 in the album of drawings by Lady Trevelyan, described under her name. Presented by Sir W. C. Trevelyan, May, 1876. Transferred from the Department of Printed Books, September, 1880.

WILLIAMS, John, known as 'ANTHONY PASQUIN' (b. 1761, d. 1818). Satirical writer; born in London; noted for satires on the Royal Academicians, and dreaded in his day as a theatrical critic; emigrated to America and died at Brooklyn. A portrait of Williams is described under Shee.

1. SHEET OF SKETCHES. Two sketches of a hand, sketches of legs, etc. Inscribed A sketch by Mr. John Williams commonly called Anthy Pasquin. Pen and ink; roy., $6 \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in. Purchased July, 1876.

WILLIAMS, Penry (b. about 1800, d. 1885). Painter; born at Merthyr Tydvil; studied at the Royal Academy; worked in London till 1827, afterwards in Rome; exhibited chiefly at the Royal Academy, 1822-1869, portraits, views, and scenes from Italian life.

1. A ROMAN GIRL. A young girl holding a distaff and leaning against a wall; steps and archway behind. Signed Penry Williams, Rome. Water colours; roy., $5\frac{3}{8} \times 3\frac{5}{8}$ in. Presented by Sir A. W. Franks, K.C.B., October, 1891.

WILLIAMS, Samuel (b. 1788, d. 1853). Draughtsman and wood-engraver; born at Colchester; one of the ablest and most prolific wood-engravers of his time, many of his book-illustrations being made after his own designs; excelled in landscape subjects; painted a few miniatures and oil pictures in early life; worked in Colchester till 1819, then in London.

1. ILLUSTRATION TO DON QUIXOTE. Don Quixote sitting in a chair r. and with lifted forefinger admonishing Sancho Panza, who sits l. with hand on breast beside a table and crucifix; at the r. a mirror by a window; in the foreground pieces of armour, boots, etc.

Nasmyth; worked in London from 1798, first as a scene-painter; exhibited chiefly sea-pieces 1807-1856 at the Royal Academy and other London galleries; exhibited also at the Royal Scottish Academy, of which he was a member; worked at Folkestone for the last years of his life.

1. STUDY FOR A PICTURE. A river in flat country; in the foreground a little bay or creek with capstan on the bank l. and stakes in the water; at the r. a boat with tall mast partly seen beyond the crumbling brickwork of a lock; a similar boat moored in the river and a smaller boat nearer; beyond, a low shore with distant woods r. and square castle l. (Slight pencil studies of figures and boat above.)
Pencil and water-colour wash; roy., $8\frac{1}{2} \times 18$ in.
Purchased January, 1872.

WILSON, Richard, R.A. (b. 1714, d. 1782). Painter; born at Penegoes, Montgomeryshire; pupil in London of Thomas Wright; painted portraits for a time; went to Italy 1749 and gained reputation there as a landscape-painter; from 1756 till 1781 worked in London; one of the original members, and from 1776 librarian, of the Royal Academy; exhibited Italian scenes, sometimes with figures from classical story, and Welsh landscapes; lived in poverty, though famous as the greatest landscape-painter of his time.

1. STUDY FOR PORTRAIT OF ADMIRAL SMITH. Head in three-quarter face turned l., eyes looking full; flowing hair. Signed R. Wilson. A later hand has added Drawn by and R.A. before and after the signature, and This drawing is mentioned in Edwards' account of Wilson as being in the possession of John Richards, R.A.

Black and white chalk on brownish paper; roy., $15\frac{1}{2} \times 10\frac{3}{4}$ in.

According to Edwards, 'Anecdotes of Painters,' p. 80, this drawing was made before Wilson went abroad. A portrait in oils of Smith by Wilson is in the Painted Hall at Greenwich; it was engraved by Faber 1746. Thomas Smith, said to be the illegitimate son of Sir T. Lyttelton, was a lieutenant in the Navy 1728, when he compelled a French corvette to salute the British flag, and though for a time dismissed from the service, became very popular; afterwards presided at the court-martial on Admiral Byng; d. 1762.

Purchased June, 1854, at the Woodburn sale. Formerly in the John Richards collection.

2. ON THE TIBER. A river winding into the foreground; in the middle distance a ruined tower above the water, built on a cliff projecting r. from a hill, on which are buildings and trees; beyond, a distant mountain; trees in the foreground r. and l.

Black chalk on greenish-gray paper, heightened with white; roy., $11\frac{5}{8} \times 18$ in.

Study for a picture engraved for 'The Cabinet Gallery' by E. J. Havell under the title of 'The Ruined Fortress.' Apparently the same scene as that represented in the landscape by Nicholas Poussin in the Berlin Gallery, No. 478 A., said to be 'on the Tiber near Acqua Acetosa.'

3. ARICCIA, NEAR ROME. A low cliff with a hollow below and brushwood above; on grass beneath is a man seated; in the foreground l. a road winding away past trees, and a building half-seen.
Black chalk on gray prepared paper, heightened with white; roy., $9\frac{3}{4} \times 14\frac{3}{4}$ in.
4. NEMI. View looking down on the lake which lies in the hollow of wooded shores, with buildings on steep heights l. and on the opposite side towards the r.; in the foreground two figures on a rock, and stone-pine with cypresses r.
Black chalk and stump on greenish paper, heightened with white; roy., $10 \times 15\frac{1}{2}$ in.
5. MOUNTAIN SCENE. A plateau with a ridge beyond rising in a higher mass at the r.; in the foreground l. a well; near the r. two figures, and bushes; three other small groups of figures further off.
Black chalk and stump on gray paper; roy., $11 \times 16\frac{5}{8}$ in.
6. THE CRATER OF VESUVIUS. The crater, with smoke pouring up from chasms in the hollow; in the foreground on the brink are two figures; others partly seen on the slope below. Signed Wilson.
Black chalk or stump on gray paper, heightened with white; roy., $10\frac{3}{8} \times 15\frac{1}{4}$ in.
7. BATHS OF DIOCLETIAN. A broad, open space, flanked by buildings on each side and with a building at the further end of it; in the r. foreground a woman and boy talking to a beggar leaning against a post; further off, two groups of two figures each near fragments of a fallen column; other figures near a wall r.; light from the l. casting a shadow over most of the foreground.
Black chalk and stump on gray paper heightened with white; roy., $10 \times 15\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Engraved by J. Gandon, 1776.
8. LAKE AND FIGURES. A man with a long stiek moving in the foreground toward two figures seated on the bank of a lake r. near two pine trees; on the further shore is a towered building on the top of a hill.
Black chalk and stump on gray paper, heightened with white; roy., $7\frac{3}{4} \times 9\frac{3}{4}$ in.
9. STREAM AND WILLOWS. A stream winding into the r. foreground, with pollard willows and other trees on either bank; at the l. a cottage behind palings.
Black chalk and stump on drab paper, heightened with white; roy., $8\frac{1}{4} \times 13\frac{3}{4}$ in.
10. ARTISTS SKETCHING ON A RIVER BANK. A river winding between wooded hills into the r. foreground; at the l., near a tree, two artists sitting on the bank and sketching.
Black chalk on gray paper, heightened with white; roy., $10\frac{5}{8} \times 15\frac{5}{8}$ in.
Nos. 2-10 were presented by J. Deffett Francis, Esq., February, 1881.
11. THE TEMPLE OF PEACE, ROME. View from under the shadow of a wide arch of the temple to villas and gardens lying in the sunlight beyond; a great white cloud in the sky; two women and a child in the foreground, a group of figures, three sitting and two standing, further off, and a beggar by the wall of the temple l.
Black chalk and stump on gray paper, heightened with white; roy., $10\frac{1}{2} \times 16$ in.
Study for a picture engraved by M. Rooker.
Purchased July, 1859.
12. THE BATHS OF NERO. A bay of still water, from which r. rise ruins, immediately below wooded heights; in the distance a castle on a hill, and beyond a headland and a rocky island l.; in the foreground a neck of land projecting from the shore; on the near side of it, two standing figures near two boats, in one of which is a man; on the further side, a boat and two figures a little way off. Inscribed Baths of Nero.
Black chalk and stump on gray paper, heightened with white; roy., $11 \times 16\frac{1}{2}$ in.

13. THE CHILDREN OF NIOBE. An upland slope, with a bridge beyond l.; at the r. a youth running in dismay to the dead body of a girl, lying foreshortened by the hollow trunk of a tree; towards the l. another young man prostrating himself, and a girl kneeling in supplication; a figure on the bridge.

Black chalk and stump on gray paper, heightened with white; roy., $10\frac{3}{8} \times 15\frac{5}{8}$ in.

Doubtless a study for a part of the famous picture in the National Gallery, engraved by Woollett, though the actual figures and grouping seen here do not occur in the painting.

Nos. 12 and 13 were purchased July, 1847.

14. Ob. AT A RIVER'S MOUTH. Twilight effect; the shores of a river looking to the sea; in the foreground a figure on the bank, with stone-pines above a low house l.; at the r. the further shore rises in a steep hill topped with buildings.

Black chalk and stump on gray paper; roy., $5\frac{3}{4} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Rev. LANDSCAPE SKETCH. A road winding away to distant hills; trees in the foreground r. and l.; beyond, a bridge over a river, and temple r.

Black and white chalk.

Presented by W. H. Carpenter, Esq., March, 1864.

15. THE FALLS OF TIVOLI. View of the falls from a point in front, with buildings and trees on either side.

Sepia over pencil on brownish paper, heightened with white; roy., $10\frac{5}{8} \times 16\frac{1}{4}$ in.

Presented by J. Deffett Francis, Esq., December, 1873.

16. SOLITUDE; STUDY FOR A PICTURE. A pool, on the bank of which l. stands an old man in a long robe beside a seated figure under branches; on the high further bank is a grove; at the r. a weeping willow overhangs the water.

Black chalk and stump on brownish paper, touched with white; roy., $10\frac{1}{8} \times 13\frac{3}{4}$ in.

Study for the picture engraved by Woollett and Ellis, 1778, called 'Solitude,' and painted in illustration of Thomson's 'Seasons' (Summer, l. 516).

17. AT THE BEND OF A RIVER. A river curving round from the r. to the r. again; in the foreground two trees r., and another l.; on the bank towards the l. a man sketching; beyond, l., woods and a monument, further off a round tower with hills beyond.

Black chalk, partly enforced with pen and ink, on gray paper, touched with white; roy., $8 \times 10\frac{5}{8}$ in.

18. Two on one mount, roy., viz.:—

(a) ON THE OUTSKIRTS OF ROME. A road leading away between olives r. and wooded slopes l., beyond which appear S. Trinità de' Monti and the so-called Tower of Nero.

Black chalk and stump on gray paper; $4\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{1}{4}$ in.

(b) TOMB NEAR ROME. A vast circular tomb l.; stone-pine and shadowy foliage r.; buildings and a bridge over the Tiber beyond suggested in outline.

Black chalk and stump on gray paper (unfinished); $7\frac{1}{8} \times 9\frac{5}{8}$ in.

19. TREES AT A VILLA. A great pine-tree rising beyond a garden wall, with smaller trees r., and cypresses beyond.

Black chalk on gray paper, heightened with white; roy., $11 \times 8\frac{3}{4}$ in.

20. Two on one mount, roy., viz.:—

(a) BRIDGE OVER A RIVER. A bridge in the middle distance l. with a tower in its centre; mountains beyond; at the r. a small house, and in the foreground a figure on the rocky bank of the river.

Black chalk on gray paper, heightened with white; $4\frac{3}{4} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ in.

(b) TOWER AND RUIN NEAR A BRIDGE. On a high bank r., a tower rising from a ruined building; at some distance l. a bridge over the river which flows into the foreground, where are two men fishing on the bank l.; mountains beyond.

Black chalk on gray paper; 6×8 in.

21. Two on one mount, roy., viz.:—

(a) STUDY FOR LANDSCAPE WITH FIGURES. Rocks, with two figures standing by them towards the r.

Black and white chalk on brownish paper; $2\frac{3}{8} \times 3\frac{3}{8}$ in.

(b) PILGRIMS BY A RIVER. Two pilgrims on a river bank standing below a cross l.; tree and rocks on the further bank r.

Black and white chalk on brownish paper; $7\frac{1}{8} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$ in.

22. Two on one mount, roy., viz.:—

(a) SKETCH OF A VILLA. A villa with cypresses r. and a stone-pine l. (Slight sketch.)

Black and white chalk on brownish paper; $5\frac{3}{4} \times 8\frac{1}{8}$ in.

(b) A WAYSIDE HUT. A hut with three or four figures busy about it in the r. foreground; a bank with trees behind, a small building at the l.

Black and white chalk on warm gray paper; $6\frac{3}{8} \times 7\frac{1}{8}$ in.

Probably by an imitator of Wilson, rather than by the artist himself.

23. ARCADE AND TANK. View looking down an arcade in an ancient building hung with creepers; a man standing under one arch and another under a further one; in the foreground a man leaning r. over the low wall of a large tank; trees beyond.

Black and white chalk on gray paper; roy., $10\frac{1}{4} \times 8$ in.

24. THE VILLA OF MAECENAS AT TIVOLI. Interior of the ruin, over the vast arches of which grow bushes and drooping plants.

Black chalk on prepared dull lilac paper, touched with white; roy., 9×8 in.

More than one picture of this subject was painted by the artist; one was engraved by M. Rooker, 1776; another, now in the National Gallery, by T. A. Prior.

25. INTERIOR OF A CAVE, PROBABLY A GROTTO NEAR NAPLES. Interior of a cave, receding l., where two figures are seen at a distance; in the centre a lantern suspended from the roof, and two figures under it.

Black and white chalk on brownish paper; roy., $6\frac{1}{4} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$ in.

26. RUIN AND FIGURES. A mass of ruin overgrown with trees r.; two monks, one standing and one seated, near the ruin; part of another ruin l.

Black and white chalk on brownish paper; roy., $6\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{3}{8}$ in.

27. LANDSCAPE WITH CATTLE. Rough ground with boulders l., and a steep bank of earth towards the r.; above which a man with cattle partly appears; brushwood and a tree r.

Black and white chalk on gray paper; roy., $7\frac{1}{4} \times 9\frac{5}{8}$ in.

28. A SKETCH IN ROME. A fountain with an arcade beyond connecting a house on which is a balcony l., and a building partly seen r.; two towers seen above the arcade.

Black and white chalk on gray paper; roy., $7\frac{1}{2} \times 10\frac{1}{4}$ in.

29. VIEW IN THE CAMPAGNA. Cattle in a wide flat field near a river, crossed in the middle distance by a bridge of immense length; a building on a mound l.; low hills beyond.

Black and white chalk on gray paper; roy., $6\frac{3}{4} \times 10\frac{1}{8}$ in.

Nos. 16-29 were presented by J. Deffett Francis, Esq., February, 1881.

[30-32] Drawings of the emissarius or tunnel made by the Romans A.D. 52 to drain the Lacus Fucinus (Lago di Fucino): it afterwards became choked, and various attempts to reopen it were unsuccessful till 1852, when the work was taken in hand, and it was finally reopened 1862. See also, among the larger drawings described below, a drawing of the Lago di Fucino, No. 58.

30. OUTLET OF THE EMISSARIO. A hillside of boulder and brushwood, in which, towards the l., appears the mouth of a passage in the rock, over which a tall arch has been built, and from which a stream flows down into the r. foreground; two figures near the outlet. Inscribed The Uscito of the Emissario 3 miles from the Lake which Uscito Emptys itself into ye Liris now Gariglione at Capestrello.

Black and white chalk on reddish-brown paper; roy., $10\frac{1}{4} \times 15\frac{5}{8}$ in.

31. ENTRANCE TO THE CUNICULO. Two figures, one with a staff, coming from the r., and about to descend into a tunnel, which opens in the face of a rocky cliff; light comes from the r., the foreground cast into a shadow by an arch of rock, tufted with plants. Inscribed the Immediate Entrance into the Cuniculo which descends to the Emissario.
Black and white chalk on brownish paper; roy., $10\frac{1}{2} \times 11\frac{1}{2}$ in.
32. THE FIRST ENTRANCE TO THE CUNICULO. An archway cut in the rock with a projecting arch of brick built on, leading to a hollow chamber, mounded up with earth; two peasants, one sitting, one standing, against the wall of the arch l. Inscribed the first Entrance towards the Cuniculo near a quarter of a mile up the mountain and above a mile distant from the Lake. Below—You see Sr these sketches were done in haste. Signed Wilson.
Black and white chalk on brownish paper; roy., $10\frac{3}{8} \times 15$ in.
Nos. 30–32 were bequeathed by R. Payne Knight, Esq., 1824.
33. COAST SCENE; NEAR BARMOUTH (?). View along the coast of a calm sea, with a peaked mountain rising r., and a few craft in the bay. Against a point in the coast is written Vortigern. Inscribed This drawing was taken out of Wilson's sketch book Novr. 20th 1822 belonging to Sir G. Beaumont Bar^t and given by him to me, G. Arnald, who now gives it to his old friend Smith.
Pencil; roy., $5\frac{3}{4} \times 7\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Purchased December, 1867.

Bequeathed by R. Payne Knight, Esq., 1824.

59. FALLS AT TIVOLI. Steep crags, tufted with bushes, and with torrents plunging down them; a building partly seen above r.

Black chalk and Indian ink on brownish paper; atl., $15\frac{5}{8} \times 19\frac{5}{8}$ in.

Presented by J. Deffett Francis, Esq., August, 1875. Formerly in the Paul Sandby collection.

Attributed to Richard Wilson.

RUINS IN ROME. Arches of a massive ruin, hung with trailing plants: roofs and cypresses seen through an arch l.

Black and white chalk on warm gray paper; roy., $7\frac{3}{8} \times 9\frac{1}{2}$ in.

AN ANCIENT THEATRE. Exterior of a low circular ruin tufted with bushes and plants; behind, a conical hill with a building at the top, and a road ascending the slope.

Black and white chalk on warm gray paper; roy., $9 \times 15\frac{3}{8}$ in.

These two drawings are by the same hand, imitating Wilson's manner with a mechanical touch on a kind of paper which he does not seem to have used himself.

Presented by J. Deffett Francis, Esq., February, 1881.

STORM SCENE. A mountain side; tree l. and shattered trunk in foreground; lightning and storm-clouds r. and frightened figures below.

Black and white chalk on blue-gray paper; roy., $7\frac{1}{8} \times 9$ in.

Presented by J. Deffett Francis, Esq., February, 1881.

Black chalk and stump on gray paper, heightened with white; roy., $10\frac{1}{4} \times 15\frac{3}{4}$ in.

This drawing is by the same hand as that described under J. Crome, No. 1. Probably both are by Robert Crone.

Purchased May, 1895.

WINCKWORTH, John (worked about 1807–1811). Architect exhibited at the Royal Academy 1807–1811; worked in London.

1. DESIGN FOR A PUBLIC LIBRARY. Elevation of a building of classical style, with portico of Ionic columns and cupola behind. Section and plan on a small scale above. Inscribed Design for a Publick Library. Made at the Royal Academy Jany. 1812. John Winckworth.
Indian ink and water-colour tint, with pen outlines; imp., $13\frac{3}{4} \times 19\frac{1}{2}$ in.
Purchased December, 1882.

WINCKWORTH, Thomas (worked about 1783). Architect; biography unknown.

1. DESIGN FOR A VILLA. Front of a building of classical style, surmounted by a cupola; in a landscape setting.
Indian ink and water colours, with pen outlines; roy., $11\frac{3}{4} \times 16\frac{1}{4}$ in.
So close in style to the drawing by John Winckworth just described as to suggest that the names have been confused, and that this is really John Winckworth's work.
2. THE NEW SESSIONS HOUSE IN THE OLD BAILEY. Elevation of the building, erected by Dance in place of the former house destroyed in the Gordon Riots of 1780. Inscribed The New Sessions House in the Old Bailey. Thos. Winckworth delt 1783.
Indian ink, with pen outlines; roy., $10\frac{5}{8} \times 14\frac{3}{8}$ in.
Both purchased March, 1882.

WINSTANLEY, Hamlet (b. 1698, d. 1756). Painter and engraver; born at Warrington; studied in Kneller's Academy for three years; worked for Lord Derby in England and (1723–25) in Rome and Venice; painted portraits and some landscapes and copied old masters; made etchings after Lord Derby's pictures, published as 'The Knowsley Gallery'; died at Warrington.

WOODWARD, George Moutard (b. about 1760, d. 1809). Caricaturist; born in Derbyshire; an amateur designer of social caricatures which were very popular through etchings by Rowlandson and I. Cruikshank; published also light verse and prose.

1. A TAILOR BEWITCHED. A scene explained by lines inscribed on the margin: A Taylor Bewitch'd! — Old Belzebub of horrid note | Employed a Taylor for a coat | who prone to cabbage-craft and pelf | By art o'erreached Old Nick himself. | For which a powerful Magician | Soon brought poor Buckram to contrition. | With magic spells encircled round | Behold him fix'd upon the ground. The tailor with a roll of cloth under his arm stands r., prodded from behind by a fiend with a pitchfork; two snakes hiss at his feet and winged reptiles fly above. At the l., above a cauldron on a tripod, stands the magician with wings on his shoulders muttering an incantation, wand in hand; three witches crouch or stand beside him, the nearest one leaning on a broom; three demons and a night-mare behind him l. Signed and dated [G.] M. Woodward Delin. March 1790. Indian ink, partly tinted with water colours; roy., $13\frac{1}{4} \times 18\frac{3}{4}$ in. Purchased August, 1871.

2. A LILLIPUTIAN VAUXHALL. Scene in the gardens, with groups of small figures with large heads; at the l. a countryman and his wife wanting the gatekeeper to bate the odd shilling; in the centre a man dining with wife and daughter in a tent and angrily protesting to a waiter who brings the bill; between this and the entrance two men and a lady talking, with lanterns in an avenue of trees behind; at the r. a woman, accompanied by two musicians, singing Come Listen to the voice of Love to the crowd standing below her. Entitled A Lilliputian Vauxhall and inscribed with explanatory speeches. Indian ink and water colours; roy., 4×18 in. Purchased August, 1875.

3. LUNARDI ASCENDING IN HIS BALLOON. The drawing shows only the balloon and sky; four large guiding fans or oars project from the car, one Lunardi holds in his hand, another he has just let drop r.; the other pair are fixed above his head. Inscribed below George M. Woodward Delin. October 15th 1784. Grand Air Balloon, with which Vincent Lunardi Esqr. ascended into the Atmosphere from the Artillery Ground [sic] London; he rose to the height of four miles and descended at Colliers Hill, four miles beyond Ware in Hertfordshire—he ascended at two O'clock precisely and descended soon after four—This Aerial Journey (which was the first in England) was perform'd on Wednesday Sep^r 15th 1784. Soon after his ascension he dropt one of his Oars (as above represented)—a Dog and Cat were his only companions.

Purchased January, 1890.

4. THE EFFECTS OF SINCERITY. Eight groups of two each, in a double row; above (beginning from the l.) a beggar craving alms of a parson who cries I believe, you dog, you are an imposter; an old lady resenting a man's reference to their acquaintance in youth; a testy invalid and his friend; and a buck complaining of a mare sold him by an acquaintance. Below, a lady offended by a critic's comment on her poem; two men arguing; a fat and a thin lady exchanging amenities; and an uncle protesting he'll not give a sixpence to his nephew who reminds him that he was wild himself in his youth. Inscribed with explanatory speeches and with above title.

Pen and ink over pencil; roy., 13 $\frac{1}{2}$ × 19 $\frac{1}{2}$ in.

Purchased August, 1875.

WOOLLETT, William (b. 1735, d. 1785). Line-engraver and draughtsman; born at Maidstone; pupil of J. Tinney; worked in London; one of the best engravers of the English school, famous especially for his 'Death of Wolfe' after West, and his landscapes after Wilson; drew landscapes and views.

1. PORTRAIT, SAID TO BE THAT OF THE ARTIST. Head and shoulders, turned l., the face in three-quarters, eyes looking towards front; silk cap on cropped head; r. hand on breast.

Red chalk; roy., 14 $\frac{1}{2}$ × 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ in.

An autograph letter of the artist's addressed to The Rev^d. Mr. Davy at Henstead, near Beccles, Suffolk, and dated from London, Feb. 26, 1777, was purchased with the drawing, and contains the following reference to it: "I am in great Hopes of seeing you this Spring in London. If you do come, and soon, bring that red Chalk Head which is said to be somewhat like mine with you, or if I am not to have that pleasure I should be obliged to you if you'll send it. I will inform you when I have the pleasure to see [you] why I make this request, and you may depend on its being return'd." According to tradition, the drawing is a portrait of Woollett by himself at the age of two and twenty, but the reference in the letter just quoted is not explicit, and a comparison with the signed youthful portrait of himself by the artist, recently acquired by the Maidstone Museum, shows, with striking similarity of feature, a decided difference of expression and character, with a less hard technical manner. Altogether, it seems more probable that this drawing is by another hand and represents another person who happened to resemble Woollett. The expressions in the letter quoted point indeed to this conclusion.

Purchased November, 1863.

2. Two on one mount, roy., viz. :—

(a) STUDY OF TREES. A group of three large elms, with a house in the distance r. Signed W. Woollett Delt.
